Oh my dearly Africa

What have we done to you

They've made you

A savage

They've made you

Ruthless

Even though

You were always kind

Oh my dearly Africa.

It was the whites

Now its Jacob Zuma

And Robert Mugabe's wife

Oh my dearly Africa

Africa forgive them

Give them many chances

Until they come to their consciences

Oh my dearly Africa.

Africa is your mother land

Black men and women

It was peaceful until they came.

Black Lives Matter

Its hard to be a black person

In this world

Because you always being abused

Black lives matter.

I am not being racist

But whites always acted as victims

For example take a look at P.W Botha

He acted as a victim of racism and the world believed that.

Being black its hard

But im proud to be black

If it wasn't

I wouldn't write this poem

In Marikana

Black lives were taken

In America

White police takes a black life

But why a black life?

Black lives matter.

Death

Do I have to blame death?

Do I have to defy death?

Some things are meant to happen

Even though

They break our hearts.

We can't blame death

But who can we blame

God

Or mother nature

I don't know yet.

Death comes in many ways

Then tell me who's next in line

Is it my mother?

Is it my aunt?

Is it my grandma?

Or is it my entire family?

Mother nature is a serial killer

That kills in front of people.

We can't say

Satan is a killer

Because he only manipulates our minds

I pray to God

Not to take me now

Because there are things

I need to do

Before I perish in this world.

Friendship

A friend is a brother or sister

A friend is shoulder to cry on

A friend is someone to lean on

A friend never judges you

A friend is your other half.

I want to have a friendship

Like sasuke and naruto

They like fighting

No one wants to be surpassed between them

That's what I call friendship

But do I have a best friend?

I use to call her a friend

But now she is angry at me

I guess our friendship is over

My goal was to be fixated to her

She never gave me that chance.

She use to call me

Bully

I use to call her

My little dwarf

Maybe our friendship was never meant to be.

A friend is a brother or sister

A friend is shoulder to cry on

A friend is someone to lean on

A friend is your other half.

Like sasuke and naruto

They like fighting

No one wants to be surpassed between them

That's what I call friendship

But do I have a best friend?

I use to call her a friend

But now she is angry at me

I guess our friendship is over

My goal was to be fixated to her

God

How can I forget you

When you've gave me

Many chances in life

I have sinned many times

But still you forgave me.

People say

When you do bad

You wont enter heaven

But what if you believe in God

Isn't that enough

To enter in heaven

I believe that

I will enter heaven

Not because I go to church

But because I believe in him.

God is the most powerful person

Even Satan Has nothing on him

He is our creator

In this wicked world.

I Forbid Love

I act like
I don't want you
I forbid my eyes to look at you
But it seems
I can't pretend forever
It's a fact that
You are beautiful
But not the most beautiful girl in the world
I don't want to involve myself into love
Because I've seen many
Being abused by love
Being raped by love
I don't want to be a victim of love
The worst thing is that
You can't report love
To the police
Love attracts you
In many ways
I forbid love in my life.

I Have A Dream

Once a leader

And a veteran said these words

I have a dream

He didn't have a dream

The dream had him

Without him

The dream wouldn't exist.

People think

When you have a dream

Is always about fantasy life

There's a dream of change

There's a dream of rich

And there's a dream of reaching a goal

Dreams do come true

But it's your choice

To make that dream of yours

To come true

Every mortal has a dream.

I Love You Mom

Without you I wouldn't be great

Without you I wouldn't be eating today

You are an angel

You are a queen

And you are a soldier

I love you mom.

People usually say

I write

What I like

People usually

Disrespect their mothers

But I won't be those people

I will always respect you

Because you build me

To a person

I am today mom

I love you.

To my life

You are an oxygen

Without you I would die

I love you mom.

Jcole

I look up to you

And I consider you as my mentor

Every word I hear from your songs

I understand it

You are such an inspiration

Dreamville is lucky to have you.

Only if South Africa had rappers like you

I see you as the next king of hip hop

I would never let you down

And ill try to make you proud.

I know that

This poem may not reach you

But I will try by many means

This poem reaches you

The most thing I like about you

Is that you are authentic

And many people believe in you.

You are my mentor

And I look up to you

I see you as my idol

But that does mean you are perfect

You are a story teller like me.

Let This World Burn Into Ashes

I have seen poverty
I have seen depression
But I haven't seen unity
Where people live together
Peacefully
Pride has captured our humanity
We never lived un harmony
This world
And it's money has been cruel to us
It's time to burn this world down
And rebuild a new one
Hatred has chase out love
Women are being abused
Children are being molested
Look at what we have become
We became monsters
In a sheepskin
We as men should stand up for women
Create movements along side women
Women were along side men
When Jim Crow's law still existed
When Apartheid still existed
Let's support each other
And bring this world to its knees.

Lies

I'm not honest
When it comes to love
But when I write poems
I'm honest
I once fell in love with someone
I shared everything with her
She gave me her pictures
I gave her mine
We did something everybody does
We promised each other
We will be together
Till grow old to death
We lied to ourselves
The truth is we loved each other
She decided to break up with me
After that
I haven't fell in love with someone
I don't want to lie anymore
Everyone deserves to be in love
Even myself
I don't blame love
I don't blame her
I blame myself
I'm lost in a fog.

Live Your Life

Life isn't about having money

Life is about being happy

Life is about being loved

Life is a journey

That has ups and downs.

We forget about God

Because we are deceive by the things

Of this wicked world ours

We are not thankful

He protect us every day

He gives us second chances

Even though

We have sinned in front of his eyes.

Live your life to the fullest

But remember this

Whatever doesn't kill you

It makes you stronger

You may chase the paper

But never let it deceive you

And forget about your past

You are here

Because of your parents.

Life may be difficult for you

Life is squash

And spit you out

Nobody told you

Life would be hard

And there's no tutor for life.

We are not thankful

With the life we got

And don't appreciate what our parents do for us.

Live your life without regrets

Live your life without curses

Live your life without negativity

Live your life with passion

Live your life with positivity

Live your life with perseverance.

Love Turned Into Tears

What is love?

Does it really exist amongst us?

I don't think so

Because many guys are being rejected by girls

Girls only want money

Not love

They are like gold diggers.

To too many guys

Love turn into tears

They don't believe in love anymore

Because of rejection

But to all those who haven't been rejected

They don't know

The pain of love turning into tears.

They say

Real men don't cry

So this means those men who cry

Are not men enough

Asekho Toto

Love Yours

Am I happy?

Do I love myself enough?

No, I'm not happy

No I don't love myself enough

How can I love myself enough?

When there are few people who love me.

I can't like someone's things

When I don't like mine

I know that

There are many people who write out there

And I don't even read my poems

Is that a real poet?

Is that a real writer?

I will never be happy in life

When I don't love mine

But I know that

In order to be happy

You need to love yours

Love yours today

Maybe tomorrow it might perish.

Asekho Toto

Purge

They say

All men are trash

But if those men were purged

That abuse women

What will they say about men

Nothing

Because they always judge them.

This world purges us all

Because we are just visitors here

This not our home

We leave this world by dying.

Who has the right to purge

Is it God or men?

What about Satan?

Do I have the right to purge

Those who defy God.

Some people purge everyday

Words

Words are not just verbs

Words don't just build sentences

Words are special

Words are authentic

Words are different from many things.

Words make me up

There are many words

I can use to describe words

Without the words

We wouldn't know

The language we speak

That's why words are special

To us people.

How much words are special

Maybe to you

It may sound crazy

But to me it sounds phenomenal.
