Friend

Friend is good freind is sweet without friend sometime it's like being in a darkness cause sometime a friend can be closer than a family that you have im in a middle of a darkness, i'm calling for help oh please someone help me, but too bad so sad no one can help, i want to scream, i want to shout but still their is no one around to help me, cause i have no friend around to help me it's like me in inside a box their is no day or night, it's just darkness inside out i'm calling please someone help me but no one can hear me, i want to make friend but it's like a little to late, from were i'am in the little world that im leaving in no one can be my friend cause, i want to make friend, i mean why, why do i have to end up like this why all i'm asking is for a friend why darkness why alone why?
