Where's Your Heart?

where's the soldier i used to know who could feel for his child when they were in need for love. where's your heart? dont tell me you threw it away, thats why your so heartless & went astray. where's your heart did you loose it while hurting others like your sister, mother & your brother? why do you look at me with those eyes now your just full of evil twisted lies. where's your heart that every normal human have's? who smiles, talks, & laugh. where's your heart is it there or is it all the way gone? did the war tear your mind into pieces? but mostly the heart of is what they torn. where's your heart?
