A stunning mystery

Pools of green being seen to me leaves a stunning mystery that grabs ahold of me

A thing called love

2 people glance over at eachother having eyes for one only another and ignoring any other because for that one moment that one moment everything becomes a blur and everyone's words begin to slur like nothing else ever existed or would ever be the same as they fall unifiably in to a thing they call love

Anything More

As our Hands combine
And our
Fingers entwine
My
Feelings over cross the line
As to
When you put Your hand in mine
And mine in yours
It opens up the door
To a love I've never known before
As you are one that I adore
Could I ask for anything more?

Baby, It's not alright

You might think that everything's alright because it didn't end up in a fight... But no baby it doesn't end there Because you don't even care, you have never been there
So next time you ask me what is wrong and where I have come from I'll answer that no baby it's not all right
And I can't do what you want me to do tonight

Conformity

I don't wanna go
I want to stay I'll do anything to avoid going that way where everything i say is unheard and i feel like i'm in a herd my number, six hundred and thrity third a slave to conformity told to do things normally when i'm anything but a ordinary story

Could have been great together

I hear you like me
Or so they say
Then I thought
Wow someone actually
Likes me in that way
Too bad it never came true
Too bad it ended
Before it had time to start
And too bad it's stolen apart of my heart

We were three months strong
And we famously got along
I thought everything was going well Until she came along and Said her feeling for you were strong
So strong that I guess you Thought that I didn't belong so you two got together
And say that your
Going to love each other forever
As I barely hold it together Because I know that we could
Of been great together

Dark Beauty

Beauty shines through the light rarely seen in the night the sharp edges leave a sense of danger that previals on through this dark night

Disguise

Its like the world has become so blind and i can't seem to find the strength inside to put on some disguise and i'm alright

Erase me from your memory

Please move on
And never think of you and me
Becoming a 'we' again
Since that did little good from the first time we met
Which took me forever to forget
Because it's hard to forget you and you know that is true
And now I pass this mission on to you To forget about me and what we could be
To erase me from your memory

Fallen for the stranger

I don't know who you are I don't know why you care but i want you here, here beside me

I don't know what this is but i trust it, as i trust you because i think i have fallen for the stranger thats true i think i have fallen in love with you

Fingers Entwine

As his fingers entwine with mine it creates a familar heat and a unkown beat to which my heart had no knowledge of

Go away

I know that its not a nice thing to say but i'm going to say it anyway can't you just go away! its hard enough that you can't stay away or the fact your in my class each day

So can you just go now, please and stop being such a tease coz your making me go weak at the knees and i really don't know how much I stand

As I need understanding and meaning not a empty feeling which has no meaning

So go now, get out of my way its either you and me.... and now i see it comes down to me to let this feeling fly or to let it die

Hard to do around you

Forgiveness and happiness
Are emotions hard to do around you Even though they're simple they're hard to portray
When your heart has gone astray
And the world has gone black, white and grey Leaving you little hope for the next day and
For all the new obstacles that will come your way
As happiness and forgiveness are hard to do when you've been hurt
And you feel like dirt
Because your feelings are never put first

Hate you, love you

I hate you
I despise you, you and your venomous words that true there's not much i can say that i like about you

I hate the way you look at me i hate the way you walk and talk and the way make me feel so small like im nothing at all

Yet everytime i see you i get this fluttery feeling and my heart rate rises to the celing i don't want it but i can't stop it and I can't hide it

I can't stop hating you yet i can't stop loving you

I died for my love

I loved you and you loved me you where my king and I was your queen everyday our love poured into a stream of neverending love and I believed that you would be my only love but our love was detroyed the night you left when you said it was over and walked out of my life.

I wept for months on end for you to take me back but time made me stronger and i thought that I would never want you back rich and famous I had became but i thought there was something that lacked one night I drove along in my mercades benz and saw your parents walking to a unkown place with tears running down their faces i jumped out my car and followed them around and then I saw where they where heading to a gloomy graveyard which had a coffin atop of it laid a picture of your smiling face I cried to your parents and asked what had happened of your fate then they told me that died one month after we broke up they then showed me the note you wrote saying that our break up was a huge mistake and that you still loved me I cried at your funeral and i spoke of the good times.

After I became numb and I tried to forget our good times but they haunted me through out my lonely nights until one day I could not take it anymore and I turned off the lights a day later, I was found with a picture of you in my arms my parents and friends wept and my fans mourned then they placed my coffin next to where yours lied and on my tombstone it read that 'I died for my love'.

I really do love you

You're dumb
You're no fun
Your have crazy, outrageous style
That goes with your disjointed smile
Maybe it's due the fact
That you wear shoes that never match
And you think that you're the world's biggest catch

You will always be far away from society's definition of normal As you boycott formals and you're always hormonal But you've never caught on, to catch the clue That despite what I say I really do love you

I will never show

I love him more and more each day for he is perfect in every way though i never show my feelings on public display for i don't know what i would say would he walk away?
or say he feels the same way
Each day, i try to run away and forget my harbored feelings for him for he is my weakness, that lies within me oh, if only he could see he is my obbession and my world but i could never tell him so for he is with another girl i know and they are happy so im not that girl

Link it up

Link it up between you and me and see if it will become a tradgedy a love comedy or a catastrophe what will it be? the choice is up to you you see will you be there to hold me tight will you make me feel alright will you be there and say you care?

Link up our chemisty will this love be clear to see or will this be like a fairy tale or a tradgedy the question is up to you, you see

Love's Light

So many times I have sat down there watching a happy pair, of lovers walking on a pavement covered in light They had a kind of glow about them it almost looked like true love's light I thought I would never know that tender, loving glow though I wish with all my might....
'was I never made for love's light?' then suddenly a angel has said they couldn't live without me and who's sweet kisses bought me back to life which made my heart seem so light might it be lové's light?

Loving

Loving from afar knowing exactly who you are but you won't know me and you never will for i will hold this secret until my dying day or if i ever go away these feelings are here to stay but once again, another girl comes your way she smiles and giggles and pulls you away i clench my jaw and look away it was never supposed to be this way you where supposed to be mine and be there all the time but because of my stupid pride i will never show you what i feel inside

Mark of the sea

In a sea of blue rises secrets true that pulls few in and gives few back sea of light, sea of dark leave their mark upon my heart

Meant to Be

Blinded by hatred Guided by your love to find a strength not known to me that shows me who i can be Your love sets me free which gives me strength to see that you and me where meant to be

My kind of guy

I wonder if you know
Is it obvious how my feelings show?
I try to keep them down below the depths of my heart
But seeing you sets them apart
And the mumbling begins to start
Though I never seem to know why
You make me feel as if I can fly....
Which lets me know is that you're my kind of guy

Never Belong

I will never fit in I know i'll never win The right to be accepted As i'll only end up hurt and rejected Living each day as if im sedated Not to feel anything real Becuase i don't know how to deal With all the hurt i've gained After spending most of my years in the rain being hurt over and over again by your fake promises hóping for the best that i've passed the test Only to be hurt As these promises turned to lies When you whispered goodbye Leaving me here to die Becuase I know I will never belong You made sure of that When you strung me along Saying i was wrong and you'll make sure I would Never belong

Once upon a lifetime

Once upon a lifetime Leaves us a second a chance To like and grow and become the people who we are So lets not waste our second chance by not being here tonight

Once a lifetime You where mine and is was yours and we held eachover long into the night wishing on a falling star of light that we would stay together through the good and bad

But once upon this lifetime
The promise fell apart because you played with my heart and everything we had apart
Once upon a lifetime

One glance

With just one glare i feel as if i'm not there that my soul is stripped bare because i know you care and all in love is fair

Opposites

Light and dark white and black such polar opposites do they attract or do they repel?

Heaven and hell fire and ice put me under your darkest spell.

Reflection

Trying to survive in a world of hate that will find a way to thrieve trying my best to survive.

Struggling to stay afloat in a dark, unmerciful river just to look in the mirror and accept who i am

Safety

Into the safety of your arms keeps me safe from harm that works like a charm which makes me love you more each time.

Star Crossed Lovers

In a undying wrath of vegence and hatred A young love is created That fights not to be torn apart By their parents foes Living on forever escaping the woes

And as their destinties entwined No one seemed to know why Or how they combined or How their fates became starcrossed A line that was not commonly crossed But those two did Heaven forbid And look what they did As Romeo and Juliet made the bet To love each other from the moment they met And to never forget The love they would share over those three short days As their lives did not last long because When one star dies to other soon follows Which became the lovers case As they took their lives to be togther In another time and life Away from their parents hate and strife

The heart

Goodbyes hurt the heart lies fill the heart breakups burn the heart but love releases it towards a new start

The masks i hide behind

Don't be fooled by how i act don't be fooled by the prosterior i wear for i have thousands of masks though none of them are me

I give the impression that im secure that i'm upbeat and condfident but inside i am really insure

Confidence is my name and cool is my claim i'm the one thats in command but don't believe my lies

Beneath me dwells who i really am alone in darkness and fear i hide this from everybody because i don't want them to know

That i freeze at the thought of my weekness being exposed so this is why i create masks to hide behind to let me pretend to be soemone better than i am to shield myself from their knowing glance but this glance is my salvation the only salvation that i know of if it is dollowd by acceptance and love

But i don't tell anyone, i don't try because i am afraud to speak im afraid your galnce will nt give me the love and acceptance i need

So i begin to show my collection of masks i chatter aimlesly in sauve tones of small talk and i tell you everything that means nothing and nothing of what means everything to me of the battle within

So next time you see this don't be fooled listen to me to hear what i am really sating i don't like to hide...i promise!

I'd really like to be loved, genuine and me but you to help me you have to lend me your hand and understand

Each time you are gentle and kind my heart beats a new hope small at first but it begins to grow with your sensitivity and understanding

You bring life to me i wish to tell you that i want you to know how important you are to me by being the creator of me...if you choose..please..choose me

You alone can break the walls i tremble behind you can remove the masks please dont walk by

I fight for everyting i long for but isn't love stronger then these horrid walls in this, lies my hope bang down my walls and make them crash to the ground but be gentle

Who am i? you may ask for i am soemone you know for i am every man you'll ever meet and for i am every woman you'll ever know.

The music of you and me

Your melody takes hold of me as we become a harmony which echos through my head and heart even though we are worlds apart you'll stay forever in my heart

As your voice rises above the noise its prints its elegent design on to my heart which sets me towards a new start

This life

I soar through this life with wings that where not mine soaring across a violet sky looking down at those who cried then i whispered from the sky do not cry for me for i am free

Two sides

Two sides both alike in power and play are light and dark both impossible to break apart for they both need eachother to survive in the body of which they reside

Walk in the night

I walk in the night away from the light where nothing feels right where i don't possess the strength to fight when will i live my life away from trouble and strife that runs deep through me like a knife

Want to

I want to hear you want to see you want to feel you so why arent you here with me was it something i did or said because it seemed so right so why arent you here tonight

Weakness for you

I will never get him And I can't even try Because I know that He'll just walk on by Not even looking at me in the eye Like I'm not there And why should he care I'm not her But life would be so much better if I was Forever his Instead of the deformity, which is me? An ugly girl for the world to see For being beautiful, was something that I was not meant to be Maybe that why he can't see as it separates his girl from me Can't he get the clue? Can't you get this clue? That I've been through hell For my weakness for you

Why Didn't You Love Me Like You Did Yesterday/Pretend

And as it all came to a end I relised that in doing so I lost a friend and my first boyfriend but it was pretend...he was pretend so it did not take long to mend the supposed parts of my broken heart Becuase I see that you must of hated to spend your time with me when you started to ignore me in the dropp of a hack you went in for the attack leaving me to cry all alone you wouldn't even pick up the phone to explain why but I am okay even though you would not stay i just wish you could of told me' that you didn't love me like you did yesterday

Why should I?

Why should i believe you when all your lies turned out to be true and everything has become undone because you where the one I relied on why should I trust you after all the pain you have caused me becuase you are too blind to see the impact you have on me

Why should I love you and be true when you have never loved me

You Are My Lifeline

You are my lifeline my truth, my light and my knight in shinning armour of love here to show me what love is all about and in doing so you have become part of me making my blood run freely within me at the thought of where we are at and I am loving every moment that we as you are my wish come true here to lift me from the depressing shade of blue

Your Eyes

A sparkling light resides in your eyes full of life, wonder and joy that not one person could destroy and its then when i look into your eyes i realise what wonder lies beneath your eyes
