A Million Thanks (Tribute To Mothers)

A Million Thanks

You who make me happy when I'm blue
You who teach me how to live, and give love that is true
You who always forgive me in every mistakes that I do
This is the only thing I can say,
A MILLION THANKS TO YOU!

You who loved me unconditionally
You who love me eternally
You who teach me how to treasure thing that I can't see A MILLION THANKS TO YOU, Oh, in my heart you are the only key

You are a perfect mother for me
You are my only love, my only life until eternity
You taught me how to overcome trials and conflicts
I may face
A MILLION THANKS TO YOU, You're the kind of mother that no one can replace!

Inspiration

Inspiration

You give me strength when I am weak
You give me love when I am bleak
You secured my tomorrow
You replace with joy my grief and sorrows

You always give me light when I'm in darkness
You teach me how to soar like a goddess
You fertilize my heart
You tear my discouragements apart

I can't enumerate the things you inspired me
I have now the strength what I want to be
You give sense In my life's details
You're my inspiration and the magic of my tales

Intimacy

Intimacy

I will always be at your side
I will never set you aside
I'm willing to share my shoulders for you to cry on
You can cling on my hand when you're weak to go on

I will dare to dream with you
I will soar up high with you
I will wipe away all your tears
I will quiet away all your fears

We will be walking hand and hand
When you stumble down, I will help you to stand
I will be with you in joy and sadness
I will be with you in every test

I am here with you from proem 'til end
I will be your friend world without end
I will treasure you as precious as gold
I will treasure our friendship 'til I am old

I will always be with you in every jeopardy
Open my heart and you will see
And these are the words you must put in your thoughts
Remember, this will be forever my covenant, my oath

Keep On Wishing (Love Poem)

Keep On Wishing

You just don't know how I admire you
You just don't know how I love you
You know, I'm always keeping you in my mind and in my heart
Oh, how i wished you would love me as I have loved you

Wishing that someday you would give me the love that I need
The unconditional love I want you to give
In myself I want to believe
That you would love me as far as I live

Loving you is very easy
But loving me? Oh, how difficult it maybe!
Because I am not one of a kind
That physical perfection in me you can't find

But God gave me a heart that can give the fullest love, that sound perfect!
If you can be with me, you will surely detect
I love you, I love you, oh saying these words, how foolish I maybe Keep on wishing to be your love, to be your life until ETERNITY.

Life Is A Journey

Life Is A Journey

In all times we are travelling,
Traveling from morning 'til evening
Don't know where we are going
Don't know when is the ending

In the way, you will face challenges
Challenges that in your life gives changes
You will encounter hardships and tests
But God will give these, so that you will grow and be the best

In the way, you will meet friends
Friends who will help you in all burdens which God sends
They will cross along your pathway
To give you encouragement throughout the day

But friend, not all pathways are going up,
Some are going down
But my heart just wanna say,
' In every pathway there's light in the end, '
That's if you will trust God and choose the right way

Man's Estate Of Mine

Man's Estate of Mine

In this land of living,
I am a girl who is always wishing
I am just a simple thing
Who believes in the saying, ' Life is but a dream. '

I am diehard in the world's camaraderies
But the world sees nothing but my inferiorities
I always sacrifice
But it seems that nobody thinks I'm nice

I might not be perfect, not efficient
I might not that omnipotent
And I tell you dear,
I'm not that mighty with the problems I bear

But you see, I am always smiling, always laughing
But nobody knows that I am crying
Crying in the sense that I am like dying
And I need a thing taht is life-giving

All I wished I can't have
I can't even have that simple things I love
I always think that life is unfair
I always think that my life is just a nightmare

Why am I always unlucky?
Why am I always unhappy?
I have only one question in this world I want to ask,
' When my man's estate quest will last? '

Teach Me

Teach Me

Teach me how to love
O God which is above
Teach me how to be faithful
'Cause I am just a fool

Teach me how to be righteous
And which way I must choose
Teach me how to forgive
So that with You I may live

Teach me how to comfort those who are weary
And not to be a worker of iniquity
Teach me how to see
To guide me how to live eternally

Thanks To You

Thanks To You

When I woke up I was amazed
For You bursted the sunshine to light up my face
To cheer me up throughout the day
To lead me to the righteous way

You placed the rainbow after the rain
To tell me that there's hope in every vain
You placed the shadow my very friend
To tell me that there's light at the end

You became my shield in every danger
To be stumble down, I will never
For You carry me very tenderly
You love me unconditionally

You give me hope when I'm discourage
You help me stand and give me courage
You believe in me that I can do it
You inspired me that is why I m've made it

And I would say that You are my everything
My loving father, to whom I cling
You are my Savior, my Hero, my Dad
O, thanks to You my loving God

Way To Success

Be yourself, that's the first step

Listen carefully, if you want to know the 2nd step

Here it is: do your best

Don't give up in every test

Trust in the Lord & you can do it

Believe in yourself, and you will make it

Do not ever be discourage whenever you fail

Put in your heart that you will prevail

Try & try for nothing is wrong in trying

Don't give up & you can do everything

Offer you heart to everything you do

Focus your mind until you are through

You must be very persevering

Like an ant hardworking

So that you will be the best

And that's when you'll get success.

Wild Flower

Wild Flower

I am a wild flower
Lack of warmth and care
Lost in an open field
Where love was not built

I need a dropp of water
So that my heart would be better
I need the warmth of sunlight
That gives brightness to my sight

I need a fertilizer
That I thought is as precious as gold or silver
And gives my life its progress
But I have no right to have this for I am useless

I am always cut and neglected
I am not that dainty, they said
But this wild flower that was being thrown,
Is the ONLY flower who can live on its own.

You Are My Everything

You Are My Everything

You are my Savior, my God
You are my ever-loving Dad
You are the reason of the song in my heart
In my life You are its art

You bring the best in me
You opened my eyes so I can see
That You are always there
Protecting me in every danger

You are the sunshine that lights my way
You are my Strength-giver day by day
You are my Comforter, my Guide
In you I always abide

In You I trust
I'm willing to give up all my lusts
You are my most wonderful blessing
GOD, You are my everything!
