What's The Point?

What's the point of happiness,
when you know you are going to be blue?

What's the point of love,
if there is always hate?

What's the point of trying,
if they are not going to appreciate?

What's the point of telling the truth,
if they always lead to lies?

What's the point of family and friends,
if they always leave you behind?

What's the point of living,
if all you seek is death?

Wondering

Somewhere around the world
there you are sitting alone.
Wondering where the love of your life is, wondering if he thinks of you, wondering if he still loves you, and wondering
if you will ever see him again!
