A Poem In Japan's Right

First hiroshima, then Nagasaki
First uranium
After that hydrogen...
In a painting
Bus
And i tell you kissing
That it never happens true

Whereas our 'pillow'
Even after sleeping
Barbarity of human civilization
And ruinous
Inventive constant
Keep on walking
Where are you going
That now our world
Anyone sitting on the atom bomb
Has transformed into human

Tell me before sleeping
What are we giving
To your generations
While generations will not grow on the wall
Like the 'Twenty Century' posters written in the welcome letter.
We want to know
What is the end of that?
I did not even know
That Hiroshima from our house
Or how far was it from the equator
But that night you
Giving your hot breath
I see my eyes in front of my eyes
Someone's
Sister killed
So half of my memories
How to tell someone without naming
By cutting the pocket,
Searching for you
Beach roads

Government bottlenecks

I would scare you even closer to you.

Life span

Your Life

Those people who have finished

What we like

Sleeping with stick.

Love Of Awayav

To cry
And tell your name, then cry
Run away
Do not change the look of these words
Nevertheless, they are not called invulnerable,

Some people listening to lies
Who drink tea of ??ten rupees
Looking like a Hindi literature
Call them anonymous.
anyone
Not in the shadows
anyone
Will not come in the arms
While roads
Neither stumbles
Nor bored us
Nevertheless, the above-quoted words
In the fist bunch
Can be proven
That
No one is crying for me.
Not even a liar.

Why is there a sinking ah
Whose way is the heart.

Revolutionary Poem

Die for us
The brave people
my birthday
Like sweet girlfriends
Do not celebrate
Or do not celebrate any other way
Waiting for that
We will all be one,
To our limitations
Reaching
Ironically, the irony was broken
That's what they said
He and I did not hear you.

All people including Missile Focco
With your wax hands
Written with blood on paper
Rubbish
Much different from that we read
Say more
So we were taught forcibly
So that we can sit on the forefront of the class
And every month our Garzian
In the office
Can tell greatness to the principal.

How to get freedom
Who got
And how much
These things go in to us
Sparking in a very different sense and this is the last thing
You will impose on me
That's what I said.

Just like that
Red signatures from those bloods
And given in history
To the most white witnesses
We do not understand,

after this
Drinking tea
Keep the cup above the Upanishad
Listening to songs
Keep earphones on bible
And want to tell the world
That
We
Learned the meaning of freedom.
