Distance

Distance can cause all kinds of stress.
I never thought feelings could be stopped that quick.
How and why are we both in this mess?
In life everything seems to take the mick.

These are the problems when you are away.
But then I heard sweet voice in my ear.
Everything is good after the stress of day.
And all it took was for her voice to be here.

Distance To Run

From coast to coast.
East to West.
My heart is runnin frantic.
Passion so gigantic.
There's nothin really like it.
Just hope my heart's fit.
So it can go the distance.
And last this ride of romance.

Drugs

You stand and loosen your tie,
Forget how to and give it a tug.
Somethings happened to the pupil of your eye,
You're giving every stranger random hugs.
You seem to think that you can fly,
Boy they took you for a mug.
All because you wanted to get high,
So into your pockets you dug.
How much you taken? Don't lie,
I know you lie because you look so smug.
Fine its you not me who's gonna die.
From an overdose of a stupid drug.

This Love

This love maybe premature.
But I swear this love is pure.
And for that I give you assurance.
I can't ever resist your lure.
On our love you need no insurance.
At the worst only a little reassurance.
For this love has been insured.
To last through eveything it endured.

Who Cares?

I buy you diamonds, I buy you rings
But you don't care.
I buy you DVD's and things
But you still don't care.
I buy you everthin you want bling
Why don't you care?

I hold you close to me
You start to care.
I kiss your lips softly
Do you care?
I'll hold you forever
Because I'll always care.

You Saved Me

My live was broken but you have fixed it.
My heart was choking but your touch cleared it.
My soul was desroyed but you revived it.
I thought love was void but you resolved it.

What you did was give me hope.
You opened the lid on me being a dope.
For I was loved and then had lost.
But the you showed me the cost.
For finding love again has helped a lot.
Your love and mine shall never be forgot.
