Alone

I am waiting for you
But you never come to see me
In the place that we met for the last time

Baby please comes back to me
There is something that I want to tell you
Before the darkness is coming to close my heart
Then kill my soul which needs you

Listen, I am still sitting in the seat
With the clouds that are crying for me
Like the rain gives water to the flower then will die if there is no water

I am just a human
Who will always struggle and fight
No matter how many problems are joint
To destroy or makes me stronger in this land

Please forgive what I've done to you
Who ever hurt your heart
