

Poetry Series

Kaylin Collins
- poems -

Publication Date:
2008

Publisher:
Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Kaylin Collins(3/9/1995)

Hi every body my name is Kaylin A. Collins and, I have been writing every since i was 11 i am now 13 and i love words with all my heart and i would hope you read some of my poems and tell me how you like them so thats all thanx!

Label

As i walk into the room people start to label me as if i'm ingredient on a pop i'm Lil wayne trying to pop bottles.

I am as hot as a flame cuz these people do not no my they discribe me as a now i feel ashamed.

So then i try to blame-!

They label me as if i am a lame just trying to hang.

Man i should have never came! !

Kaylin Collins

Runaway Rain!

Drop 1 hit my head like i really have brain.

Drop 2 hit my eye like i can see where i am going.

Drop 3 hit my nose like i can smell death coming my way.

Drop 4 hit my lips like a kiss from god.

Drop 5 hit a hive and missed me so now i jump to 6.

Drop 6 now i shake cuz i made a big mistake! !

Drop 7 I'll miss u rain now i'll see u in heaven.

Kaylin Collins

The Invisable Person

Can you hear me when i say we need to get boys off the street so they wont get beat.

Nawww! i dont think u hear me maybe i am invisable-

Do you hear me when i say we need to get mothers off welfare cuz all they doin is taken hells care.

Nawww! i dont think you hear me cuz you still aint doin nothin.

Yes! i maybe invisable but, you should still listen to the world.

Peace!

Kaylin Collins

With Out Words

With out word what would i do?
With out words i cant be free-
With out words i just could cry-
Now just what would i do with out words?
Would i be in slavery with words and the real world?
Would i be alive if i didnt have words?
Just what would i do if i couldnt exspress what i feel-
If i didnt have words-
Well u should just lock me in a dark room and let me cry myself to death!

Kaylin Collins