Kyle Kerr()

My name is kyle I listen to music all the time and enjoy writing

All These Words

All these words rushing though my head which ones to write and which ones need to be said

I will start by saying your such a good friend you will be the one there for me in the end

I hope to think it could be more someday

I really want to ask you but not to sure just what to say

I like you so much and I think your great

I would love nothing more then to take you on a date

I want to take your hands and kiss u and hold you ever so tight

I want to hold you in my arms for the remainder of the night so I hope u feel the same way or this is just weird

I hope I don't get the answer that i have always feared.

Don'T Give Up Hope

Before you can run you must first learn to walk when ever you're upset just don't sit there and sulk when you don't think that you will ever find true love just don't give up hope and look up above when you look into the sky and see that one shiny star it always makes you feel better knowing you can escape from afar because when you think that no one notices you or never really cared that's just another way of saying I give up and running away scared so when all is said and done and your still starring at that star you know that true love is out there you just never know with who and never know how far

For What Its Worth

not to sure on were to start never really thought it would fall apart nothing lasts for ever and I know that to be true yet I still find my self wanting to love you

And i know that I can't and it's really a shame

I had my chance and blew it as quick as it came it lasted a year so something was right I don't ever think we had a fight but it's over now and to say it was bad would be a lie

I really did love her can't say i didn't try but it happens to the best of us just makes us want to grow so you've made me a stronger person just to let you know.

Happy To Know You

Time is precious and friends are true that's why I'm happy I know you

Though the thick and thin the up's and down's

I know you'll be there to flip my frowns

I really appreciate all the things you have done

Every time we hang out it's always nothing but fun

You make it easy to forget about all the bad things

You are like an angel that wears no wings.

Kyle Kerr

If I Had The Chance

if I had the chance I would hold your hand in mine if I had the chance I would kiss you all the time if I had the chance I would hold your body near if I had the chance I would make you smile from ear to ear if I had the chance I would tell you my love will only grow more if I had the chance I would make sure your the one I'd adore if I had a chance I would do all of these things I swear if I had the chance I would show u how much I really care

if I had the chance.

No Fear

Is this a dream or is it reality

Nothing seems right it all seems fake to me

Loud voices cloud my head to the point were I can't think

The voices tell me to jump will I swim or will I sink

Find a place to get away from it all in your arms I would like to fall

You hold me tight so nothing can harm me

the voices come back only this time stronger

Telling me not to breath this life I have is no longer

I will not give in I will stay strong as long as your here it won't be long

In your arms Is where I feel so clear no voices to yell no voices to hear when I'm with u there's nothing to fear.

Kyle Kerr

Smile

Will you be the one to stay because you care

Will you be the one to say you will always be there because when I look at your face and the smile I hope to see is a smile that would bring my life a little more ease to lift me out of a spiraling slump to put me back on my feet it's as easy as just looking at you knowing you're looking at me i don't think people understand the true power of what a smile can do it can be as simple as warming you're heart to making you happy when you're felling blue

so the next time that I'm feeling upset filled with doubt and fear i know the only medicine that i need is to see you smiling from ear to ear

Something To Forget

December was hell, the worst month ever if god was playing a trick it wasn't to clever a month were heartache and sickness did dwell a dark black hole in which I had fell in there I thought I would stay but I found a little white light to guide my way in you I found a way to stay sane you are the one who took away the pain to try and forget all the bad things that happened that month is going to be tough

but if your by my side it won't be so rough what I think I am trying to say is that u are my angel with no halo or wings.

Thinking Of You

Nothing to say not much more to do except to sit here thinking of you

The way that you laugh and the way u smile is enough to bring me out of denial

When you say I love you in my heart I know it's true

The way you look at me and take my Hand no other person could understand

That what we have in all of this is true love from the first kiss

As I look in your eyes and the sparkle that I see is that you and I were meant to be

Now as I hold you in my arms and whisper in your ear that my love will only grow for you year after year.

Time Heals All Wounds

laying in bed, eyes open, just cant sleep i listen real hard but don't hear a peep the only thing i hear at this moment in time is all the thoughts racing though my own mind but it will all be okay just wait and see i just can't let the thoughts and drama get to me i try to block it out the best that i can let it run though my fingers like wet sand but it's harder then I ever thought it would be to do just give it some time, it heals all wounds.
