My Mother

My Mother

The breeze of love that blows over me

And the sea of sacrifice.

That is my mother

The image of love and purity.

She shows me the path of virtue

And the way to heaven

The way of thorns and stones.

When I fell into the thorns of my life

She wipes of the tears my mother

The one who makes me walk over

The hot stones baked by the sun's heat

My mother

She is the one who makes me cheer

And the one who calls me dear

It's my mother, the image of love

And the one who is a dove

The symbol of peace.
