A Careless Kiss

A gentle kiss planted carelessly upon my lips
With the look in your eyes I can easily till it dose not belong to me

Your broken heart searching the loneliness for companionship your eyes searching the dark for the spark of joy that once filled them with light

Oh how I wish I was the one you loved I would never of hurt you
I wouldn't send your heart out to weather the storm alone

But for now I beg you don't kiss me like that don't touch me in that way that melts my heart don't take my love for granted if you can't return my love relish me so I can find the one that will

Brittney Pennington

a painfull smile

Behind my smile is pain that runs deep into my soul filling in the cracks of joy with hate leaving no room for hope the pain you can not see soon you will not smile either as I swim into the sea of loneliness allowing sadness to fill my lungs

I snatch my smile from your memory as my body sinks I will live a lie no longer never forcing a smile, that if you would see through it I wouldn't be moving in with the fish and saying goodbye forever

Brittney Pennington

A Simple Promise Of Forever

I will love you tomorrow and each day that that comes after I love you today with each breath I take I loved you yesterday as your black suit and I in my white dress
I make a simple promise and forever I will always be yours

Brittney Pennington

A Widows last day

lifeless eyes
forgotten smile
she walks through the familiar world grey sky's wilted flowers, sound of laughter long extinct,
her heart once filled with love and joy
now drained of all hope, she sits on a cold stone bench next to the ghost of her forever, she turns her back on the light blaming everything good for her pain, feeling guilty for being able to feel the gentle rays of the sunlight on her cold face, she sits there most the day,
her mind wandering to happier times yet none of the joy can reach her broken soul, the chill of the night forces her back into her drafty old house, she goes about her routine, cooks her stew for one butters her bread, and sits at the table staring at an empty chair longing for conversation, a stray cat meows at the window she kindly lets him in and puts down a bowl of milk, she stirs the restless fire,
and walks up the stairs to her bedroom,
climbs into what once was her marriage bed, and closes her eyes for the last time and after many years of sadness her soul is finally at peace as she stands next to her love

Brittney Pennington

All I Want

your hands bushes over mine your eyes capture my soul your stories entertain my mind your smile takes my heart your everything is all I want

Brittney Pennington

Alone In The Dark

In the dark I can stand, I can breath
With hate running through my veins I have strenght
As the pain eats at my heart I have reason to fight
Through the sadness and anger I can understan the world
But take me out of this hole I have dug for myself Show me the light and I will fall Remove my hate and I will remain weak Without my pain I have no reason to fight Without sadness and anger I become confused
So please I beg you leave me in this hole Let me be swallowed by the darkness
So I can allow pain and hate to take over my soul
So I can feel alive

Brittney Pennington

Beautiful Hate

Hate is passion
it is the word many fear to hear it wraps and binds your soul

it'll make you go crazy you'll strike at nothing while you trust no one

As it eat at your heart but hate is beautiful not quit like the flowers

but in its own twisted way the pain, the emotion that surrounds your soul

the things it'll make you do the mountains you will clime the adrenaline rushes you'll enjoy to learn to live with hate to not allow it to take over least you think you can control it but don't make me laugh it captures your soul

it tortures your mind

makes you see in way you thought not possible you act different and when you cry

no one sees when you scream nobody comes that's how it grows

getting ready to strike others you'll try to stop but give it up and embrace the power to feel nothing numb your mind and soul push the guilt away and take whats rightfully yours

Hate is twisted
Hate is passion
Hate is beautiful

Blank Lines

What happens to the blank lines on the paper Do they ever get filled like a bucket of water or do they stay blank and then get forgotten about do they get winkled and thorn like a basket ball or do they get washed down they drain like an old gum wrapper Maybe it won't make a difference anyway like if you eat one mm or two or perhaps it dose matter

Brittney Pennington

Broken Promise

tears on my cheeks pain in my heart
your never coming back

flowers on your casket peace over your body emptiness in your eyes

broken promises linger in the air the silence stabs me in the back goodbye leaves a dirty taste in my mouth you said you would come home you promised me you lied to me you said you would come back to me

Brittney Pennington

Come Home To Me

If I had one prayer on my lips or one wish in the night sky one thought on my mind it would be, that you come home to me if I shed a tear let it be only in happiness of being over joyed of seeing your smile again let me not see you lying in a casket

if I have heartache let it not be from you let it be from everyday life let it be from stress and let it go away when I hear your voice

Brittney Pennington

Eyes

Eyes are the tunnels to the soul
  Some are deep with care and understanding Others are shallow and easy to read
  Then there are those that arefull of mischief and misleading

Bat all eyes lead to the same place like the river end up at the ocean
The eys are floodgates to the soul

Brittney Pennington

Falling

I saw with blind eyes
And false hope
I trusted you
        But
I didn't see the ace up your sleeve
tell i fell on my face
        Now
I set alone in the dark with shame by my side and hate in my heart Because
You lied to me
you said you loved me but yet you were with her

Brittney Pennington

For Ever Or Never

you where awful clever said you my forever but you meet my never

Brittney Pennington

God is love

Gods hand is th hand of love
As he reaches for those who Have fallen out of his grace while holding those who still fallowing his path

Gods voive is the voive of healing for he dosent have to see those who suffer all he has to do is commend the sickness to go away

Gods son is the son of forgiveness he being pure and allowing others to beat him and kill him for the chance that we may be saved

Brittney Pennington

Gone But Never Forgotten

darkness surrounds me I run in circles yelling your name but you hear none I'm told me your gone but I cant believe such things I can feel your hand looped in mine I hear you calling my name and I can see you standing beside me they say your gone but how can that be true when all I must do is close my eyes to see your smile

Brittney Pennington

Good Bye Smile

goodbye old friend I'll miss the way you warmed my soul and the sparkle you left in my eyes and the redness in my cheeks

you always made me happy you hide my fears and fooled my friends and let me lie when I felt like crap

I will always remember the happiness you brought me I loved when you brought your good friend laughter with you, but now I must say good bye and say hello to the pain

Brittney Pennington

Goodbye For Now

I must go for now
I must find myself
if we meat again then it will be grand then we will know it was meant to be

Brittney Pennington

goodbye to love

Goodbye love
you must leave me at once I can't take it no more you forcing me to fall for guys who will never love me back

One who looks at me as a sister and not a lover so love you must say good bye for you caused my to much pain

I'm tried of you dictating my life making leaving me totally insecure so go away leave me angry leave me sad I don't care just leave me alone for love you made me fall for one other who broke my heart without even knowing it when i went to confess how I felt he was with a another

  So love you are nothing more but a flag gentle waved in my face but when I reached for you the the wind blows
you at of my grasp so goodbye forever love

Brittney Pennington

headlights of death

waiting for you, I set on the stump wondering witch one is you perhaps its the next the one

nope that one just kept going I start to think of the past you know the first time he ever said hi

I think about how much I miss him his gentle touch and sweet kisses anther one passes me by

I continue thinking of the past I remember that day when I wore that white dresses and he was in a black tux

I remember the promise we made and kept Oh! how I've missed him these last years I think I see you it has to be you

I can feel it but no I'm not ready that's when you stop beside my and pull me in to the dark mucky cab

I cant see your face your hood covering it but I can feel you coldness we don't speak on that long ride

I only think of the last time I saw him lying in that bed his icy skin and his blank eyes Oh! cant wait for this ride to be over

we stop in front of those steps I look up and there he is after all this time I get him back

Brittney Pennington

Her Day

I lye in this big bed
I look at your picture and I wish it was you

I wake up early get I make breakfast and get the kids off to school

I clutch my cell phone hoping you will call today I check the mail twice hoping for news

I spend day at work pretending that I'm not worried yet I check my emails just to see if some magical way you got computer

I pick the kids up from school make them dinner and help I help them with there homework put them to bed and I give them Two sets of kisses one form you

We say prayers and you safety is on the list

I watch the news hoping your not on it Then I crawl in to bed and clutching to your picture
The sadness takes over the hurt from missing you

Brittney Pennington

His day

I wake up early
I pick up my dog tag and your picture
I hoping I can call you today

I get on the humvee searching the streets of the Baghdad for terrorist When I go to mail stand praying for a letter

I pick up the picture of the kids
I hope they still remember me I hear the rumors that always float about

I heard that there was another roadside bomb Two more guys have died and I fall to my knee thank the lord for my life then I pray for you and the kids

I go to my bunk take off my boats and rest my head on my pillow all the time clutching to your picture

Brittney Pennington

HOME WECKING CANCER

A peek in your eyes gives my such a surpise
When i see your desires of your heart Is no bleach blond but I

It was to much to bear knowing I make you happy
It was being with you but now your gone

and it wasn't that blond that stold you away no it was that dam cancer

I swear its the worst home wecker i'v ever met it has no sex no age no way to destor it

no there are no eyes to see no hands to hold no warmth in a smile

NO THERE IS NO YOU JUST A STONE! !

Brittney Pennington

I am The Red Balloon

I am the red balloon
I float across the sky watching from afar
I see everything and everyone
But nobody sees me they see nothing but there own life’s I see business men on trips with there mistress
I see mothers crying over there dead baby’s
I am the red Balloon
I glide across the ground and float over the muddy puddles
No one looks at with love
I see there pain, there tears, no children laugh in play
I care none for them and none of them care for me
I have no fear for I have nothing to lose
I am the red Balloon full of pain

Brittney Pennington

I hurt you because I love you pain eats at my heart

As I stab a knife in the back of my love
I will never forgive myself as I twist the knife

As you fall I walk away I don't try to hide the evidence instead I want the world to see what I have done

I deserve to be shunned for what I did is unforgivable the sins I carry shall be my death do not dare forgive me I am not worthy of your love

Brittney Pennington

I Love You Through The Dark

Love comes and goes life fades into death pain lingers in the air the light burns out the clouds rain
yet through it all I cling to you your touch keeps me strong your kiss keeps me moving forward

Brittney Pennington

I never said Goodbye

'do you love me'' you aked
'of cours' I answerd
Then tell me goodbye' you said
I stared at you and your impossible request

Then answered
“How can I tell you goodbye
When we'll only be parted for a short time Compared to our forever in haven'

You looked at me
Then the nurse walked in I went home and waited
It seemed like forever

But there it was
The phone rang
Right before bed
It was the hospital

You where on your way home
And all I wanted to do was Tell you “I love you Daddy'

Brittney Pennington

If I could Write a Poem

If i could write a poem
I would make it rhyme
If i could write a poem
I would eat a lime
If I could write a poem
I would be a lime eating, rhyming poet

Brittney Pennington

knowing me

to know me
Is to see inside me, deep into my soul where my dreams lie and my secrets hide where my fears run free and my joy and happiness paints the walls in bright colors where everything is plain and understandable including my pain where nothing is hidden by a false smile how to see this world which I so cleverly hide? ?
its simpler then you may think for my world is hidden in my writings for my soul is set free when a pen is placed I my hand

Brittney Pennington

Life Is Race

We run all day
we run out of breath
we sometimes get lost and lose are hope we sometimes forget why where running we fall to the ground with tears in are eyes but what we must remember to get back up with our sprained hearts and continue to move forward even when we are tried and beaten

Brittney Pennington

Love flakes

Love is like a snow flake Flutters to the ground Beautiful and always unique
But when captured in your hands
It quickly melts away

Brittney Pennington

love me

You say ''I love you'.....
But to you it's frindly.....
But I wish it wasn't.....

I want you to take me
.....And hold me.....
I want you to love me

But insted you joke with me
You say where like family
But i want us to to be much more so Kiss me

Hold me
Love me

Brittney Pennington

Madison

My Love for you is like an old blanket I will always be there to keep you warm and cuddle with you when you are lonely hold you when you are sick and When you are scared you can hide under my love and some day when you move out know my love is with you always

Brittney Pennington

Mind Of Heart

my heart wants your arms to be with you forever and always to kiss you every chance I get and to hear about your day even if you did nothing

My mind on the other hand knows it is not possible and understands that we can not be together It only thinks about whats best for you even if that means me leaving so you don't worry about me and I cause you no problems

But my heart controls my arms as they clutch to the door to the door frame not wanting to let you out of sight as my feet try to walk away for there master is my mind who is willing to let you go and be happy

Brittney Pennington

Moonlight Walks

A moolight walk guided by the stars
Two lost souls searching for peace Caught in a single moment captured By the touch of each other Untied by a gentle kiss

Brittney Pennington

My bed

In a whole I have made my bed I lay each night in the dark telling myself im happy waiting as time passes by and I wast away thinking of the choice I made hoping it all works out knowing there is no undoing what's been done dreaming of the one that will never be mine whlie I am somebody else's knowing the end is not near and nothing will change
I made my bed now I most lay in it

Brittney Pennington

My Lavender

with a face as pretty as the name eyes that twinkle like the night sky you are my princess with your wild blond hair I will love you always always no matter the distance between you and I for I would love you even if you where on the moon
My love will not vanish when you misbehave My love for you can not be washed away with tears it will not abandoned you in moments of fear and when I get a chance I'll tell you face to face 'your me niece and I will always love you nd I will always love you

Brittney Pennington

my orders to a solider

With pride in your eyes and love in your heart and with honor by your side

You go to fight fight for you country fight for your family

When you go off to war you'll obey orders from other so obey mine dear, don't die!

For with you gone the sun would lose it's shine
the flowers would wilt

For memories would last for a moment before they start to rapidly fade all though my love would remain with you forever

if you where to die
my heart would lay next to you in your dark casket

oh my brave solider come back home to me do not force me to live without you

Brittney Pennington

My Song

my heart sings a song a song like none other A tune that brings that peace to your soul or tears you to shreds
the rhythm compliments some people and some it clashes to much my song can change from ear to ear some try and change it to what they want to hear but few can hear my song for what it is but only one can finish my song and make it complete

Brittney Pennington

Our love

Our love is like the world
Our love stands strong like the solders
But is as gentle as a new born baby
As the stars fall we wish for world peace when hurricanes rage your Arms Are my shelter that I ran too

our love is like the universe your the sun and I'm pulled into your gravitational field Your the atmosphere that protects me from the asteroids

our love is like the heavens When are lips meet the angels sing when i turn into a rain cloud your the sun that appears to dry my eyes
For you are my love

Brittney Pennington

poeple and books

Not everyone’s a book you can read from front to back you can judge them by there cover for some people are like magazines full of gossip and half truths and others are newspapers with all the facts even the boring one then you have those who are those who are a mysteries story and you just don’t get them so pick a person and stop try to guess the end for they may just surprise you and have an ending with a twist

Brittney Pennington

Pride

Pride is the solder protecting our homes Pride is-
The look in a heros eyes

Pride is a mother wacthing over her childern Pride is-
The love in her heart

Pride is a teenager at there frist job Pride is-
The blister on there feet

Pride is lion watching over his tertory or the pig rolling in the mud Pride is standing for what you belive in Pride is the fire in our heart

Brittney Pennington

Pudding

It tast so good But it's gone before i'm done
left unsatisfied
In a unfamiliar Moment

Brittney Pennington

seeing

seeing you here makes my heart jump a beat

seeing you here makes
my smile a bit bigger

me want to jump in your arms

seeing you
is what i love to do

Brittney Pennington

Silence Hurts The Worst

you could yell at me you could say you don't like me you could even hate me
but
your silence hurts the worst it slices into my heart and tortures my mind haunting my very soul

Brittney Pennington

Steps Of Life

One step
Two step
Back one step

It seems every time
You get a little ahead
Life gives you Swift kick in the rear end

That sets you back and It seams at times
Impossible to move ahead
And what is there for you to do

Set back and forget
Or get up and fight
With a smile
You’ll do alright

One step forward
Two step forward 1/2 step backward

Gather your weapons to fight Family for support
Friends for comfort
A smile to hide your secrets

Brittney Pennington

Stormy News

The rain poured the thunder rattled with every lighting strike it became harder to breath my chest tightened I clutched at first the words the man had said couldn't be true

I fell to my knees I couldn't help but think why me why you sadness was in his eyes then wicked thought crept upon me why not him

he said the same oath he was about the same age he whore the same uniform this mans gets to live when you don't

in the same moment it came the anger left me left I knew it was it was not his fault it could have been anybody we just drew the short straw the thunder shook the door way one more time

I stood up and the man left me and with one single storm bad news walked on my doorstep and pain entered my heart my heart that would never completely go away only soften with time

Brittney Pennington

Sweet Temptation

Trapped by your kisses
Your sweet smell tormenting my every nerve Your salty taste lingering in my mouth
Your fingers gentle teasing my spine
Your hot breath warming my shoulder
Your teeth sinking into my soft flesh

Lost completely out of control Breathless and yet courageous I flip the switch I'm the boss
I decide what happens
I pull your hair
I leave you wanting more
I leave you confused and chasseing me

Brittney Pennington

The Almost Kiss

how close can you get without kissing My heart pounding My mind racing
As a million thoughts run through my head your knowing hands moving to all the right places making me lust for more wanting you to pull me tighter and kiss me your lips come closer I can feel them lightly over mine forcing me to use every fiber in my body not to kiss you as in that moment I long for you

Brittney Pennington

The man from Kellogg

There Once was a man from kellogg Who had a pet frog that thought it was a cat so it eat a rat Now the frog is fat as a log

Brittney Pennington

there was a man in school

There Once was a sad man in school who had an awful droll
no one would touch the man For he would hit you with a pan so he sat alone on a stool

Brittney Pennington

Time Will Heal Me

time heals the cuts in my heart the inflicted with the words you sliced me with

The pain when you walked away the tears you caused when you said I wasn’t good enough yes time will heal me

time will erase your memory it will cover the bruise that your fist left and hold me in a gentle embrace soon ill be well and later ill be great because time will heal me

Brittney Pennington

Truth

the truth is what hurts the strength I do not have the choice is wrong

I will stand behind a lie
I wish you could see I will always be second

you say what you do not show I am not blind to the truth
if this is it I don't want it

I wish you cared enough truthfully you don't so no more lies just good bye

Brittney Pennington

Unhappily ever after its not my fault I just wanted a prince charming so i skipped a few pages but instead of waiting for my frog I kissed a dog and for a moment I was fooled

he know how to waltz and he know all the sweet things to say he held my hand and kissed me gently

but instead of leading me towards the light he only showed me the dark and it wasn’t long till his hand left mine and found my face

Brittney Pennington

Use a dog not a frog

A big devil dog and you'll be set He'll hold you tight and whisper sweet nothings into your ear

He'll leave you smiling and wanting more He'll kiss you gentle and make his world He'll be the only person you will ever need

But don't think for a moment he's prince charming No but he is knight one that will fight for you and everybody else He'll serve his country but he will return to you

But why he's away he'll keep your picture close to him And write to you every moment he gets
You will be his reason for missing home

And the reason he will return
So use a dog not a frog
And you will receive your happily ever after

Brittney Pennington

We're Waiting

I see you standing there we are different but we are waiting for the same person just different reasons you stand there by his car waiting for a ride home I wait for him to truly notice me yes he may talk to me on occasion but there are many things he does not know the way my heart skips when he walk into the room or how the slightest mention of his name yes we are different, but we're still waiting for the same person

Brittney Pennington

what happens to smiles

What happens to a smile dose it fade away like lost memories
or is it always ready to peak again and then take over dose it go away like loved ones or does it stay forever like mother in laws maybe it comes and go like the winter snow
maybe it could stop violence like a police badge
or dose it disappear forever like lost hope

Brittney Pennington

Wrong love

Fear runs through my bones putrefied to write the words in my heart scared to speak them out loud

perhaps if I keep quit they will not be true for the love I feel is wrong

look at me read my mind I can not tell you how I feel if I did good bye would soon follow

If I could show you I would why can you not see my pain feel the love I have for you hear my silent words

Brittney Pennington

your voice

In a whisper in the wind I hear your sweet gentle words the ones that used to warm my soul now only break my heart for the forever you once promised turned out to be a lie, your love that I thought belonged to me is now given to another
