Sarah Holmes(11/09/1984)

I have always enjoyed writing poems about different aspects of life.

As you can see from my work i like to rhyme within my poems.

I would like to thank all the people who helped me write these poems without even realising it. If they hadn't come into my life, i wouldnt have written a poem about how i felt.

I would like to dedicate them to my daughter Rebecca. She is a star. Love you.

A Crazy Little Thing Called Love

I used to know what love was,
I'd say all of the time.
I'd get that butterfly feeling,
Knowing they were mine.

Now what is love?
The meaning isn't true.
It's not something you say,
More something that you do!

Its become more than a feeling,
It's almost a way of life.
But when they have a broken heart,
They may just then think twice.

What is love to me?
Truth that has been bent
A meaningless feeling,
A word that's never meant

Baby Girl

A tiny little life,
Growing inside of me.
It's just so amazing,
The changes that you see.

Those small fingers,
Her tiny little toes.
Every inch of skin,
And her button nose.

Everyone who sees her,
Says what a beautiful baby.
She our special little thing,
Mummy little lady.

I can't believe how she's grown,
She's changing all the time.
Daddy's little angel,
Forever on our minds.

Death By Bullying

Will you cry at her funeral,
Will you feel guilty if you knew?
That's she's lying in this coffin,
And it's all because of you.

Those weeks at school,
I'll never forget.
That horrible day,
When you and her met.

Every evening she would come home,
And tell me of her day.
How her life had no sunshine,
It was just dark and grey.

I'd tell her every morning,
God loves you all the same.
But she couldn't understand,
If he loved her, then why all this pain?

I never thought my darling girl,
Would do that to her self.
All I have are memories,
And that picture on our shelf.

She told me her troubles,
I listened but didn't act.
If only I had done more,
Then I could have my daughter back.

TO ALL THOSE PARENTS OUT THERE,
WHO LISTEN BUT DON'T SPEAK.
MY CHILD DIED OF BULLYING, LETS STOP IT,
OR IT COULD BE YOURS NEXT WEEK.

Ever Since You Said Those Words

I used to hate love,
It meant nothing to me.
Just a load of bad thoughts,
And a mistake I now see.

It's different now,
As the words come from you.
When you say it,
The meaning is true.

It was different with him,
They were just words,
It was something I said,
Not something I often heard.

You go out your way,
To show that you care.
You say my heart.
You'll never tear.

I hope that you mean it,
And keep what you say.
Or it will be me,
Who will have to walk away.

Friendship With God

When you make that friendship,
They can see it in your eyes.
The love that fills your heart,
It makes you want to cry.

You know Gods always there,
To help you through bad days.
And you will be stronger together,
He will be with you always.

There are times when you're sad,
And you think that he's gone.
But he still there right beside you,
His love will carry on.

If you trust in him,
He will always be your friend
He will wrap his love around you
And be with you till the end.

Here Or There?

I saw you today,
But you're not here.
I don't believe in ghosts,
So there is nothing to fear.

Am I going crazy?
Or hoping for another night.
To say I am sorry,
And maybe we were right.

I'm listening to our song,
I don't know why.
I feel all funny,
But there are no tears to cry.

It's been so long,
Since I saw you last.
I guess that's why
I'm leaving my feelings in the past.

I need to know what happened,
Have you gone to the sky?
Someone tell me the truth,
So I can say goodbye.

Sarah Holmes

Hush Now

Dry your eye's child,
Don't let them see you cry.
Hide away your fears,
Keep them lock inside.

Don't worry my angel,
I am here to stay.
I'll keep you safe forever,
And protect you each day.

Hush now my baby,
Its time for a goodnight.
I'll be waiting in the morning,
You know you'll be aright.

So dry those eyes sugar,
Sleep until you wake.
When we can be together again.
This love will never break.

I Stare Up At The Cross

I stare up at the cross,
And uncontrollably cry.
I need to find an answer,
Why did you have to die?

I know I didn't deserve it,
For you to die for me.
It's something I'll have to accept,
It's the way it had to be.

I've done so much wrong,
He can't forgive it all.
I suppose I should pray about it,
Then maybe he'll answer my call.

Did you really love me that much?
To pay the ultimate price.
To deliver me from sin,
Your son you'd sacrifice.

I guess I've got my answer,
To why you had to die.
So I'll just stare at the cross,
And uncontrollably cry.

Sarah Holmes

I'd Be Lying...

I'd be lying if I said I didn't love you,
I'd be lying if I said I didn't care.
But I'm sitting here in the darkness,
Knowing you're not there.

You said you'd never leave me,
You said you'd never go away.
But I'm crying into my pillow,
Knowing I can't stay.

I'm wishing this wasn't real,
I'm wishing we didn't have to part.
I'm sitting listening to our favourite song,
Knowing I'm dying of a broken heart.

I'd be lying if I said I didn't love you,
I'd be lying if I said you should go.
But I'm wishing I could have only told you,
How much I love you so.

Imaginary Guy

There's so many things that I'd like to do,
If I got to have a moment with you.
We'd watch the sunset or catch a show,
Then it would be time for me to go home.
But it's just pretend.

So many things in my life have gone wrong,
But you've always been there to help me along.
We'd walk in the park or talk on the phone,
Then it would be time for me to go home.
But it's just pretend.

You've had all my friends and now you want me,
But you know every mistake and why you became free.
You used to tell me it would be alright,
And then it would be times for me to say good night.
But it's just pretend.

You never liked me before so why do you now,
I'll get to the bottom of this somehow.
We will talk things over and you may sigh,
When I have to tell you this is goodbye.
Because it's just pretend.

Sarah Holmes

In Pieces

I'm breaking the mirror,
There's nothing to see.
I won't have to look at....
That image of me.

I'm in a thousand pieces,
Who'll mend the crack?
There's nobody here,
To put the pieces back.

My dreams are shattered
And my heart is too.
Although we are over,
I still think of you.

I'm leaving this mess,
One day it will mend.
We might not be lovers,
But at least we are friends.

There is no reflection,
There is nothing to see.
Just a blurred broken image,
Of something that looks like me

Sarah Holmes

It Started With...

It started with a look,
That turned into a smile.
He held me in his arms,
And we cuddled for awhile.

As we embraced,
I knew I couldn't hide.
This exciting feeling,
Like magic was inside.

It started with a smile,
That turned into a touch.
I never really knew,
I wanted you this much.

I felt your hand,
Stroke my hair.
I knew there was something,
A feeling was there.

It started with a touch,
That turned into a kiss.
I never thought we'd have,
A moment like this.

You said to me,
That you weren't too sure.
But I knew by that kiss,
You wanted so much more.

It started with a kiss,
That turned into a night.
When you touched my skin,
My heart took flight.

You made me feel special,
One night was all it took.
I watched you walk away,
As it ended on a look.

Sarah Holmes

I'Ve Darken Heaven's Skies

My angels floated away,
I've closed heavens door.
You've left me in tears,
As you don't want me anymore.

You took away my heart,
And I want it back mine.
But you've always had it with you.
Ever since you said that line.

I didn't want it to be like this,
You said you'd never go.
Now I know how you feel,
But I will always love you so.

I see you every day,
And it tears my heart.
Ever since you took your love away.
And tore me apart.

Sarah Holmes

Lost

Trees blow in the wind,
Tears fall from their eyes.
As another day without them,
Carries on by.

Watching people go on,
I don't know how they can.
When there's so much hurt and pain,
In this mixed up little land.

The rain carries their fears,
The wind carries their pain.
As nothing in their life,
Ever seems to change.

The world carries on turning,
Their feeling they try to hide.
Even though everyone knows,
That they're dying inside.

Sarah Holmes

Men

Each time I have a guy,
They capture my heart.
They mess with my emotions.
Then tear it apart.

They want so much more,
They hate the word no.
They want to go places,
You don't want those hands to go.

You try to push away,
But it hurts you all the more
When they mess with your head,
Then show you the front door.

Even though we learn a lesson,
We go back if given the chance.
But those boys are always mean
And never give you a second glance.

We still go back for more,
And play loves little game.
Even though us girls know,
They will all turn out the same!

Sarah Holmes

Next Girl

I hope I never meet,
The next girl in his life.
She may be the one,
Who won't win the fight.

I don't want to tell her,
What is in store.
What will go on,
Behind closed doors.

He will make her feel special,
With just one line.
He will change though,
All it takes is time.

When we argued,
He wouldn't just shout.
He'd grip me tight,
So I couldn't get out.

Bedroom activities,
Were on demand.
Because "no" was a word,
He didn't understand.

I knew I had to leave,
I could not stay.
I won the fight,
She may not get away.

He does a great act,
But it's all pretend.
Hopefully she'll realise.
And bring things to an end.

Sarah Holmes

The End

I don't want to leave you,
I don't want to walk away.
But I have no choice,
I just can't stay.

Please don't say you're sorry,
please don't say you love me so.
It will hurt you all the more,
When I have to go.

You want this to work,
You want us to carry on.
But somehow it can't,
It's just all wrong.

I can't cope with not knowing,
I can't cope with him and you.
I guess this is over,
I suppose we are through.

I didn't think I'd say this,
I didn't think we wouldn't last.
I need to forget this,
And put us in the past.

I just can't leave you,
I just can't walk away.
But I know I have no choice,
I just can not stay.

Sarah Holmes

The Truth

Why didn't I see the truth,
Everything you said was lie.
There's nothing left for me to do,
Just tears for me to cry.

You messed around with my head,
Played games with my heart.
Then you run a mile from me,
And leave me torn apart.

I wish I didn't know you,
I wish we had never come to be.
There no point in wishing,
Just a mistake that now I see.

I should have known from the start,
That you would NEVER be true.
Well you lost any chance there was,
Of there ever being a me and you.

Sarah Holmes

Thoughts Of You

I shouldn't be thinking,
Of someone else instead.
But for some reason,
You're stuck in my head.

I can't still like you,
Not after all the time.
So why am I reminiscing
Of when you were mine.

We were good together,
So everyone would say.
I guess they didn't see me,
Giving you away.

You've moved on from us.
And so have I,
But something still hurts,
Which makes me want to cry.

No going back,
We agreed that was right,
So why am I hoping,
For just one more night.

We're friends now,
Closer than before.
Our past is over.
We've closed that door.

I will get over this,
My thoughts won't last
I just need to leave us,
Buried in our past.

Sarah Holmes

Waiting

Waiting,
It's all I used to do.
Waiting,
Waiting for you.

Every second,
An hour,
Every minute,
A day.
And when we were together,
Time slipped away.

Everything,
A reminder.
Everything,
Brings the pain.
I wish I could see you,
And hear you call my name.

Friendship all gone now,
Love has been lost.
Where are you now?
Somewhere I'm not.

All I have are memories,
Locked up inside,
And to my angel
I'll say...
Goodbye.

When I' M Not There

Somebody else will be looking in my mirror,
Somebody else will be brushing their hair.
Somebody else will be loving my baby,
When I'm not there.

Somebody else will be hold his hand,
Somebody else will be sitting in my chair.
Somebody else will be playing my piano,
When I'm not there.

Somebody new will be kissing my baby,
Somebody new will be climbing these stairs.
Somebody new will be walking down my street,
When I'm not there.

Somebody new should be remembering me,
Somebody new might just care.
Somebody new will look after my baby,
When I' m not there.

Sarah Holmes

Where Are You?

I need you right now,
But you've not there.
It makes me feel like,
You just don't care.

You said you'd be here,
Though it all.
So why are you watching,
As I fall?

I'm hurting so much,
But where are you?
I simply just don't,
have a clue.

Have you forgotten,
Who I am?
Or do you really,
Not give a damn?

Why am I doing this,
On my own?
All you have to do,
Is pick up the phone.

I just need to know,
that you are here.
To make this pain,
just disappear.

You're not though,
This much is true.
Maybe I'll give up,
On me and you?

Sarah Holmes

White Wedding

I'm standing at the back,
Waiting for it to begin.
As I walk down the aisle,
My eyes are fixed on him.

I never saw this day,
Running quite like this.
As I say my vows,
And seal them with a kiss.

We walk hand in hand,
Married for life.
I can't quite believe it,
That I am now his wife.

Dancing to our song,
I'm holding you so tight.
As you whisper softly,
That I'm wonderful tonight.

Our day is almost over,
We have so much to share.
We celebrated our love,
And showed how much we care.

I snuggle up beside you,
Our marriage has just begun.
As we lie close together,
And watch the setting sun.

Sarah Holmes

You Again

Your there again, haunting me,
Was hurting me not enough?
You thought you'd leave your mark here,
So I could never forget you.

I want to shut it off,
Find the off switch for emotions.
But I can't though,
You can't switch off love.

You've destroyed who I was,
Because you were my everything.
I can't find myself again,
As I think you have the missing piece.

I know you have her,
And you say we don't work.
But I think we could,
If you'd only give it one more try.

Yet our decision is final,
Although we made it in haste.
I guess I'm left alone,
Haunted by our memories.
