A Dark Secrete

I have a big dark secret, stored deep inside of me should i tell? should i not? what should it be?
for every day that comes, this big dark secret grows and the fear that i live in takes ahold it will not go, this big dark secret it must be told, this big dark secret so why have i waited for so long? life will never get better if i just play along because this big dark secret destroys my life and it must be told, no matter what the price
