

Poetry Series

Divyangana Singh
PurgatorianDevil
- poems -

Publication Date:
2012

Publisher:

Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Divyangana Singh PurgatorianDevil()

A Smile From You...

A smile from you makes my day,
A smile from you chases my problems away,
With every passing moment,
All the more in love with you i fall,
If i could do it all over again,
I would change nothing at all.

Divyangana Singh PurgatorianDevil

Have You Ever Been Loved By Someone?

Have you ever been loved by someone?
Someone who adores you from the bottom of his heart?
Have you ever cared for someone?
Someone who you think will always be your part?

Have you ever known what it feels like,
To have someone close to you day and night?
Have you ever had the feeling that he,
Is the one when you see his first sight?

Have you ever got so close to him
That all the other things seemed too far?
Have you ever been gently kissed on your lips,
That your life seems to be one among the stars.

Have you ever looked into his eyes,
To search for the place you occupy in him?
Has he ever caressed you with love,
That you feel that nothing is like what it seems?

Have you ever held him tightly in your arms,
And told him how much he means to you?
Has he ever looked back into your eyes,
And told you that he loves you too?

Have you ever known what it feels like to be in love?
Have you ever known what it feels like to be the most important person in someone's life?
Have you ever known what it feels like to love someone from the bottom of your heart?
Have you ever been truly and deeply in love?

Divyangana Singh PurgatorianDevil

Heartbreak

What happens when you fall in love
And know that you can't be together?
How do you make your heart stop
From loving each other?

How do you keep the feeling away
When their first sight is so breathtaking?
How do you not care
And stop your heart from breaking?

Can you stop stealing glances at them
Every once in a while?
Can you keep your mind away from their thoughts
And can you stop yourself from passing faint smiles?

How do you control the butterflies in your stomach
And understand that it's not right?
How do you stay away from that one person
Who makes you smile so bright?

How do you stop yourself from falling in love
And keep your heart with you?
How do you make a choice when you know
That chances like these are so very few?

Do you then leave your love to fate
Or do you take a chance?
Do you let it just be
Knowing that true love happens just once?

What happens when you fall in love
And know that you can't be together?
How do you make your heart stop
From loving each other?

Divyangana Singh PurgatorianDevil

Since The Day

Walking along the excruciating paths of loneliness,
Swept away by the aggressive waves of suffering,
Life just does not seem worth living,
Since the day you left me all alone.

Waiting for a light to be showered upon me,
Looking for a sign to realize the purpose of life,
I stand there still, deprived of all feelings,
Since the time you said goodbye.

Trying to figure out the game destiny plays,
Figuring out the witticism of fate,
I lay there numb, wanting to wake again,
Since the time you parted our ways.

Fighting to break the shell all over me,
Craving to breathe, with arms wide open,
Nothing prevents me from drowning in the water of hatred,
Since you said I wasn't what you wanted.

Fighting with my own unseen shadow,
Struggling with my unexpressed thoughts,
I have been reaching out to someone to guide me through,
Since the day you broke my heart.

Wondering if I will ever feel your touch again,
Asking myself, if I'll ever breathe your love once more,
I am uncertain if I'll ever be alive again,
Since the day you shattered me into pieces.

Wishing if time could turn back for just once,
Hoping to take back both our wrong doings,
I have been entreating to get one more chance,
Since the day you said we weren't meant to be.

Something seemed to have died within me,
It feels like something is missing inside,
But I know that my love has only grown for you,
Since the day I realized you were no more by my side.

Divyangana Singh PurgatorianDevil

The Way I Love You

I have been asking myself this question a lot,
I have been wondering about this for quite a while,
But there seems to be no reasoning answer to Find a reason why I love you the way I do.

Is it the sparkle in your eyes or the calm in your voice?
The softness of your touch that makes me want you so much,
The way you smile or your kiss on my lips,
Is it the power of your stare or the strength that you wear?

Is it the smell of your perfume or the warmth of your skin?
Your breath on my neck or our feet curled up within,
The connection of our thoughts or our spiritual intellect,
Is it the way you understand me or read what's on my mind?

Is it the way you are always there for me,
Or the way you always care?
Is it the way you always stand by me,
No matter what I say?

Is it the way you motivate me,
And give me a new direction to see?
Is it the way you believe in me,
And guide me wherever I may be?

Is it the way you love me so much,
Or is it because you are all mine?
Is it the way you make my life a dream,
That seems beautiful and divine?

I may find a million reasons why I love you,
But the list won't seem to end,
I love the thought of loving you,
And the reason I love you is YOU!

Divyangana Singh PurgatorianDevil