

Poetry Series

Alexander J Johnson
- poems -

Publication Date:

2018

Publisher:

Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Alexander J Johnson()

The Long Road Ahead

Not sure where im going but I know where I have been Im not turning back down that road ever again
Im gonna make a name for myself just wait and see
Sooner or later everyone is gonna know the real me
So sit back and let it happen, let m show u how its done
Im gonna make it big for me and for my son

Alexander J Johnson

Twisted Love

I've been broken, I've been shattered and I've been used
I've been played, I've been left alone and my heart has been bruised
I have loved with all I've had and I've had all I loved
Just sometimes in this crazy world, love just isn't enough
I've had good days and I've had bad
I've been sad, I've been happy and i have been mad
I've been cut, I have bled, and I've had my scars wide open
I've said enough, I've said a little and not enough words have spoken
I've gave my all, I gave my heart high upon on a silver platter
But when it comes to a 4 letter word we call love, does it reallymatter

Alexander J Johnson