Forgiveness

Forgiveness is just an excuse to escape from the darkness and the pain of the hurt you've caused someone else

If I Were To Love You

If I were to love you I would hold you near, I would keep you c to my heart, I would be by your side at all times, but would you feel the same for me or leave my heart alone to rest

Love

Oh love how shall I explain thee, love is the feeling when you can truly trust someone, when you feel like the person you love can take away your heaviest burden and make all of your wishes come true

The Dark

The dark will eventually find you and consume you and once you're in you can never escape

The Rain

The rain to me
may seem
a little bit better
than to others,

the rain to me
may be a little bit nicer
than to others,

the rain may favor me over others because I don't wish for it to leave.

Untrustworthy

Do you really feel the same way that I feel for you, or are you lying about what's true and what's not, because you walk around here like you care, but you don't, you just pretend like you know what's going on, but in reality your as truthful as the lies you tell

When I Look At You

when I look at you I feel warmth, i feel strength, i see a person that can get through anything
