Classic Poetry Series

Anwar Masood

- poems -

Publication Date:

2012

Publisher:

PoemHunter.Com - The World's Poetry Archive

Anwar Masood (8 November 1935)

Anwar Masood (Urdu: □□□□ □□□□□) is a Pakistani poet well known for his comic poetry, however, his works include other genres as well. He writes in Punjabi, Urdu and Persian language.

Biography

He was born in Gujrat, but his family moved to Lahore in 1941. He got his basic education there. Later his family moved back to Gujrat again and he studied in Public School Gujrat. He completed his secondary education there. He achieved B.A. degree from Zamidara College Gujrat. He obtained his master degree in Persian from Oriental College Lahore in 1961 and got a gold medal. He started teaching in Government Islamia High School in Kunjah. He has been teaching as a lecturer in different colleges in Punjab from 1962 to 1996 and he was also visiting faculty of Government College University and renowned department of humanities in Pakistan. He retired in 1996.

Poetry

Professor Anwar Masood is a multilingual poet of Urdu and Punjabi. His most popular poetry is Punjabi. His poetry gives the message of the original and pure culture of Punjab. Anwar Masood is the only Punjabi poet who is popular among the masses. The way he has described the different aspects of life in his poetry have never been described before. Some of his poems have become so that wherever he went people desire to listen them again and again. The most popular of them are Anar Kali Diyan Shana, Aj Kee Pakaeay, Banyan, Juma Bazaar, jehlam da pul, Umree and many more. Anwar Masood is an international level poet. He has performed in many international communities and is popular worldwide.

Works:

Urdu

Guncha Pher Laga Khilnay, Shakh-e-Tabasam, Ek Derecha Ek Charag, Meli Meli Dhoup.

Punjabi

Banyan, Lasee te cha, Ambri, Mela Akheyan Da, Hun Ke Keray.

Ajj Ki pakayiye

Anwar Masood

Jis Tarah Ki Hain Ye Diraven Ye Dar Jaisa Bhi Hai

Anwar Masood

Rat Ai Hai Balaon Se Rihai Degi

Anwar Masood

Sun to sahi jahan main

Anwar Masood