I AM THAT MOUSE()

49 Card Deck

a jewel amongst thieves yet no one perceives i'm a gem they just condemn me to exile when all the while they continue to loot they take away my time commit the crime and pass the bill i'd kill to have my life back i just want the attack to retreat & dilute an emotional beat down the frown i wear is truly real i feel as if nothing is right the fight has left me still and mute a diamond in the rough who's had enough of being taken just forsaken by the buyer an unfound desire just following suit

5 Star Cuisine

i bring you my heart on a platter

pounds of beating matter for you to splatter
on the floor

stitch up te emptiness with some closure i'll keep my compsure

no need for exposure still they watch

they see you picking up the pieces

while your hatred increases and heart ceases to exist

your hand may never come clean from washing the scene

did you like the cuisine or was it bitter

A Date With The Devil

sitting on street bench, between satan and his high school sweetheart pondering the incongruousness of the lovers peering at each other behind my back.

the prince of darkness is hiding his passion but i can see his red cheeks showing a hint of blush, and hers the same. how sickening that he finds love and the closest i've come is sitting between him and his princess.

i don't know love. i know what's like to date, to have sex, to go out for the evening, but i don't know what it's like to have breakfast with him in the morning. i don't know what its like to know love and to be loved.

what i once thought was deep couldn't have been more shallow. his wasted words were just things i hung on to in hopes they had a hidden meaning, it was more like a hidden agenda.

and here i sit on this park bench cursing the God who gave lucifer love. maybe it should cupid i have my beef with but either way, the devil has his due and i am still waiting to put my name on the list.

maybe i'll just kill his queen and take satan home tonight...he couldn't be any worse than the last one.

A Pill For You, A Pill For Me kicking men disguised as drapes (your face is making distorted shapes) i try to scream but the sound escapes... through the hole i dug in my leg.

this weed to me tastes more like grass (blow in my eyes like fogging up glass) the high we have now we will only surpass... but only if you want to take another.

double time, 12 hours or more (do feel we fell upon a pill hardcore) maybe we shouldn't have tried to score as many pills as we did unable to read and unable to write (it might help if we turn on a light) it's not much better and afraid that my sight is being stolen by the man in the drapes.

A Rhyme For The Love Of Tragedy im done feeling like i need you so im choosing to leave you and if i ever i believed you i know now it's a lie.

im sick of wanting what i can't have that feeling makes me feel had i'll go n then you'll be sad and hopefully you'll cry.

don't turn the words to blame me don't grab my hand to save me i done with how you played me and im headed for the door.

you'll find another who will need you that one who'll never leave you and maybe she'll believe you when you say she's all you want and more.

go show her what she can't have go give her what i never had love meant to make her sad but do it with a smile.

soon she'll turn on it and blame you and you'll look for me to save you but i can play the game too so i'll love you again for a while.

Absynthe Makes The Heart Grow Fonder

surrounded by those who are lit by Your light and i always stood in the shade when i finally found myself almost believing in You i found myself feeling betrayed.

a slap in the face for the sins i've committed though i used my time to sit and repent You got me to agree that You were all that I needed but my 'i believe' was bitter spent.

my life has now been burned to the ground and I pray to an absent Lord no sense in trying to find that something in You cause i'll just end up being ignored.

i thought you were giving me a chance to do well instead you set me up once again the final words from a girl not meant to believe are i'm disappointed in You....amen

An Anthrax White Christmas

i sent you a christmas card with the anthrax you bought me for my birthday.

what doesn't kill you makes you stonger, right?

didn't you ask santa for a winter that's white?

now how much does my worth weigh?

i opened the card i sent you for christmas when i got home from work.

silly mouse, don't you know any better?

didn't you think i'd know what's in the letter?

i bet you feel like a jerk.

Aortic Heaving

do you want to know what your memory leaves? just grab a hold of my heart, then tightly squeeze you see that blood?
that's your cheating.
you see that tissue?
that's your mistreating.
you see it pooling, you see it dying your memory is a disease

Ari's Treatises

political beings of perfect virtue

family is to household as husband is to wife

as father is to son as master is to slave as superior is to inferior an all natural state of organics and instrument of action take me to the lyceum, and scratch the academy i want to observe

not idealize like your teacher

i want to know your thoughts on the soul

on rhetoric classify me as a guardian

a citizen of your ideal state but your long dead

and i'm a republican

Blunted Verses The Mouse remembering your blunted verses how you cried and cursed the paper did read your bible, your creed and that white owl became my first reciting your blunted verses cause my throat to choke i followed your lead signed over the deed and inhaled the white owls smoke hearing your blunted verses take me back to harder times when you planted your seed out of lust, out of greed and the white owl aided your crimes feeling your blunted verses reminding me how i crept the hand that did feed i did cut, it did bleed and all while the white owl slept recalling your blunted verses echoing in my head now there's no need

there's no more weed and the poor white owl is dead

Broken Tiarra

are you pleased to see the blood i'm bleeding staining the page you'll eventually be reading the red covers the lines as my heart defines the real thing that it's needing.

im welcoming your pity into this world im creating but you're too caught up in the new girl you're dating so i'll just cry here alone knocked of the throne this princess forever in waiting.

i'll seal this with kisses and mail, silently praying that you'll quit being the jerk that you've been portraying i'll just wait and dream i'll cry and i'll scream and i'll be convicted of the slaying.

on this page that's covered in my tears & my pleading will you give up and love me and put no one above me or will you give nothing to my needing?

Call Me Whatever...And Hold On Tight

he pulled her hair just enough to arouse himself and she smiled, a coy and inviting grin, this was her finest hour when her beauty was his fortress and his strong hands were the guards at the gate.

she lead his motions with her eyes, he saw touch he tasted sight, each blink drew him nearer this was her finest hour when her beauty was his capter and his chains were locked with his very own arms.

a summer night passed and a day-lived now gone through her hair was pulled back as her fortress fell no sight, no arms, no chains for her smile just wasn't enough the gates closed on her in her finest hour and the guards went home.

Cocaine Prayers

you know that i can spot your fear like cocaine on your nose, my dear.

those things you think you locked inside are the things that i can't look beside.

where you're afraid your dreams will go is why i sleep so not to know.

for nights and daze i refuse to wake to face those things we cannot take.

and if i should fade into this sleep... you'll be awake with this burden we keep.

Cover Girl

transparent imperfections clouded by my smile clouded by my laughter to know me well is to not see me that is what makes me beautiful animated expressions draw people into me draw people around me to watch me while i talk to them and that really makes me beautiful comfortable silence taking in the air taking in the essence to smell my perfume on my breath i know is what makes me beautiful honest emotions knowing the room knowing the answers

i am more than you ever thought cause your not what makes me beautiful

Daylight Savings

Friday, 8 am alarm 47 hours later

sunday, 8 am still awake weekend activities in which i partake roll with the punches on with the beats

live life: non stop this the world and i'm on top losing ounces of vulnerability

neither predator or prey strangers around me but oddly okay fun times four equals insomnia

the mouse locked up in her tower wondering what happened to that missing hour?

Dear Me, Love Me

i cried for you last night when i turned out the light i saw your walls of pain your sadness was mine for a moment in time part of it will always remain my wounds bled for you and my tears i shed for you left stains upon my sheet i heard your echoing wales over the hammering nails and my heart felt your defeat your clouds raided the skies and battled sunrise so to never wake from this sleep where you're free from your cage and you're free from this rage and where affection is no longer cheap

Dirty Divorce

his conscience grew as his thoughts turned to her my conscience knew he would return to her before the night was over. after i rolled over,

to flip off the lights.

his selfishness desired to hold my hand in consolation my selfishness tired in that cold conversation i didn't want to talk anymore or think anymore about his other life.

his seclusion covered my room in a blanket of doubt my seclusion recovered his gloom throughout his body to find he felt regret cause his regret had pushed me away. his insistence stilled my fear of him leaving for good my insistence filled his tearless eyes with would and want but all can't i know he can't and neither should i

Family Values

left here with my own concern i do not think i will ever learn all i know is where to place my urn right there, on your mantle i see it now it's in my sight and i see in it that the time is right i wear sunglasses just in case i see light but we all know i won't go ahead and plead your cases i can already see your pitiful faces pretending that i held special places in each of your hearts well if you do then you'd better say a little too late could be anyday or maybe you'd prefer to do it that way who knows i never knew you i spent my life paying for his crimes and he's the reason i write my rhymes you've talked to me how many times and yet sympathy you'll seek i will leave you with this creed YOU ARE ALL CONSUMED WITH GREED

here's my heart just watch it bleed and pretend I never happened

Fifty-One

Marijuana cigarette.
My silhouette.

In the mirror of regret I met with anxiety.

Paranoid.
Destroyed.

Annoyed.
Resisted, twisted thoughts that existed.

Misplaced waste, I'm thinking it was laced.

Following Poser

what is this i feel jealousy amidst flattery, my vitruvian prince,

and his former princess

following my every move needing affirmation not finding it here

but she searches for it in me my vagueness keeps her wondering

keeps him wondering as well

her appearance causes apprehension

on my part maybe his too?

his words confuse me apologetic or sarcastic or reading too deep again i fight the battle

with no offense and weak defense

fearing that the wall will not hold and give way to feeling like the former desperate for an answer without asking the question

Happy Holes

i dug a hole and i like it there unconcerned with what to wear or how i smell no heaven, no hell, inside this hole i dug.

i hate there's no one to hug and no one to love, loving no one to hate. this world i create, is deep inside this hole.

i and me have all the control we own this soul and this body of dirt this tattered shirt is a shell of what was.

reminding me of why's & because all that does is make me love this spot in this dirt i'll rot, happy and finally free.

my arms are sore, my back agrees with swollen knees from shoveling home yes this soul we own, me and i, loves this hole.

perfect for this mouse turned mole (tx todd) these weeds i'll roll and smoke out smiling and the dirt is piling on my new welcome mat free of thatcat, happy and free

Hardcore Barbie

the sweat from the hand cuffs is pooling around my wrist like blood pouring down from a vampires kiss

my body starts moving to the beats of it's own vibration he and i join to create the ultimate formation

reckless on my own behalf but not caring about the effect knowing that in the morning we'll reconnect

arms around me clenching tighter as the heat increases he feels my climax as it long last releases

and then i awoke to find it was just my imagination but tonight i'll give in to my hidden temptation

and neither can he

I Hate Your Face

i put today on repeat and start all over again i wake up in the morning and reach for my pen and into a hiding place for writing i off and retreat.

the day then ends and i fade into the swoon trying to remember how i spent my afternoon ah yes, prescription cocktails and vodka blends.

comfortable with the haze i rolled another for luck and continued to write about that miserable f cuk oh how do i hate thee, let me count the ways.

now do you see the mistake of leaving behind the pills they don't stop the pain but they give me the chills and some even aid in keeping this girl awake.

my thought on tomorrow is what's in it for me after cutting you loose i expected to run free not to be drowning in liquors and sorrow.

so i continue to escape to where poets go clouded by smoke and propelled by the snow and write you as a distorted shape, of existence.

I Heart Your Heart

i put my ear to your paper thin walls and i could hear your heart beat and my heart took a back seat as i was consumed by your rhythm.

to tell you the truth i was not suprised
that by your heart i was disguised my thoughts became thumps as you beated sweat poured in my eyes with out a sting for i knew there was only one thing i could feel and that was your rhythm.

i fell asleep with my head to your heart and your arms around the one you love too around the one you love to consume with your rhythm.

but it was your heart that told me lies.

I'D Help You Hide A Body

no lectures needed.. i'm not backing down..

my lungs will expand..

if i try to hold on.. just let go of my hand..

but you promised me then..

you just didn't know when..

your eyes are now swelling.. please do not spare me..

is starting to scare me..

i must drown now...
so you can then heal..

I'M Only Alive When Your Inside Me

take this with you to my grave i am the soul you cannot save this darkened world I cannot not brave i'm only alive when you're inside me some things now you cannot learn caused confusion caused concern alone i'll watch this cigarette burn

of you i no longer think but of your blood i want to drink and i can't open from this long blink

lower my coffin with your bitten hand i'm sure my mother would understand condemned to dirt and dust and land

destiny is no longer my desire i could not get you any higher no man alive could put out this fire

i'm only alive when your inside me

Imaginary Lovers

'he loves me, he loves me not' thoughts while sketching stick figured lovers on scrapped paper she draws an arrow through the heart of her imaginary man the one she saw as so much more than black & white the one who she felt drew a straight line to her soul the one who now bleeds red for being a failed prospect.

'he never loved me, not like i loved him' thoughts while drawing popped balloons on her old poetry

she can almost feel the air deflating on her fingertips the air that she wants to breathe once again the air that has a hint of his rum-stained scent the air that has become bitter cold since his depart.

and there they are...two stick-figured scribbles...dead and breathless...all because imaginary lovers leave the real ones behind...

In An Attempt To Escape The Dollhouse

a smile in a painted mirror hung on a cardboard wall an artificial reflection in this world that's grown so small nothing but porcelain tissues are here to absorb the tears so here i write with a feather pen by the light of plastic chandeliers the precious doll that you once loved is now fading into imitation the boy next door still waves at me but now as if i was a decoration in an attempt to escape where you left me i find myself farther from what is real in this multicolor dollhouse i completely cease to feel.

In Response To Your Request the girl is no longer of high society she swallowed her tongue and spewed inpropriety

(a freedom that is too close to come) her will on a platter for the vamps to feed an altruistic reason to bleed she awakens after years of slumber to lightening bolts and crashing thunder smashing her body into bits and pieces the rush she was feeling finally releases a moment in that her body was raptured is the moment in that reality was captured

In The Best Way Possible

bleeding heart of ego tall, do remember what it's like to crawl? do remember what it's like to fall? into the arms of someone who loves you.

hacking up old memories get the stench of your ultra cigarette that's now a smoker's cough of regret and i will die from your second rate cancer.

a story with no recitation do remember the lack of hesitation? consider me another donation to the knots on your bedpost.

things motivations lead to i had my own reasons to need you and all those who will succeed you will never not love me like you did.

Just Another Night At Fridays

Nervous energy not sure what to do with herself these days he called

she cared
he showed

two friends

two barstools two issues

wallowing in eachothers failures and celebrating eachothers triumphs looking forward to better days and better men better beer and better shots

tommorrow is out there and if we sit here and wallow and celebrate long enough tomorrow will be here sooner

and she won't care if he called

Kind Strangers And Happy Hours

it's last call... buy me one more shot make it a double you're hot and i'm trouble dance closer kind stranger

the night's still young unaware of danger

just slip me the tounge don't dare ask

my last name you're not the one

but play the game
let's make out...it's fun.

Last Call Country Song

he vomitted on a canvas after a night he doesn't recall four thousand on the auction block and he became a rich man. i recall the night in all its haze and glory and although not an amazing story

and me, look at this pot still calling the kettle black
the dog was dead long before the country song was written. just another shot and we both forget it all the saddest ending to the last-last call

four thousand on the auction block for two washed up drunks and dead dog listening to a country song they never understood.

Lay Me, Love Me, Lie To Me

the man of my dreams is not what he seems yet i go to extremes

to find him

i just beg him to haunt me i want him to want me i allow him to taunt me in my sleep

i don't want to breed him i really don't need him but i want to feed him all my lines

the man i so desire is not one i admire

he's just a plain liar

and i love him

Lay Overs?

layover passengers
make good company

a break between flights have coffee, chit-chat size up your mile high choices you hear interesting stories and less interesting stories a new story forms with each new face its when the faces

become familiar where you start to rethink

your flight pattern different places, different times same face wondering if he is on the same plane

if you were meant to meet at this airport just outside detroit

if you should trade in your ticket to fly with him to destination unknown or if you should just enjoy his company board your flight and hope he trades his in

Letting Some Light In

i leave without warning and appear without cause

two of my flaws don't ask me for more be happy

i came back
please don't attack

thats what pushes me away

and keeps me in hiding

i do the deciding no choice

do you get no power

do you hold i can be so cold

you know i can see that i notice

my true faults

my personal assualts you need not blame me i already have it covered and what i have discovered is that i am wrong

and i don't really care

but i need you there when i am lonely and when i need love still it's you i shove into a dark corner worrying about my well-being and who i am seeing it drives

you so crazy
i tear

you apart
i break your heart...

and i don't know why...

Listen Closely

lying thus far has got me this far now what bar has been lifted... you seem to be looking at me as if i wasn't gifted... i'm talented at it & you can't combat it so you make me out as wrong..

you love my lines & my verbal land mines and you've always played along... so don't act shocked or come at me cocked and ready to shoot at will...

you've listened thus far and it got me this far you must not recognize my skill...

Marry Me, Marry Me

simple pacts, made drug induced promises if i never reproduce bloody treaty on which we agreed that if i never marry, you'll plant your seed no truth for you, no child support but our dirty deception will be a last resort i see you saw, me carmen, you dave my wedding day will precede my grave with open intentions the bodies collide an all night husband and a one night bride and if i should die before we wed you will marry another and i will be dead.

Me And My Own Company

seven hours and counting

dancing to my own theme music that plays inside my head swaying my hips

dirty dancing in the mirror...

the day is gray and i'm jennifer

wait for sunrise

lying naked in the sheets

after a hot shower wide-eyed and still swaying...

Me Without Me

the more i lose the more i use

to help me get through the day the more i can't fake the more i will take so no one sees me this way unnaturally willing excessive milk spilling

up from the table no going out of my way or going out in the day so no one sees i'n inable making my faces asking for erases

out of having to give no fear of dying though i fear i'm lying so no one sees how i live

Mutual Terms

no news is good news i could use a drink

i stare at your stare both aware of the stink

my wants aren't your wants this haunts my dreams

my needs your needs simply feeds
the screams

you go no i'll go we both know we're wrong

i won't say you won't say why we portray

we belong
i see what you see

we can't be too naive

i won't call if you don't call now just crawl out and leave.

No Longer A Child Of High Society

it would be a grave injustice to the overall balance of humanity to become a better person... it would worsen my insanity and lengthen my days in ways i can't comprehend....

i'll send out this application to remain exceedingly offensive to those on the reverse... a perverse twist on apprehensive eyes that watch my moves i'll disprove a conquering good...

now should i tell my mother i, born of her womb, dies by her dreams
a killer of sobriety as the liquor streams down my face like saline tears her biggest fears coming to life...

dropp the knife in the rusted sink and wait for the sun to expose me as the demon no one can fight... was i right to allow him to repose me and leave me alone in my head where the dead lie waiting for me to join them...

Peirene Springs

A vandalized Vitruvian

Inked and scarred

He stares at his reflection

He outlines his contours with shadow and flex

He is not god-like but a candidate for immortality

None dare to critique

his perfection

Perfections? Nose to the counter

My first veiw, yet oddly accepted

An Observer, a Listener, an Artist

An Astronaut?

An Addict

I suppose its a matter of opinion

Perfectly Problematic

perfection is a perception of the expectations

we hold...

uncommonly inconspicuous i randomly appeared at your feet... didn't have to re-meet...

an anti-social's suicide when we died

and she was born and i still mourn...

ungracious is your gratitude for my solitude

in this matter...
no ruthless chatter...

i contemplate your concern questioning your character and your desire... who will be your buyer, dear, when your supplier's no longer here...

Peter's Promise

i should have
heeded your warning

then i wouldn't be in mourning

listened to reason

instead i went and committed treason

i used the highs to deny the lows

and i unknowingly ignored the crows

losing ground and losing weightt

i now cannot deny my fate

i must pay for the things i've done hung upside,

with no where to run

Pretty Clowns.

color me pink and make me beautiful.... anything pretty will do, pretty like you.

sad girl, painted in blue and black and gray, make me new.
take me back.
wisk me away.
anything to be pretty, pretty like you.

anything color you prefer, just make me as pretty as her.

end the night.
close the screen.

from one end of the spectrum and back...i still end up in the color black

Restraining Orders Are For The Weak

she sits back and watches his life, a silent partner...a silent wife.

at the drapes, peeks through a crack imagining his lips are kissing her back faking talkin to him on the phone feelin like he's never alone he feels her eyes as she watches his life his silent partner that killed his wife.

Rock Stars = Crap Lovers

what brought me here my dear, chasing confusion and illusion, seem unclear i hear you loved before you adored her baby but maybe you still do who knew we'd end up here i fear this more than we know the show you put on is great i'm late for it though

Royal Pain

one day, i'll walk above you all six feet under, and never higher dropping rain and spitting fire forcing kings to thier knees one day, i'll be a whispering voice telling you where to put the knife guiding queens to end thier life death always comes in threes screaming, crying, wailing, flying

drowning, carving, cutting, starving

one day, i'll be better than you i'll watch you crawl to your demise a rotten princess covered in flies with her crown around her head one day, i'll convince you to die a life not worthy of you living rulers of the palace of ungiving learning the fruits are dead life is a poem and then we die, and thats when i'll be rich life is a poem and then you die, a cold and lonely bit ch.

Secret Agent Mouse

does anyone else hear the voices echoing the mouse's choices no one knew how hard she tried all those secrets were hard to hide away she was tucked inside her cave slowly digging her early grave it fed on her nutritional lines no one really saw the signs and then the mouse had to grow up and deal and spend the rest of her life trying to heal decisions made keep her constantly thinking and they could be the cause of the drugging and drinking wishing she had not fallen into adolescent traps then made her world would not have collapsed but here she is the rock that you see far from bound yet far from free wishing that once she'd hear the voice that echo's the mouse's hardest choice

Silencing Daddy

Need no stitches, hide back fear.

Release in front of the one Who took the sky and hid the sun

The moon and stars shine bright as day This day's as dark as night

For every day from this moment on Will continue on the fight

Gazing out the window pane Wishing things were all the same

All is not quiet in the spacious home A man surrounded yet so alone

Holding the hand of hand Breathing on the hand of life

No longer aware of the encounter Yet not over is the strife

All the world is darkness
No more feeling light

The cold hard truth is awakening Be strong and hold on tight.

Emotion is the key to living A cold heart is the key to dying

For death is life
For life is death

What is the point in trying?

Silly Catholics, Forgiveness Is For Sins your faith is buried in doctrine and law and i don't know how to find salvation as you lead into this temptation of leaving you behind me.

listening to pulpit preach the homily forgiving killers and sentencing sins this is how the cycle begins for the wayward baptised.

i'm regretting the years i wasted on you silly catholics, i see through your plan endoctrining laws created by man and using hell to instill that fear.

i don't know how to believe anymore or what was real and what was not a soul sold that the altar bought with its tabernacle of riches.

you taught me little on who to love but told me plenty of who to hate & now i fear you sealed my fate by not giving me a choice.

i turn my back on what was said as truth the sins of the church are now my own & i much rather wander to heaven alone than to say i believed your stories.

i have one last thing before i walk away i leave you with this pledge of exclusion to never let my children believe your illusion so maybe they have a chance to be saved.

Sluts And Slits

your fits are what slits those strongs arms made of fear my cries are the ties that are bounding us here your question's what beckons and fuels all these notions my words are the verbs that keep us in this motion your lure's insecure yet i can't help your needing my eyes do reply to the reasons your bleeding your deaf to what's left of the words im not saying my hearts torn apart from what you think i'm portraying your numb to whats come of the love in your life my mind you must find if you want me for your wife your hearing so i'm fearing your not listening to me my words are the verbs that i'm not acting to be.

Stix And Stones

do break her bones

but its your words that cut her deep you trash the mouse, you destroy her house and yet its you she tries to keep

leave her hanging and now you break her heart what's up with that, you mangy cat what was your intent from the start

gave her bruises and she still waits here for you not letting her go, not letting her know the plans you want to ensue

is enough for this mouse as she lays here in your arms she refuses to see, she refuses to be affected by my sounding alarms

have beat her down and she waits for you to save her but she'll wait no more, i've locked her door you will no longer enslave her.

The Dangers Of Midnight Tripping someone i've found along the way, has taught me to hate the tastes of plain has taught me to lust the walls of pain and showed the black and white of gray.

someone hidden in a newspaper clipping, has shown me the complications of being pure has shown me the perils of feeling secure, and taught me the dangers of midnight tripping.

someone i've met over a late night snack has taught me to hate those who've hung the moon has taught me lust those who've started too soon, and showed the problems with looking back.

someone codependent on narcotic medication has shown me the humor in other peoples distress, has shown me the stain that ruined my dress, and has taught me the true value of imitation.

but i guess you had to be there to truly be a fake.

The Luggage Wasnt That Expensive

i dropped my bags at the gates and walked away. i know he's waiting in the terminal to see my face in the crowd but i'm not coming.

my luggage held my heart, my pride, and my discontent.
and they will arrive on time...on the red eye to buffalo new york but i'm not coming.

i can see the expression on his face as he waits for me i don't see a smile, i don't see wide eyes, i don't see his heart on his sleeve that's why i'm not coming.

The Problems With Boys And Girls Rooms girls hate girls who like boys who like girls. and the boys who like girls are unaware of the hate.

and these girls who hate girls tried to break up my date therefore i hate girls who hate girls who like boys. unnecessary noise in the restrooms of girls who talk about girls who like boys that they like and they talk about sex like it's riding a bike therefore i hate girls who have sex with my boys. it destroys my chances with boys who like girls and i'm not sure they know the trouble they cause and how girls can like boys and then bring out thier claws to protect the boys from the other girls that they want. the girls who flaunt themselves for the love of a boy are the girls who love boys for no reasons at all are the girls who talk about boys in the stall and hate on the girls they don't even know. so i show myself to the girls who hate girls and let them know there's no reason to hate that i am just trying to enjoy my date so stay away from him.
he's taken.

The Sound Of Silence

hearts that didn't last our now parts of my past that made me the lover i'll be. these hearts will be carried 'til the days that i'm buried when the boys come 'round to mourn me.

the sound of silence is what brought me home,

this lingering scent of smoke and ash reminds me of when we'd spoken last and all the hateful things we said. the fire was blazing and you looked amazing yet the fizzle was two steps ahead.

the sound of silence is what brought me home,

i fell in love with what you didn't say i loved was your face, it was your way and your words were merely background. now we pretend that you never meant that and i miss your silent sound. i love you again.

Unmighty Mouse

i'm not made of steel i am more real than i thought and i caught myself slipping on invincibility

no power for flying i keep trying but land on my face i am a disgrace to super on the balance

i will die someday no delay at the rate i am going i should be slowing down now for tomorrow

the reckless life i lead will bleed me dry before my time this prime i should be in is haste and dangerous

less triumphs more fails guard rails aren't breezeways the blaze has ignited who will save me?

V Is For Virgin

going to extremes as the screams increase this release takes me lower i throw her a bone she sits alone the love i have shown he never did show her what can i do this glue cannot mend her i pretend her pain isn't real i feel she is dead she's lost her head from things that he said that weren't in the deal i'll let her die my eye on something new a view that is much clearer i hear her fall against the wall giving up on it all and finally breaking the mirror blood around me i found me a new friend i intend to make this reality my duality is true i am me i am you

i should get a tattoo of my virgin personality

Whores And Butterflies

sitting down beside you, i reached for a shot to kill the butterflies. your eyes fixed on my lips as my hand gripped the glass, i was on my way to making an ass of myself.

words spewed from my mouth like an endless fountain of shit, i admit i should have held back but life in a shell isn't me.

so i continued to talk and let you see who i am.

i never expected you to see through this intoxicated stoner, a loner by default who's been known to assault her own.

you kissed me, and i know you could taste my last good bye, a guy whom i loved who was shoving me into the dark.

i listened closely to your words hoping you'd remark on him.

but you didn't, your silence was appreciated in this matter.
no chatter about my wrongs, so i no longer doubted you.

if you thought i was a whore, you wouldn't pursue me.

and now i am left wanting to say what we are not ready for.

and prayed that you wouldn't decline my flirtations.

if nothing says i love you then i will continue to remain hushed. and blush at your sweet nothings during heated affections.

World War Negative 3

silent soldier speak to me speak to me of bloody birth quiet warrior tell tales of the beginning born into this empty earth sobbing soldier call to me call to me you fallen foe weeping warrior cry out like a child tell me of your squandering show surrendered soldier release to me release to me your living losses quitted warrior reveal all of my victories won alone by carrying crosses surviving soldier speak to them speak to them of my fulgurous feat wayward warrior tell tales of you were beaten in the dust i recognized retreat

You Broke Up With Me On Myspace

'ONLINE NOW' blinks in my face taunting me
wanting me
to message you again.
i'm stalking you on myspace.

why is she on your top eight taunting me
to try and add her and see if she takes the bait.

did you reply to me today
to leave you a comment. but i don't know what to say.

you deleted me from you friends taunting me
to go to your page tomorrow and try to add you to mine again.

You Follow?

no turning back

i lack self control

i have no soul to free

you agree
i heard

not a word to my face

i chase it with a shot

i got hit hard

with no regard to my own worth the earth still turns

while my stomach churns don't follow

or swallow anymore pills

the chills have started

uncharted waters navigate and sedate me don't berate me

i have no more to give i will outlive

crouched in this stahl

head to the throne
all alone

waiting for his hand i planned

things early surely

i didn't plan this i just wanted a kiss

not a slap i'll snap

if i don't get out of this self-doubt what am i rambling about oh, it's all coming back
