Shattered Heart

I used to think that I loved you,
but then you shattered my heart.
One day you came up to me and told me that I was a slut.
I tried to say that I wasn't,
but you just didn't understand.
For I was the girl that hurt you once,
and never once again.
You told me to leave you alone,
but I didn't dare,
for I was in love with you and didn't care.
I said that I'm in love with you,
but you just stared.
I knew that you were in shock,
but I quite didn't care.
I loved you then and still love you now,
but you shattered my heart
the day you came up to me and called me a slut.

Stop

STOP

Do you see the little children begging for food?

STOP

Do you see the poor people in a good mood?

STOP

Have you ever noticed the homeless?

STOP

Have you ever thought about their loneliness?

To tell you to STOP...

Does that mean anything to you?

STOP...like people say,

is to STOP and never look..STOP!
