As Far As The Eye Can See

Life is being aware; it is seeing God's love breaking through.

As far as the eye can see.

For the sky that's always blue.

For the birds that sometime seem few.

For the butterfly that always looks new.

For the white snow in the winter.

For the Flowers that bloom in spring.

For the Sun that always shines.

For the Moon that always gives light at night.

For the Sun up in the Sky and for the stars that sparkle so bright.
