

Poetry Series

Riley Parker
- poems -

Publication Date:
2014

Publisher:
Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Riley Parker()

Hey everyone. I'm probably not so good at this poem writing thing but I still enjoy doing it. All of my poems will normally come of the top of my head, most of them will not be the happiest either because I'm not a happy person. My poems are the side of me that I don't usually show.

Lost

Not lost like a dog who ran away
Lost in a way where I don't know where to stay.
I wander in places I've seen before
But I can never seem to reach the doors.
My friends all go and leave
I've followed behind, that's what they believe.
Why don't they look back
A good person am I? Everything I lack.
Confused and lost
Back and forth my hearts been tossed.
I feel so closed in but the world is so large
In the small room, back and forth I charge.
I'm lost
Don't find me now, not at any cost.

Riley Parker