ever since i was in tha fourth grade i have wanting to write storys to make people laugh and enjoy themselves. i always write poems to show my feelings or to make myself proud. my influence is my brother and sister. they share the same interests with me and introduced me into writing. lately i have been working on a book with my cousin, we hope to be done soon.

Only One Reason

There's only one reason why i'm standing here today taking all these soaring bullets coming my way.

If you think I'm a great person or some one who lives happy and well, then there's still a whole lot that you should know.

I may be funny and I may like to laugh and smile, but the truth is this bad streak lasts a mile.

I've done many bad things that I'll always regret, I'm just sitting here wishing I could take it all back.

This world around me seems to be caving in upon me more and more each day. My friends are moving on but I can't because I'm lost in my own ways.

And the only thing I got to show for any thing are these pieces of paper with my thoughts about you on them.

You're always on my mind, you're all i think about. It seems like the only thing I do right is put words in a beautiful form about you.

The only reason I'm standing here today is because you inspired me without knowing it and helped me along the way.

You gave me a reason to be here. You gave me my hopes and dreams.
