

Poetry Series

Alvin Williard Aquino
- poems -

Publication Date:

2019

Publisher:

Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Alvin Williard Aquino(12/05/1984)

Who is Alvin Williard Aspuria Aquino?

Alvin Williard, Aspuria Aquino, a thinker, and a poet, was born December 05,1984 in Garcia, Tubao La Union, Philippines. His wonderful loving parents are; Perlita Aspuria Aquino, a retired elementary school teacher of the Philippines and Severino Laroya Aquino, a retired Philippine military father. He migrated to San Jose California on December 23,1997. He is married to Marry-Ann Corpuz Aquino an elementary school teacher from Moncada, Tarlac Philippines on July 08,2010.

Growing up as a young man, he has very sensitive emotional feelings. His inside emotions and fire are analogous for the compulsive and Intense heat. This earned him the nickname Alvintensity. The creative thinker is easily be angered that leads him to a lot of trouble, but on the positive side, he loves reasonably and he lasts in a love relationship. He is a spiritual human being and has a reason to love music and exotic foods. He likes the color gold and the number seven and has meaning for his belief. Life has been hard for him as he struggles from a lack of opportunity. Also, he adds from his struggle as he got involved from one of his friend's drama. He struggles to live in America the land of opportunity that all Filipinos in the Philippines dreamt of living. He seeks answers to why is this happening to him, as he knows that everything that happened has a reason. This also leads him to search for the answer to his longing questions. 'What is the reason, why is he in this world? .' After learning from his co-workers and cousin that something was wrong in this world he started researching. This leads him to a spiritual journey through meditation. After learning his sixth sense he started a spiritual awakening that changes his born belief and how he views the world. He is working to write his own Poetry book that he will treasure for the rest of his life as he answers all his questions.

Words of view from Alvin:

'Poems are not just words to read, it is to understand who and what is going on in the world through the point of view of a Poet. A Poet has a better understanding and sees the world differently from others. A poet's goal is to express deeply and intensely how he feels and how he sees the world and what is going on accurately. Poetry is the most versatile form of art in writing to intensely express emotion and its subjects, but it is the hardest part to master. In fact, As you learn how to write poetry and you think you are getting good at it it will open a new book for another lesson. Its challenges are limitless like them Soduko and crossword puzzle. I try not to look myself as better than other people who write poems because that will put a limit to my improvement, but I try to exceed the expectations to surprise any doubters.'

" Sincerity for a Masterpiece."

What and who inspired him to be a Rapper and a Poet?

'I fall in love with Poetry by reading researched poems and watching the works of legendary Poets on YouTube. I love the drama and emotions it brings and also loves the riddle and puzzle it wants to express. I have been writing poems since I'm at high school but just kept it to myself as a diary of emotions a self mirror to improve myself behavior. I went into rapping in 2004 by the inspiration of Death Threat a mainstream Rap Group in the Philippines and to express what I feel inside. I was part of an underground Tagalog rap group Kanang Kamay Right Hand and we performed at the stage by the help of Koponang Kulapo a Filipino Underground rap group from Vallejo California. Rapping was a good experience it helped me a lot. Rapping is a very tough rocky road that brings experiences that sharpens a dull blade. My wife Mary Ann was one of my great inspirations to write this love poem from my heart. 'I'm doing this for my passion and to prove myself to any of you doubters and of course to myself. Right now my main goal as a Poet is to spread the love and light the truth.'

Dream's Destination

Reflection to know thyself took
A day to go by in the bay
Correction to grow myself look
I say got to be in this way

Waves of tides to the airy quest
I am the one to walk my life
Graves of minds to the weary test
Triumphant and do watch my light

Alvin Williard Aquino

The Sun Walks The Water

Reflection to know thyself took
A day to go by in the bay
Correction to grow myself look
I say got to be in this way

Waves of tides to the airy quest
I am the one to walk my life
Graves of minds to the weary test
Triumphant and do watch my light

Alvin Williard Aquino

Twin Flames Love Poem

Candles light up my book ago, but fire's lit cease at a wind blow.
Breaking my fire when candle's drip,
praying for my true twin flame's heat

Blissful when GOD lit my twin flame satisfied no more funny game.

I can't read my book without it
praying for my true twin flame's heat.

No matter how hard wind may blow nor other dainty candles glow, my fire's heat only to one lit
praying for my true twin flame's heat.

Candle's light has infinite bright
With true eternal Twin Flame's light.

Alvin Williard Aquino