

Poetry Series

Holly holly
- poems -

Publication Date:
2016

Publisher:
Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Holly holly()

Broken

We are all beautiful, inside out always wanting to love and not to despise nor hate.
Harmless like a lamb,
ferocious like a lion.
this is who we are
No, this is who u are, so i thought

On a sunny evening u came to me
Like a bird who has lost its way
I opened my world, u came in,
I saw you in me and i and you
Ur words became melodies to me
How wrong could i have been
Just a means to an end.

I guess i should have seen it.
When 'we' became 'you' and 'i'
And weeks without hey and hi
Now u tell me to let you go,
Not for weeks but forever
I said it was for the greater good,
You said it was for the greatest.

Now i am in pain
I claim to understand u but i dont,
I guess i opened my heart too wide
Now all i do is cry inside and out
I want this feeling gone.
I want it gone, i am in pain.
I AM BROKEN.

Holly holly

Illusion

That feeling of here and there
When right becomes left
And narrow path seems wide,
A journey but i am there
So faraway but still here
An illusion of my heart

Deep Red sea i am but deep blue sea it is Blue is calm, hearts are red
Violent red are broken
A journey but i am here
My heart plays tricks
An illusion of my heart

Holly holly