A Cup Of Iced Tea

A cup of homemade iced tea made by our own mother

That was always appreciated when we were young in the hot summer days that she would prepared for us under no circumstances even with a small task No doubt about it is always be tasteful and enjoyable added sweet flavor ingredient along with a sliced piece of lemon and a banana cream pie how could anyone resist to this You can always add more cups to fill up your thirst of request With no cost of extra dime and penny

A cup of homemade iced tea
Just like a homemade giving spare That filled you with a sense of need

A cup of homemade iced tea
Could be a special recipe treat that cool you off with its own sip of refresh

A cup of homemade iced tea Could bring you back with a countless of laughter memories shared so here is a cheer to everyone with a sip of tasteful iced tea

A cup of homemade iced tea
Can be a reminder to all That we all can take things For granted despite with only a serve of tea

A Mama's Words

Do you know that a mama's word is always right?
Whenever it is asking for the truth Despite that we don't want to hear With a seeking own advice For nothing is too silly
From the bottom of the heart
With a genuine promise Of wisdom and guidance Never think of her otherwise And place any doubt on her Because she will never portray With any sign of lies and betrayal even from the bad and good time A mama's word is filled with profound To share with honest and sincere Like many lessons that were learned In a lifetime memory not to be forgotten Only with a sense of gratitude A mama's word is a testimony Embrace from all walk of life For the protection of love and care from thick to thin that never mislead A mama’s word is always right with its own instinct To never second guess Because she knows better than all Do you all agree?

A Warrior

O, a warrior, O, a warrior, O, a warrior Fighting with bravery and strenuous will despite with a deeply wound bleed and tissue scars Facing with a surpass of risk task Through the hardship of battle field Where great sacrifices were made

With an unselfishness act and contribution made That we praise for his courageous and honor To celebrate for his victory And mourn for his loss

America

America, the great nation you are, you stand for pride and dignity

You represent for freedom and justice. No wonder everyone calls you the 'Land of Freedom'

America, the great nation you are, you taught us the values of equal opportunity

And because of you we've learned the true meaning of freedom with personal voice and opinion

You represent for human quality that we all should never take anything for granted only with gratitude and appreciation

You embrace us with open arms and humility when no one else with shelter, clothing, food, and love

You gave us a second chance to make this place where we are elated to call home and a sense of belongingness

America, the great nation you are, you strive us with your love of symbol colors: red, white, and blue.

It is so unique and remarkable to share this exuberant feeling when your flag is waving high in the sky

Everytime I look into this symbol colors my heart fills with joy and pride to call myself American

So, I salute to you America, the land of freedom for all you have given to us, like the refugee people us

America, the great nation you are, you represent for the uniqueness diversity that we all share

No doubt you embrace with a mixture of colorful thread of fabric that we all stand for united

You instilled in me with the meaning of brotherhood and sisterhood; we are no better than anyone except equal to one other So, May God bless you America to be strong and thrive for many years to come

Looking into a child's eyes Sadness written on her face knowing that she will be taken away into a foster care leaving her behind with only shelter and shattered hope filling her with agony and bitterness

Her goal is to find a place that call home and provide her with love and care
Oh, fear no mo Oh, fear no more my child

Life should be fair and kind to you as a promise it will come with a matter of time Oh, please cry no more Oh, please cry no more
my child
oh, hang in there
oh, hang in there because joy of celebration will come with many wishes that your heart grant for So, be happy it will come Before you know it here Because god will look after you
my child

Autumn Scenery

With the autumn scenery see Displayed with golden auburn view Unveiled with its true beauty color Through the radiant sunlight aglow That filled with crispy, coolness fresh air Caressing against through the soft skin touch With the hearing sound of rustling leaves dancing from the top of the autumn trees slipping down to the softness ground floor Greeting others with a moving grace Accompanied by the gentleness delight breeze Leaving the branch trees going on bare With a memory of a hometown where I used to be In the Southern state of Mississippi Where Grandma used to tell story to me How my childhood was spending there Embraced with myriad joy of cherish Bakery of sweet aroma bread Homemade delicious meal
And sang of songs together As inseparable we were She was my angel guardian to be
With an inspirational filled me

December

No sign of living earth display like flowers and plants can be found nearby In the cold white winter of December’s season
Trees turn bare Flowers withered
Plants died Except for the sparkling crystal sitting on the empty branch Frozen the petals to ceased Snow wrapping around underneath the green flourish with her white fur coat covering up the earth in her white blanket driving away the beautiful nature out of splendor sign putting the living ones in a peaceful rest

Many battles of stormy weather
Day and night

Never seek to give up Like a delicate flower I have never relinquish despite without a nurturing care I still stand tall to carry my petals with grace and pride Like a delicate flower I have passed through many capricious seasons to see Yet, I am still hold myself up high Like a delicate flower I was portray As a fragile and vulnerable image scene Above of all I have surpassed many more With a sense of gratitude and poise of an enchanting and exquisite display view Through a mighty strength and will Conquer with its own fear To revive with the vivid blooming of color

Flower

Rose, a beautiful flower to be seen So pretty to the eyes
So captivating to the sight
So vivid to the memories
So sweet to the smell

Waiting to cast its own beauty Look! how beautiful the rose with its soft scarlet Displaying her graceful pose for the world to see

But only few splendor would stay to bestow her beauty upon the audiences

Rose, like seed, it needs to be nurtured with love and care to grow into beautiful, enchanting flower

Hanh Chau
Hope

Darkness falls across the shadow’s edge Where I stand when the midnight hour is approaching And it is leading me to the verge of fear Shivering in a cold winter night with echoes of cries Pain reverberates though my heart as tears bringing to my eyes And capture with desperation and loneliness

I am submerging in my own feeling As fear shooting through my vein
When needle of guilt attacking to my own conscious From the midst of my dream

Is day or night? Is good or bad?
I am a song with no melody
I am a poem with no rhyme
And words with no forms are falling from my lips

My dream is shattered as I am feeling devastated Like a boat that lost its own directions
My heart is lost for the give of love
But only left for the bitterness and hopelessness I am no longer wishing for the blessing of life only for death

But hope has taken me back to earth and encourage me to wait for the devastating moment to come to with a rewarding one

Oh! Nature is beside me and I can feel her smiling at me Like a blue violet flower lifting her head up and water river continue to flow like life shall be carrying on

I then discover the light of my dream reach to the blue sky
Like a blooming flower with a pink and white streak upon the horizon

Greeting me with a pure joy and pride
I then burst into tears of my victory like prize in triumph bring home Ah! At last I get to drink the sweet wine that I’ve never tasted before

I Still Stand Strong

No matter where faith has taken me to....
I.... still stand strong
I must confess when life knocks me down with absolute
I.... still stand strong
I must say when obstacle comes between me
I.... still stand strong
I must tell when others have rejected me...
I... still stand strong
I must admit when the world has turned against me
I.... still stand strong
I must agree when failure has defeated me
I.... still stand strong
Through all the hardship that I face
I.... still stand strong
Through all the suffering that I endured
I... still stand strong
Despite of all I survived
I ... still stand strong Whether I failed or.... succeed
I... still stand strong
To overcome of all cause And I am a living prove To those who have lost in their faith Stand strong is the key word
To help refine yourself
To become a champion AGAIN

Kitten

She is sweet, cute and adorable She wears a golden shining collar around her soft white fur neck embrace like a sparkling necklace she has big old blue eyes with a sweet innocent look captures your heart that you wouldn't dare to hurt her

She is lovely and vibrant She plays like a child jumping around with her claws rolling the yarn and turns her belly around like she is swimming upside down and she would come to me and kiss me when I call out her name, come here kitten girl and she would blink her eyes and wave her tail high in the air and sing to me meow, meow, meow

She brings joy to me everyday with her outgoing personality She likes to jump into my lap and be cuddled to sleep like a baby when I come home to her

She would greet me with her gracious smile and pose her elegant stage presence when she sees me she is a pleasure to be around and hang out with she would come in a hurry to comfort me even with a small sneeze come out of my mouth with a question of meow, meow, meow She always says good night to me in her familiar language meow, meow, meow, She is not just a toy to me but a buddy to me

I would not trade her for anything because she is precious to me even though she is ONLY a kitten girl I still love her to death

Love Me Or Love Me Not

So, do you love me or love me not

Many thousand days and nights I ask for your return

But no sign of word comes from you

Tears of sadness filled my lonely heart to ask for your response

So, do you love me or love me not

There is nothing or place I have rather be with you my sweetheart

My heart will always be with you

And forever I am always yours

So, do you love me or love me not

The answer still remains unknown

There is nothing I have not rather do for you my sweetheart

I share this with you because you truly deserve to know

Because I love you more than life itself

And find you more precious than my own self

And this is so true and real to say

So, do you love me or love me not

Your passion and embrace is what my heart is aching for

And I am wondering if you ever coming back to see me

For the last time to tell me if you find me wanted

So, do you love me or love me not To be together to be reunited with our love

Or with the words of sadly good-bye

With the separate ways we go about on our own

March

It is the charming month of March when all the flowers lift their head up from the ground

Trees grow high and tall ferns sprout stretching, yawning, and awaking from their slumber

Pansies, daisies, violets, tulips, roses, and narcissus form a bright colorful parade on the grass

O, the lovely young March shall return now with their rich gifts and dazzling

Oh, Mother Nature is singing and celebrating its joy and happiness

Each heart is dancing with ecstatic in greeting the young March arrival

Its beauty is calling upon like a petal spreading into a beautiful red rose and abounding with the sweet scene

No one on earth can surpass her congeniality and charming. She has a beauty graced by God's love

Look! how beautiful the flowers with their soft petals and graceful pose displaying their enchanting in the radiant

The leaves are green, lush, changing, maturing, and drifting slowly on the ground, waiting to be shown its own beauty for mankind to view, but only few splendor would stay

Oh! the air is filling with the sweet aroma. Such smelling has a taste of sweet wine and a sense of joy capturing the capricious heart

Memories

You love for me has faded away like a beautiful red rose that has budded, blossomed, and died when the cold winter arrived and frozen the lovely, pretty flower.

There were moments of happiness in my life when I shared the joy of crying, laughing, and comforting you but now these days were gone like a spring season has passed away.

I was awakened from my dream wishing my shining knight would come to rescue and embrace me in his arms but there was never one!

He flashed away so quickly that I hardly see him perhaps he only came to peep and never meant to here I was filled with bitterness and confusion.

Echo of my inner voice whispered in me:

Oh, shed no tears! Oh, shed no tears!
Weep no more! Oh, weep no more!
Dry your eyes! Oh, dry your eyes!

Why did he came and vanished away in a quick hurry
I was taught to ease my discomfort and gave my blessing to my loved one despite that we went on our own separate ways

Every time I come to find a red rose the sight of the flower reminds of my loved one.

And still I take good care of the rose with the symbol of my love for him.

With a cherish memory of spring season that I should not forget As long as I should live.

Money

O, money, money, money
but only a tangible thing
That brings your wish come true

O, money, money, money
but only a tangible thing
that can buy you a nice gift like new Mercedes car sparkling jewel diamond nice big old house

O, money, money, money
but only a tangible thing
can grant what your heart desire it can build you rich and bring wealth to you

O, money, money, money
but only a tangible thing
can make you become greedy so, don't take it for granted spend it wisely or you will go broke

O, money, money, money
but only a tangible thing
that can't buy love because it is the precious thing to have in the world

There sit my sweet child as he was born yesterday.
The bonding between a mother and her child through 9 months inside of a mother's womb was an incredible and precious feeling

I remember the first day he came into this world with many emotional joy and tears as I held him in my arms I said to myself this is such a miracle and blessing To have a little angel Oh, he was the tiny and cute little bundle as I rock him to sleep every night

There sit my child he was young and innocent display with his teddy bear toy As I looked across from the room from the distance watching him learn how to crawl and walk he was so sweet and adorable His rosy cheeks, chubby face, blonde hair and blue-eyed his eyes lightened up with joy and ecstatic as he called me mama to be cuddled in my arms Oh, he was such a mama’s joy and pride I would not trade him for anything in the whole wide world Now my little precious child has grown up to be a fine, handsome young man that made his mama proud to call him her son He often tells me that I am the best mother that he could ever ask for the love and care that I instilled in him to be the amiable person that he is today

Refugee

When is asked what is your name?
I replied it is refugee And oh why is that? The reason is I am a man that has lost his homeland to war
To escape away from a thousand miles
To find a secure place with a sense of belongingness and acceptance Even in a cold stormy weather, sickness, vomiting and hunger I endured My strong-willed and determination pursue me to carry on to hope for a brighter future and promises You see I came across to the land of Great America..... that itembraced me with humility to open a new door with a greater opportunity to rebuild a prosperity life in which I called a second home Only to know that I must start from a scratch with a bare hand and feet That was my goal and inspiration to witness for my children to live surpass me.
It has given me the voice to speak, the freedom to express, opportunity to look How can I not be grateful, indeed I am So, when you see other refugee out there DO NOT JUDGE me as I plead I have learned to be on my thick skin to stand high and seize with every second chance never to take anything for granted
When life is tough and knock me down
I carry myself back up and stand tall and be tougher than life itself I am humble to call myself an American to learn the true value of freedom and its meaning In a place that filled with a melting pot and multi-cultural diversity For that I salute to you, the Great America you are,
in all we stand together

3 times per day and there is in no joke!

But oh my god!

Because it is unbearable is coming back

The Ballerina Girl

Happiness aglow on her lovely face as she dances gracefully across the stage entertaining others with her musical story

With her soft kind exquisite feather bow head and silk white dress like a precious doll

Greeting others with her radiant and gracious smile as she shows off her double spinning turn

That fills you with joy and delight as she leaps high in the air and comes down like a feather

Slowly

Softly

Smoothly

And reach to the ground with her tip toes and capture your heart and soul with her spell that no others can see except with magical display

Oh, the ballerina girl, she reminds me of her grace poise and innate beauty that given by God's love

Unconditionally

Kindly

Elegantly

Pride exudes on the ballerina's face as she takes her final bow to the audiences before she exits off the stage

Silently

Gently
Humbly

The Midnight Summer

In an August midnight summer scene A lonely, despair heart is reaching out to pray for a true miracle to take place in a long absence of her loved one

Listening to her own broken heart song
With a gaze at the moonlight shadow Surrounding by a serene hour With a companion of breeze wind Embracing with a curiosity Why love is a mystery Far above is the twinkle star sky As she points to
With a spare soul and empty hold of sensation send Across is a milestone of travel distance through the body ocean wave Silent became her friend
As if God can only read her mind To find the true answer where about
