

Classic Poetry Series

Christopher Morley

- poems -

Publication Date:

2004

Publisher:

PoemHunter.Com - The World's Poetry Archive

Inscription For A Grammar

There were two cheerful pronouns
And nought did them disturb:
Until they met, out walking.
A conjugative verb.

The pronouns, child, were You and I,
We might as well confess;
But, ah, the mischief-making verb
I leave to you to guess!

Christopher Morley