My Emotions (Storm Part I)

Long, long I travel... Do I know my desire?

All things laid by... Passing like a storm...

Is there any end to rest my soul in ceasefire?

Walking through the circles... Nowhere to go... Can smiles of glory be spread in a row?

Rains of happiness last for a while... Suddenly disappear like flash of light....

Shining smiles, memories in mind, secrets to gossip... bind us all the time.....

Different destinies make us alone... The shares, the laughters, all are lost; can we find it when we come along?

A Sparrow

Once a sparrow came to me, asked me if I was happy with the life I live.....
Yes I am happy with my life I replied, Its beautiful if you view with a positive side....

Wait, I said her, listen to the sound of pleasing wind, no she replied with her wagging tail... It makes me remind how I failed...with tears in her eyes I came to know, It was her loved ones she lost with the windy show...

Oh my dear please don't fear... don't stall I will help you in whatever you desire... blinking her eyes she smiled at me, started singing song explaining me how she lived...

Listening to her song I too missed my family...I know I know... she said, you can never live without them happily..... I will take you to my home I said.... No, I wont come... Live me alone she said...

I pleaded her, to be along with me.... She dwelled happily and brought smiles on every faces she met like God of happiness to be....

All That I Want

I dreamt to go wide...

I skipped my sorrow sides...

Nothing helped me turn the stormy tides...

It was my faith in u, a mighty one to fight...

Gone were those days when there was happiness every side...

All I want more and more am your believer for ages and ages, can I get more for more than a while...

Send-Off Note

Long along we stay together... Pilling memories forever....

Let me make you remember all that love we shared together...

Cracking jokes, double meaning words, playing pranks and partying all the time with ample of work...

Was that bonding not enough? ? ? .. To make you fixed at this place for some time like forever...

Never mind its life with twists all the time...

But this is not accepted... Good ones leaving in bulk together...

Let me make you remember all that love we shared together...

Gossiping and fighting is been always favorite part of many... All will be missed... when you guys are leaving like hopping bunnies...

It's said nothing stays permanent... But the memories are never perishable...

Babdoo says it on behalf of all members... All these should remain in hearts with no effect of eraser...

Keep walking guys this is not the end... Hope you would find us in others as you meet ahead...

Missing you guys will bring in tears...

Hope this feeling might make you stay back for few more years...

My Friend

Birthdays come.. birthdays go.. giving a bitter pinch of growing old..
The day that gave us entry into this tempting world makes us remember, there are things that will accompany you forever...
Happiness and the moments that are cherished are never to be forgotten...
Becomes a companion in loneliness that sparks when things go unsorted...
Luckiest are the ones who are remembered and liked by numerous people....
One such sharing person Babdoo knows is Sharon...
Encouraging everyone, totally down to earth... goes rocking everyday she comes...
Drives car at high speed with everyone getting centre shocks and freeze though in sun...
Jolly, super-excited person ever seen that's what actually she is... Super cool and fashionable
Don't leave us we would truly miss.. keep smiling like a flower bliss...

Dreams

Wakes up in unconscious minds with complaints and demands upright..

A cluster of desires with a hope of happening, a bliss of satisfaction that it lends on achieving...

Keeps confusing aimless minds neither showing a way or an opportunity to shine...

Once in a blue moon remembers for the glory of a struggler suddenly quickens its own way...

Being nocturnal strives to come at day, as if showing its working 24x7 a day...

Dreams come dreams go showing everyone how to sail their ships too and fro...

Power Of Love

Love is desire with a true heart struggling to get admire.....

The feeling never seen but only felt when caught up in the whirlpool of it...

Some do understand the asset of it, some make fun of it...

The power of love is itself in the term, which makes a person nearby death to stand-up firm...

Dwell such love with amongst all to show the mighty death, its long time to fall...

Death feeling ashamed of being deprived of love, will soon start loving love...

Love feels proud that it has overcome death still doesn't understand how it has made its fate...

Life And Death

All that begins with change and ends into a change is life....Where species live and species die.... No one lives here till last to cry....Born is born to perish some day....Still there are laughters and tears that stay....Lifeless things in life stay long but lively things keep extincting prolong....Life feels proud when it lends life..It's pride ends with it own stay has come to end....Life remembers its end is death but smiles at death with its new beginning to be set....Life of Death is depended on life its end will bring death to death with no life, the truth of bitter bite....The value of life is understood after death so donot regret the power of life and death....

Womens Beauty

Beauty of a woman is her heart

Her beauty is seen through her love and respect to start...

Never has she lost her patience if ever when the fights with the evil began...

She cares as an angel for her dear children all the way... To make there long journey full of joys to stay... Yet never complains of her pain... Ends her everyday like no one in vain...

She is the beauty with all the goodness... When found her in life will never feel sadness...

I know such women with the same beautiful heart... She is none other than my Mom, pampering me by saying me sleep my dear little sweet heart...

The beauty of a woman lies in her heart... No one can regret the truth cited by poet with true heart...
