megan brixey()

I was born i southern California and Threw out my life so far have moved may times. I'm still quite young but have moved enough times for an 80 year old.

I love to write and think of stories. When I write poems it can be wherever I am ad at random times, it just come to my head when I'm in a deep state of thought.

Addiction

Its something that won't stop in my head.
Something I long for,
Something you do.
It's an addiction,
an addiction for love.
And I cant stop this addiction.

Life?

I have seen it happen.
I have read stories about it.
It seems to be everywhere I am and in whatever I read.
I run and run but it just keeps chasing after me.
I call for help,
I even scream.
It wont leave, It wont leave!
I want to stop and let it take me away,
but i know there's a reason why I'm not stopping.

Maybe it's someone I will meet along the way that is also running.
Maybe it's the places I will see.
Or maybe just what will happen in the future.
It's a mystery.
Lets not stop and we will see.

One Day, One Love

It's everywhere.

See, over there!

and there!

Everywhere I look I see them standing there,
in a place so nice and warm.

I long to be in that place one day.

Maybe just maybe, I'll be there soon.
