Sapna Agrawal(14 July 1983)

I ve been writing since when i myself don't know. I was a fun loving person with lots of emotions, feelings and love in me. I am singal mother, which was one of the reasons to leave my thought in me and not shaping them as poetry. Now, this is an intense feeling coming back on this platform and finding life and love agian in my words.

Emotions

My heart chokes my throat
My throat wet my eyes
This is where my love lies

Sapna Agrawal

End Or Beginning

In dreams I see you
But reality its drops of dew

Words are unheard
Questions are unanswered

I needed your care
But you are not there

When I felt it's an end
I wished past could amend

Some feelings were floating
Let me call this end a beginning

Heaven

Its not important to go to heaven after you die
but to create heaven for someone on this earth
Will be worth

Sapna Agrawal

Hide

In quest of hiding my emotions
Those intense feelings wet my cheeks
I was searching for god in the blue heaven
With the drip of shower I then found a solution
Contemporary - rain and tears

Image

The gleam of face should never be traced
In mind their should be a place where one can grace
Your heart should always sound, For the one you have found so let it not preclude with the lovely bound

Sapna Agrawal

Love

If you love someone
Just tell him
At the most he will say no
But atleast you knoe that he knows

Sapna Agrawal

Love Yourself

We hurt ourself to love others
But till then we dont love ourself how can we love others
At the end of the day its we who is being hurt

Sapna Agrawal

Moments

How content I am with you
This togetherness will always be new

The proximity I feel
Is not possible to reveal

My thoughts were at edge
Breathe in me was hedge

With his one glance
My eyes dripped by chance

Those words I read
Certainly "love can be cured by marriage" is well said.

My Heart

My thoughts are deeper than you think
My love is eternal and can never shrink

The tinge colours on my wings
Express all my feelings

I wished my mind could rule my heart and can blossom life's part

It's the pain that you cannot see
Cannot gather words to describe it humbly

For me love has no description
But it's important for every breath and notion

My Life

Though I have found you
Yet my heart shrinks
A confounded feeling
The trust that I have is dribbling

I may have an alternate
But you are my soul mate
Raise that hand
Make me yours before it end

My thoughts are crossing miles
The agony in me is taking away my smile
My heart wrenches to be close to you
To express this love the words are few

Sapna Agrawal

Proximity

My body showers your fragrance
Every breath i take has your taste
Feeling your touch makes me glow
Those soft words now echo
The dew drops on my lips has warmth of your heart
With bowed eyes when i think of you
I squeeze in me the moments that i value

Sail

My emotions talk louder than my voice

My painting depicts I am hollow

Sail me through the sea

Almighty I am on my knee

Sapna Agrawal

Tears

My heart chokes my throat
My throat wet my eyes

With You

When I close my eyes I see you
When I open my eyes I miss you
When I think of past I feel you
When I am in my present I need you
But somehow I am with you

This is for you my hubby may u RIP
