When Will I See U Again.....?

When will I see u again?
Time won't tell when but I know someday,
Time would give me a chance to see u again
I don't care if it will just be for one day

Sadness slowly drains my heart Slow but it hurts so much I never want this to happen
Coz all I want is to be with you

When will I see your smiles again?
Your angelic face that melts me down Your cute eyes, nose, and lips When will it be?

All that I am asking is a chance to be with you before I live
And to see you my baby
I wish time hears me now and give me a chance
A chance to hold and hug u once more

Tears falls down from my eyes Thinking about you as the day draws near
The day when I live and you will not be here when I live There will no last hugs and kisses from you

I don't know when I will be coming back But remember our promise that we have for the both of us
And the promise that I will come back for you A promise is a promise

I cannot do anything to change time I have no ability to do that but if I have,
Make sure that I will really change time just to be with you
Be with you all the time

But there is one thing in my mind
The one thing that makes me sad when I think about it My heart shouts because of pain
When will I see u again baby?

Without You Baby.....

Now that im here,
here without you my angel
The heaven's cry as my heart cries also it cries because of sadness with you here in my side

The coldness makes my body freeze but if you were here baby, the cold is just a piece of cake coz i'll just hug you so tight and say 'i love you' plus 'i miss u'

All the days here
I always think about you baby and I really do coz I miss u a lot I miss everything we do and everything about you baby

I just pray for a miracle even just for once A miracle for us to be together again and spend each precious time together My heart will be so glad

I will always love you baby even if im far from you, my feelings would never change My love will stay on you but as long as you love me too...
