(aric Jones) Could I Ever

Could I ever hope to have a person like you a man like you someone I could love and cherish and just be real with could I be ever so loyal and honest and true and grow with you from my black to gray shall I rest beside you and hold you close to me in times of need to stare in your eyes and know that im safe someone I could leave and know I could always return but from you I get nothing nothing but the bitter brush off of a simple friendship anger boils through me but I cant do nothing it dispells before I can explode and there no release like a ballon with a leak you witness this so leak will I ever be full again I'll never know but what I do know is we could never be I could never be

A Dark And Stormy Night

A dark and stormy night each one is the same I'm crying in an empty room calling out your name. A light shines through a window an image of your face I start walking towards you but soon the image fades. raindrops beating downward poisoned red with blood bang against the ground a symbol of our love. lightning strikes the sky I scream of desperate fear I'm yelling for your help but you're no longer there. In the corner of the room In the middle of the storm Is a flame of burning fire

I built to keep me warm. but the fire is a memory burning through my eyes I try to put it out but memories do not die. I'm searching for a door But there's no way to escape When again near the window An image of your face. My eyes close tight As I 'm reaching out to you Blood squirts on the glass As my shaking arm breaks through. Looking at the storm and the darkness of the clouds I think of you so deeply These words I say aloud, 'You can call me a freak or some weird kid'

Allen gill

A Whisper

I hear your voice low and slow in my ear as I weild my bow ready for the blow thinking of our tranquile love and remember your soleum touch holding you in my arms whispering our secrets running through the fields of korn running past the wheat barrels roll i hear now as a whisper so low and slow your sprirt whispers to me.

Ak For You I Call Lover

Your beauty and grace, Are all but bitter your rough but gentle skin is what I wish to caress at night. As I sleep by your side as we sit and dream by one another by your request all things are done you make me feel good enough it's been such a long time since I've felt this way about another you hold me in your arms and to here the words I love you I just place my hand onto your side and pull you close you whisper unto me " There's no other by my side but you I Love you I can't say no to" you talk to me oh so sweetly and I wonder am I truly good enough basking in your ambient beauty I say " My Love for you burns like the intensity of one-thousand super- nova's and that your what wakes me in the morning and lay me to sleep under the stars " Your warm decadent hands and body are all I see and dream of under the blanketed silhouette of my dreams you are truly good enough and I'm blessed to have you by my side Alexx J, Kennedy.

Am I Evil! ! !

Darkness rains in my heart Darkness bleeding from my soul Darkness and cold run against my skin Darkness grows and blooms through my skin

Where have I been? What have I been? What will I do?

Anger and hate grow and boom how long will this darkness loom before i rest in this shallow tomb

Am I evil am i the dark one ready to be reborn with my horns

What am I

Allen gill

Away

Away and so far I feel so alone

Taken away from the shards of my home

Memories are all I have sacred items lost afar

Winds carry, Water moves, earth destroys and buries away while the fire burns all around

I've lost it all no need to return painful memories are all that lay

Allen gill

Bitten

I held you too close I kept you within unsuspecting and willing I've been bitten little blood not so weak life within me gone away falling to the floor searing pain a burning a yearning you drank me dry like the one before me but breathed knew life unto thy souless corspe a walking demon a monster by face but I still fight and though I know I cannot love my heart beats for you in life and death.

Allen gill

Bleeding Heart

I Dedicate this Poem to the Woman who made me Bleed

In my heart that once Held love Past the Gate of my forgotten loves where you stood with the key now lays a barren patch of land I called you once my lover, now you I've been betrayed Cut out and raped of my love unappreciated and so disrespected Near death i crave for Life even while you have your foot upon my neck My heart is bleeding with pain and regret and the sorrow for which i'm pained I can't stop crying I need you so cause without you my life was incomplete but without now i see what i was and now i see what i am you won't keep me Down Anymore your shallow moans and crys shall burden me no more I'm the beast now the dark heart I'm.....

Allen gill

Cross Roads

I stand alone along this highway wondering if i'll die this way seeing you come and drive past me our roads crossed haveing secret dreams through tearful nights thinking of you is what got me by seeing you kept me alive and helped me strive day by day and through the nights is all i truely thought about our roads have crossed.

Distorted Mind

Clouds rain and tears fall lies blind and horrors unfold life breaks down between me and live no more traped in limbo with this sleazy bimbo trapped in the pain to suffer once more damn I feel like a whore i cant take this much more but there are things i must do where do I go what do I truely stand for in life decisions clouded and my eyes bleed red heed the decisions of life cause you may hinder your own

Allen gill

Fatal

Spartic reactions hateful decisions, exact precision a painful incision cut you outta my life with the black iron knife i cut these ends and seperate this fatal parasite from thee

My Time Has Ended

My Time is up
This bind is undone
No longer shall in look to find this love

Things Happen Is Life That We Must Always Be Ready For!

You know how are parents are always trying to say that there just preparing us for the real world, well be thankful things happen they've been through it if not everything. Something's in life you must prepare for and see it in a new way for me, I see life as a book life like a book and not just an ordinary one it's one of those that you must take your time reading. Otherwise you'll miss something really important there's always a detail or something to learn, but as you turn the page in your mind you say oh or yeah like your understanding or likeness. Unfortunately some people never get to there story weather it is by accident or purpose, and as friends and family or just associates we all have to be ready for life. Sometimes life can end in a heartbeat or prolonged suffering I say to you never underestimate the person next to you, cause they could be going through a lot more than yourself. Sometimes the smartest guys is only that way because he escapes to a library to get away from his parents, arguing or complain on the things that he or she has no control over which may also apply to the most athletic person. Some of have friends whom we may entrust to hold or secrets and share our pain, others do not I Allen gill jr ask that we as students of Glenville high school don't just look at him or her but as brother and sister. Let go of this pain and hate for they blind you from the happiness you could have in life. I know sometimes we want to yell and scream but we need to keep converting that energy to something more useful, but sometimes we have to be ready cause here comes that curve ball from life whereas we just explode because people are dumping there problems on us. We try so hard to help them that we forget about ourselves so what im trying to say is be ready for life, just prepare things will happen no ones life is prefect not even for celebrities so don't just say "oh I'm going to be a celebrity when I graduate" life is so much harder than what we may think the time and effort to make dreams come true comes at such a great cost I ask are you ready to spend the time needed or will you end up on the corner we all have the potential to do so much more with our lives don't let other people be your fall from fame I ask you to stand up and be you Glenville students and staff.

at the pearly gates where all is truth and when you come and I see your shining face I know there's a God because he made you

Allen gill

Why Do I Feel This Way

So hollow and cold weak from despair depression falls like winters snow
why do i feel this way
left in the cold banished from your home i feel so alone am i to roam the cities night seeking your stolen touch am i find the others i dont know i cant seek help for they arent just arent their i cant do this any longer this pain is too much

Allen gill

Why I Continue This Selfless Torture

This love I have for you is undying and unrelentless It burdens my heart and tears at my soul this agonizing pain I've grown accustomed to for it's a love and a hate for a fact that because you won't have me is the reason it hates and even when you're alone you'd still not have me though I cry for your burning touch to make me feel alive you won't look at me with the same passion I have you'd rather wait and rape your Ex then settle for the fact if we were together you'd not have to fight maybe but I'd always love after seven years and still loving you such a fool but you're my fool and I truly love you

Allen Gill

William R. Holloway (Maybe A Haiku)

Theirs no other friend like this friend of mine Is there no clue to how much i care for you Might as strong as will of Greenlaturrn Energenic as the children the ponder in play

Yet Again

I shall not be your slave no more, I'm so tired of being hurt by your hand this shall not continue this day I fight back. I shall no longer tolerate or be consumed by your hurtful ambitions' and suicidal thoughts; we live no longer as one but forever more as two bodies. I once beloved in you no longer does my beating heart reside with you, and as you see me walk away yet again you try to stop me. For you heart and mind are in a clashing state of remorse and hate, I can no longer stand by you; but know that the time we spent I once did love but for now I shall only see the eternal truth. Once blinded I now see the light, and out of the darkness I see the beast you truly are never again. Through me yet I shall never be, with thee again.

Allen gill

You Slut

How could you be so underhanded, how dare you steal my love you were the one I trusted and cared for, you were the one lost in the truths and dares i just wanna rip out your hair and make you as ugly as you look to me you stole what i loved you'll die in the hole i've buried for you my love is lost your not the boss you will pay

For the lovers who lost there lover by a friend, Co-worker, neighbor, whatever
