

Poetry Series

william foos
- poems -

Publication Date:
2007

Publisher:
Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

william foos()

Tomorrow Is Not Forever, Thank God!

Thoughts are being clouded
Over past the mountain tops
Masking the halls of justice
Old ways seem for the good
Right past the rivers of blood
Revelations should be red
Oh for the misery of humanity
We should pray

In the name of the Creator
Sins may be forgiven if you show remorse

Not for being self justified
Only tears fall from heaven
Trust me on that

Fight for peace
Only do not pick up any arms
Rightousness has supream power
Each deamon shall fall
Very powerful if the prayer when done correctly
Enrich your open heart
Reach your hand up to the father

Tell the Creator our demand for peace
Hold up your voice like the angelic trumpets
And just maybe our plea shall be granted
Now we need not all perrish into the firey pit
Kingdom's gate shall be open

Great and powerful
Our prayers rise to you oh Lord
Dedicate yourselves to peace

william foos