The Night

The night Comes and studs the sky;
Creates the scene, still studded in my eye!
 The stars that twinkles in sky's canopy;
 Are just like diamonds for me!
Some glows with pride whereas some blinks;
Some stays there forever whereas some sinks!
 Stars in the canopy, seems as if they dance;
 One would like to join them, having just a glance!
The warmth of the sun, is cooled by the night;
It even creates unforgettable sights
 I must have experienced night's beauty, hope I may
 It is the most beautiful time of the day!
