Anna Rheana Machin(December 16,1993)

I write poems to express my feelings and to learn to trust again. I've been hurt before and writing poems helps heal me.

At The Cross Road

As I'm sitting here thinking to myself About everything that happened last night I look back and realized that You never defended yourself or put up a fight

I can only wonder if this is the end Or if we will overcome this Because I really care about you And I don't want it to be a mess

I can't predict what the future holds Or how our relationship will go All I can say is what happens will be
And all we can do is take this slow

Looking back, I realize that this won't last long And I can't hope that you would forgive me I know that I lied to my family about you But I thought it was for the best, don't you agree

Somehow I never thought of how it would turn out Having you meet my parents and eating dinner there I never realized it would go bad and turn out so wrong
And now I know that wasn't right of me or very fair

Chains

feel the chains around me like the heart that found me with the words that he spoke my heart was broke now my heart takes the tolls as my mind, towards darkness, rolls eyes filled with sadness mind full of madness my mind is bleak because my heart wont speak when my dark past comes back after years why? is it just to see my tears?

Sometimes I lie awake at night thinking of my life and how I feel Sometimes I get so sad that I can't seem to live my life Now I realize that I'm not living, I'm just existing for the moments in time.

I've tried to be strong and move on, but the pain inside me was too much.
Now I'm ready to live my life, and be out of your reach.
You made me afraid to trust, and afraid to live my life.

Now I'm not afraid, I won't let you control me anymore.
You hurt me and damaged my trust, but now I'm letting you go.
You won't mean anything to me at all.
You was my first love but now your just my first mistake.

Fighting For One Soul

darkness and light
fighting for one soul
good and evil both can't let go thoughts of a bitter sweet death floating around with one shot the body drops voices speaking people mourn for the loss of one so young a life that just began to sing a sad, melancholy tune now he realizes who really cares the people are downhearted with their new found grief

I Love You Babe

Sometimes I can get so overwhelmed with you spoiling me
But I know that it's your way of showing you care
And no matter what I feel I won't say anything about it You won't hear me complain because I care for you

I will enjoy every minute we spend together
And I will cherish them when we are apart Because I fall more in love with you Every time we talk

I know that you can't always spoil me And I've tried telling you that you don't have to
And even though I say it You still spoil me anyway

And this is the reason that I can find myself falling for you Because I have never had a man treat me the way you do I've never had someone treat me like I'm a princess I've never had someone look at me like I light up their world

And now I realize what I've been missing I realize what I've been waiting for And now I can't hope but wait until I see you And I realize that I'm falling in love with you

Lies

i sit and i think oh doesn't life stink guys, guys, oh the 'wonderful' guys they make you fall for their hidden lies guess i fell for those pretty blue eyes i sit and i wonder if it was just a blunder a mistake, an error looking for something that's not there but then i see that he loves me this is true even if it hurts you and i wont give a damn cause thats just who i am

Loveless

i see people staring at me what do they think i can be?
why are they staring?
when will the stop?
why cant i find you?
why cant you see that my feelings are true?
i wonder why i cant stop my feelings i ask myself why do i cry whenever i see you i wonder why do i still love you i begged myself to let go of my feelings for you but everytime i see you, i smile and cry on the inside everytime you talk to me, my heart beats faster like a mad drum let loose everytime you talk to me, my breath stops cause i still love you

Sitting here by myself I realized, I didn't know you but I loved you anyway.
I spent time thinking of a future with you,
But I learned I wasn't ready for that.
I was scared and afraid to say I do.

I thought that we were in love,
But learned it was only lust.
Nothing seemed to work out
And all we had was lost.
No matter what I did or said, Everything we had was dead.

Now I realized I was only fooling myself,
No matter what I did, it didn't help.
And no matter how hard I tried,
I couldn't love you like you desired.

My Dark Room

A dark room
Chained to the wall
I sit and wait
Trying to get out Yelling for help
Trapped in here I think of a thousand ways to show you how I really care I'm standing here searching for something that isn't there I'm reaching out to touch you face I wake up and see an empty space
I see your message
And hear your call Each time I see you
I fall
More in love with you Can you feel it too?
Is it an empty space
In my heart?
Too many times
Scarred and torn apart
I hear noises in the dark
A beast and its loose
In my soul

My Love

My love will last forever
And my heart will yearn for you Why cant they see That we love each other
And what will become of us?

Standing Lovelessly

standing in the cold, wishing for love, hoping to see his smiling face, knowing he's not mine anymore, but still loving him, through the pain and tears, through the years of hurt and deceit

The Hurt Of The Heart

An arrow shot through the heart tears it apart
Now all that's left is an empty soul with a deep dark hole Eyes filled with sorrow waiting for tomorrow Hoping to see but, knowing it will never be Crying out for my lost love who I thought the world of My blue eyes cried when my heart died

The Mind

the mind wants to forget so he feels no regret time moves slow his mind just wont let go of something that can't be of something I can't see the soldier goes to fight not knowing he wont see the night the war he sees due to the enemies his dreams went crashing as the lightning went flashing the night filled with the sound of gunfire all around the flames surrounds him as his life goes dim

The Story Of Love

a little smile here a little hello there a little shyness in the air getting to know you that's how the story goes when did I have these feelings for you how did this happen it's taken me by surprise every time you look at me I can't help but smile every time you talk to me I can't think, can't breathe your my whole world then it comes crashing down then its a little polite smile here a little awkward hello there a little uneasiness in the air we got too close and fell apart now this is the story

The Truth

the weight of the world on my shoulders it feels like boulders wondering why i cant be?
why are they staring at me?
curious to see if who i am is the real true me... damn why cant i be the real, true, dark me? my razor is sharp its near the vein in my arm i hear the blood pounding its the best music surrounding i taste the blood, it excites me the only color is red that i see

Thinking Of You

Sometimes I lay awake at night
And I wonder how to find peace I've been hurt so many times before And I can't seem to find the strength to move on How can I find myself moving on And how can I feel myself falling in love How can I fight what I feel When everything feels like I belong

And now I'm finding it hard to believe But you're there for me to lean on And somehow I can find myself with you For the rest of my life

Even though I realize I haven't really known you for long I still can't help falling in love with you I never realized that someone could be so sweet

I've been hurt before and never knew What it was like to feel someone treat you special I don't know what to do when I'm with you I don't know how to react towards you spoiling me

Thoughts

I miss you boy
I wish you was still mine
I want you love
And you body that was so damn fine
I think a bout all the times we shared All the pain we held back All the love we had as though we were Two hearts painted black People never understood us
We were just the outcasts
I thought that I wouldn't find a heart like mine I found love a hoped it would last Now I'm sitting here, waiting for Someone to open the door
To my heart waiting for love Hoping and wishing to runaway
And be with someone who knows the real me Not having to hide my thoughts anymore Not hiding the pain, the hurt, the broken pride
The strangeness of my life Hoping to find someone who loves me for The woman that I am When will I find the Mr. Right for me?
Where is he at?
Why does it hurt to think of you?
When will I let your memory go?
I never hoped to find a love that Would torment me so

Anna Rheana Machin

Through With You

You told me, that you loved me
But how do I know
And how do I see That you lied to me
I gave you my heart
And you tore it apart
I'll never trust you again
But I'll love you till the end I can't let you go
But I need to know
If you could leave me
And let me be Let me heal my soul
And I'm trying to let you go I'll need help but I'll find That in time
I'll let go of these uncontrollable emotions I'll learn to give someone else my devotion My heart will remember you But I can't love you anymore I'm not a toy for you to toss aside How can I not let you go?
After all the things you said to me I won't be your second fiddled girl I'm saying good bye to you Cause we are through

Anna Rheana Machin

Why?

why the pain, why the hurt?
why the darkness, what's it worth?
I see people dancing like kids are prancing I hear the breath-taking sound of the music all around hear the magic in the air crashing to the ground if you listen closes enough you can hear the sound like a heart that wont go because time moves slow
