I Know A Country

I KNOW A COUNTRY

I know a country,
Where leaders fly to abroad for treatment,
Where leaders children school abroad,
Where leaders rule without the majority comment,
Where leaders prepare abroad to abode.

I know a country,
Where leaders rule without commitment,
Where the heads aint solid,
Where leaders rule for four years without any improvement,
Where the heads are absurd.

I know a country,
Where people's health is not the leaders consignment,
Where the people's future are sold,
Where leaders rule the majorities in discouragement,
Where the people's Picture are blurred.

Irony

It isn't funny
even after all you've done to me,
The snobbing.....

It isn't funny
after all the lies against me,
The heartaches.....

It isn't funny
after all the shakaras you did to me,
The Penkelemes.....

It isn't funny
after all the kilokamianism attitude you gave me,
The Mess.....

It isn't funny
after all the hisses from you to me,
The Mock.....

I just discovered:
I still Love You.
