Here It Is

oh!

how it is to exist?

the numbness on my fingertips say all the truths my breath wrecks of sin and my eyes portray it all how soft the noise of the song is playing on my mind for you you lay beside me and i can feel your absence i must leave soon and yet time is going by slow i'd kiss your fingertips with the touch of my lips all i ask is your love not your care i am cared too much by my mother and dog i do not need anymore love!

love is what i am seeking for i have picked yours

and u should pick mine hopefully for a time of the final end hopefully...yes
