Belle Bard()

All the characters and emotions of my poems are resemblance is purely coincidental...!

I wud just like to mention 1 more thing...pls don't associate the character of the poem with me...I actually become a very different person when I write poems!

~i Feel Like Crying Today~

I feel like crying today
Maybe because you're not here today,
Or maybe 'cause am standing alone

I feel as if my heart has stopped beating
The pieces of my heart wish to see you again

The moment you escaped from my heart,
The prettiest flower in my heart's garden rotted away...

YOU went away,
But You still remain the prettiest flower inside my heart

You're gone, but you still prevail like a sweet pain, killing me each day.

A Broken Dream

I saw a thing, a broken wing
- a broken dream

I fear it might become true-that I won't be able fly
'cause they were the only specials given to me by the sky...

I wanna fly some more before it happens
I wanna feel the freedom before the sky darkens....

Belle Bard

Answer Me...

I am loved, I am adored, why then am I still bored?
Everyone needs love.
I have it already
A really nice buddy.
Oh I realized!
am not loved by all...
But is it all right to be intensely loved from one direction?
Or
Is it better to be less loved by all?

Belle Bard

Dear To Me...

When in the dark, the stars are bright, and the moon's is the only light, I want you near me because YOU are the only one dear to me....

Belle Bard

En-Caged Bird

The sun is no more warm to me,
The rain is no more wet to me..
Since you've been gone
They don't even recognize me.

Long days are too lazy
And the nights just drive me crazy! !

Am so messed up-I dunno what to do,
Am standing on the cross-roads-I dunno where to go..

My loneliness is eating me from inside
And the weaknesses are building up on my side
I've got no strength to fight
I've got no power or right..

I feel all alone in this world
I'm like an en-caged bird...

Belle Bard

Honey Bun

I always knew You could be the one
You're my Honey Bun
Living Without You would be living Hell
I wish a life with You in a Shell
Where I would be Your girl
& You would be my pearl

I always knew You could be the One
You're my Honey Bun
You love me in the light
You love me all night
Be with me forever
And each day of forever

I always knew You could be the One
You're my Honey Bun

Belle Bard

I Die Everyday...

I die everyday
I lie everyday... that I live happily.
Days go by rapidly
But am stuck without a single buck!
I wanna runaway
I'll have to find a way Back to the start to follow my heart and find its lost voice...
I had no choice!

I'll try once more to reach the shore so that I could start my life again without suffering or pain.

But where do I start from?
Can't see what's right and wrong
PLEASE LEAVE ME ALONE say for reason unknown!
I just wanna have my own space
'cause this place really proves to be a menace!

I've lost my mind
But I don't mind!
For as long as I can move on Even if my life is gone...!

Belle Bard

I Hope You Come Back..

You might never know how I feel so low
When the sky's blue,
And the moon is new,
When the ocean's wide,
I wish I could be your bride...

Without you, within me,
I can't find rest...
'cause when you were here,
I thought you were the Best!
And I dreamt of our own-
Sweet li'l nest

Forgetting the world,
straying from the herd,
We'll be together like forever and ever

You promised me you won't leave,
But I'm mistaken, I believe.
You never loved me,
I hope you hear me-giving you a call:
I hope you come back,
leavin' out all...

Belle Bard

I Won'T Stop U...

I see you heading towards the exit
I won't stop you...
But IF I ever came in your mind again,
Just shed a tear in my memory
For the relationship we once shared,
The sweet moments we spent together....

The Battle With Myself

I got stuck with the thoughts that'd never leave me
I was entangled by the bitter truth that never stopped hurting me
I burn each day with a single thought on my mind Sorting each one out in the long line
Reaching out for someone-to rescue me, just seems so hopeless
Since I don't expect anything anymore from anyone's kindness

In this bogus world around me are thousands of stars
Each of whom gave me hundreds of scars Mercy, grace, nor blessings shower on me
'Cause an unwanted, unknown holds the umbrella above me

Lost in my own world, I never came to know
When I reached the crossroad, undecided where to go Abstract and heavy thoughts filling my head,
The only reason I stood there-I found it was with me Treasured in the chests and chained tightly Kept hidden behind the closed doors of my heart

Still in an attempt to find myself
The battle continues as I fight with myself
No last wish or memory I want
Just want to find the peace long lost...

Travel With Me...

The trees passing by my window,
The rustling of leaves on road,
The strong breeze I'm tearing apart,
Form goose bumps on my arm.

The running carpet of road
Beneath the tyres of my car,
Makes me believe am in air,
Floating like a fish,
Turnin' my direction
After every few seconds...

The journey seems more adorable
Than the desire to reach the destination.
The strong feelin of anxiety to meet someone Who's been waiting for me for soo long,
At the same time,
Makes me d'lighted!
Outta all these joys,
I look forward to travel again to feel that feelin again! !

Belle Bard

What I Would Miss!

It might be easy for you to fall in and outta love so fast But for me, it's not easy to forget the past.

It might be easy for you to go away like this,
Without even giving a thought-
What I would miss!

Belle Bard

What Lies Ahead..

The shine in the night sky,
The only bright light to the eye
No one else around us knows,
The radiant beauty our friendship throws.

The only thing we hook up to,
Talking and talking and nothing to do.
Stepping into something new,
Of which, neither of us has a clue.

Where we go is for fate to decide,
Till that moment arrives,
Let the emotions hide;
Behind the smiles
Let's go a few miles.
Let it grow,
For us to know
What lies ahead
At the other end.

The foggy today
Will fade away
Let the wind pave its way.

Tomorrow might bring along
What might be really strong.
Or all of this may, just suddenly go wrong...

Belle Bard

When I'D To Choose

I was confused, under pressure
I wasn't so sure
My heart was saying nothing
My mind said anything
What did you expect from me to decide correct and honest?
How could my decision be the best
when I'd to choose
and something to loose?

I waited for long to realize what's right or wrong
But when I got no answer,
I became reckless...
I hurried worriednot to be too late...
But,
I was wrong.

Wherever I am now- is my fate
Can't do anything 'bout it now
Just have to endure it somehow!

Belle Bard

Where Has All The Love Gone?

Where has all the love gone?
I've been wandering alone for so long...
With no one to care
it's really not fair when I see others with their partners
The jealousy burns me.
Why can't I be free to choose My 'The One'
My'Honey Bun'?
