The Decree

By LJK

26 Years has come down to this Down the toilet just like piss Wasted years, I could not see
The awful things you've done to me

But on the 26th year, it all changed Mind and heart had rearranged
My eyes were seeing what you never could I started seeing things I should

You, the covert, me co-dependent
For only I was your attendant
You never even learned my language
All you did was give me anguish

I kept my silence, I shared in none
Until the day I felt I'm done
I walked this road alone so long
My siren calls, desperate for song

This is the day -Decree of divorce
The day I am no longer yours
I'm no longer property, no longer slave For freedom I fought, 26 years I gave

Of all achieved and all I've known
I have to start again alone
My heart will never be quite the same
You stripped me bare and rendered me lame

I lost myself along the way
Identity stripped, but at least you're ok
I have a wound of utter rejection
You soiled my soul just like an infection

I have the biggest heart of hearts
I hope I always keep my smarts

Should it be given to the wrong one though
My soul be crushed in future woe

The House With The Red Door

BY LJK

The house with the red door made me wonder.
What was behind it, a life turned to sunder Outsiders wanting to peek inside
A servitude of people wanting to hide

The house with the red door made me wonder
What goes beyond, what lies yonder
So mysterious and so unkept
Not like most houses where I've slept

The house with the red door opened slightly today Frail little hands were on display
I couldn't tell if it was child or crone
The secrecy of things unknown

The very next day it was painted black What's even worse was the guarded plaque Inscriptions in another language
As all intruders they will vanquish

What a peculiarity!
Someone must have spied on me
For sometime back I tried to peek
And found myself to be a sneak

The house with the black door took a darker turn
I thought it's best that it should burn
The crows were hovering all around a black magic warning, without any sound.

You Are Loved By Me

By LJK

YOU ARE LOVED BY ME.

In every single way
Like a towering Linden tree
I am here to stay

But only if you wish it so
Cause we both have choices too
You are loved by me
And I know I am loved by you

You are so loved
I can't find any faults
Because to me you are perfect
With all your nuts and bolts

And if I have issues, they will never become yours
I was taught to build on open and closed doors
You will never have to wonder and never have to guess
My love always wins, in that I confess

You will have moods, and so will I
And when I see you I will always try
To make you feel better, in your downs and ups
Because you are MY King, my Ace of Cups

There will be days where we won't agree
But this will be normal for you and me
For as long as I live I will never make you feel small And never throw back bad memories to recall

I will do anything for you Because you are loved by me

'Don't Let Me Get Into Your Head'

By LJK

Don't let me get into your head
That's the weirdest thing anybody said
Who am I to disagree
I loved the feeling of you and me

Don't let me get into your head
I only want you in my bed
What the hell has happened here
As feelings started to appear

Don't let me get into your head
The Universe had some perspective
What happened, happened to the both of us
It really was subjective

But oh! We tried to fight it so
For the longest longest time
Don't let me get into your head
Has now been put in rhyme

You are mine and I am yours
It's not up for discussion
Don't let me get into your head
Has made no introduction

You were there even before I knew
But mostly in my heart space too
I saw the light behind your eyes
It took me by complete surprise

God, and gentle kisses you did do
I could have stopped when I felt you
But you have overpowered me
And changed me oh so beautifully

Don't let me into your head he said
But deep down you knew

It was already too late
I was inside your head too

And your heart
And everywhere else
I love you so very much
????

You Were Made For Me

By LJK

You were made for me
Specifically
Made in such a wonderful way And kept, until the day we met

We were hidden from the world you see Until our heart and souls formed perfectly
In the meantime, we did live Nothing wrong with what we give

You were made for me you see
It was a planned intervention to make us free
Of life so dull and unfulfilled
Our souls were dying and being killed

And so it came to be one day
The readiness has come in play
A litteral match made in heaven
You stayed in 13 and me in 11

But still we couldn't really see
Our Forrest from our towering tree
So a couple of years had then passed Synchronicity happened atlast

There....
There you were
All blue eyed and attentive
I found you atlast
Given with incentive

You were made for me you see
I couldn't agree more
As God is my witness
It's you I adore

We are ready
It's scary, I know
But one thing's for sure Together we'll grow

And nurture one another
And love endlessly
Through this life we're living Unconditionally

I Will Fight

By LJK

I will not fight for what's past due
But I will fight for me and you
I will fight for mornings of ember
For our fate was sealed on a day in September

I will fight the nagging sensation
Of all the bastards with their temptation
For all I see is only you
I hope Im all that you see too

I will fight for our future beyond
And tempt not fate to break our bond
I will fight for all that you are Because you are my King, my Northern Star

I will not fight with you, oh beware
For all that I'll do is love you and care I'll smother you with kisses, a clingon I'll be You'll never get tired and have enough of me

I will fight for you, every single day
Your so worth the fight
We'll have our way

You Don't Seem To Get It

By LJK

You don't seem to get it
You don't seem to dare
To make the change
In the abyss you stare

Stay there if you must
For I must proceed Dismal attempts
I will concede

Its not a game
Your not playing fair
Avoidance won't change it
My heart's been laid bare

We've started something
This much is true
So either we finish it,
Or I'm done with you.

I'm nobody's sideline
And breadcrumbs wont do
So either you want me
Or to hell with you

I have NOTHING of you
I ask for none
Just glimmers of time spent
I'm fucking done

How can I love you so fiercely?
When I can count on one hand,
The time that we get,
I don't understand?

Some days my heart's so full
And other days a black hole

Where do I fit in?
What is the goal?

I wish I knew what's going on in your head
You, effortlessly quiet - and put it to bed
I worry, I wonder, -you give JUST enough
To keep my heart happy, retreating is tough

And when I fall,
I fall so hard
I should never have loved you from the start

5 Min to work
Some Coffee kisses
1 Hour at my place
How are you serious?

I'll always just be a secret to you
That terrible thing you hide or that you do
I am but an option in your double lived life
The thrill of the chase, can cut like a knife

The thrill of the hunt and the chase
Funny, I've never seen a hunter with so much pace
He takes what he wants and takes what is his No question about it, it is what it is.

I am 'THE HIDDEN TRUTH'
You cannot change that

Comfort will get you no where
And materialistic things are just a snare Stay where you are Enjoy it there

Fear is just an excuse
To make your heart feel like stone
But your heart will always wander
To this place that was home

43-

By LJK

A wish for all my years
And some was filled with tears
If 44 arrives
My wish is to survive

1 wish for daily hope
2 wishes to elope
3 wishes perfect sun
4 wishes feel I'm done
5 wishes when its dark 6 wishes lights a spark 7 wishes when I'm smart 8 wishes mends my heart
9 wishes count the ways
10 wishes loving days

33 more to go,
But no more wishing so,
I tend to be realistic to carry love so simplistic

Though 43 years has been tough
I pray they aren't enough
I want to do more in my life
And leave a mark without much strife

To love and be loved
To be a safe place
To hope where there's none
To have faith and more fun

I carry a world in 43 years
No one understands
But only the truest of them all
Will know what life demands

We have but one life

So spend it well
"Live long and prosper" and never dwell on past discretions oh such hell
Move forward, new beginnings yell.

Go-Where your heart feels home
Lest you become another syndrome

No Comparison

By LJK

Of all the prose and poetry read
With quill and parchment it was spread
And beauty in between those pages
Nothing comes near you in ages

In dreams so vivid and so clear Excitement, wonder or austere
And hope awaits you at your door
Love forevermore, forevermore

Of all the fish in the deep blue sea
And all unknown to you and me
My wonder is more than fair and taught
For you-the biggest fish I caught

And the stars...oh the stars Shine like your ferocity
It lights up the pathway
With such generosity

I see you in your most magnificent form
With such endearing favor
I am your weakness, and you are my strength
Your essence I will savor

Catch Me

There's days the darkness creeps in You cannot let me be I'll need you more than anything
You'll have to catch me

Other days I'm feisty
I'll test the raging gods
And better days we all can see
Still you'll have to catch me

I sink so easy when im down
My mind is the problem you see
The overthinking turned to frown
And still you'll have to catch me

I'm selfless, hopeful and hopeless in love
And nothing seems too much
The giving of my soul to you
So someday will be tough

My heart carries endless ventures
Its bound to follow through
And one day if you will let me
I will catch you too

The Drive

By LJK

The best parts of my day
Is the minutes spent with you
When collection and drop off Becomes important too

I watch you turn the corner
My heart beats out of sync
When all I ever do these days
Is think and think and think

I cherish every movement
I savour every smile
I miss you more than anything
I'd fucken walk 'the mile'

How does it feel I wonder?
To have someone bound like glue Who's incessant and excited Everyday they spend with you

Who's excited about the simplest things
And loves you, whole and true
How did it happen I wonder
To be so inlove with you

I love to be under your arm
In ways you'll never know
That feeling of security
And safety's where I go

I love to hold your leg
And the minutes that we share
It's so mundane to beg
But all I do is care

But parting has such sorrow
When the drop off has begun

My stomach once with butterflies
Are pins and knots in one

I give a great big smile
But inside Im in pieces
For before the drop off had begun
My heart had made its creases

Second Place

By LJK

I won a prize at school today
How wonderful that felt
A feeling of euphoria
As second place was dealt

I won a reading contest
The most books read to date
It was a big accomplishment
And second place was great

I won the book prize for English language
It wasn't hard to do
And second place was normal now
A standard I got used to

I won a beauty contest
I felt the world was mine
And even as the time would fade
That second place was fine

I won a ton of money
I used it sparingly
But nothing could prepare me more For the second place I'd be

I won ONE heart
Without competition
I am a once in a lifetime
Second place edition

You Are Worthy

By LJK

As I sit here and look at you
I think to myself
How can a man so humble
Be put on someone's shelf

You are worth more than you know
Your worth more than second guesses
A controlled puppet on a string Forcibly confesses

You are the most wonderful man
That I have ever met
And when you slightly touch me
I instantly get wet

If ever there was any doubt
That God is to be real
I know it to be true
He paved my way to you

I will love you forever
Even if you make me cross cross sometimes
My heart has never beaten
But now it only chimes

I used my soul to shine a light
Something so unseen to all
But only my truest King of Kings
Was able to answer that call

You are everything I've waited for
And everything so much more Inside your hard exterior
Is that heart I most adore

Foreign territory,
Unclaimed and desired

We will be together
And we never will get tired

I love to talk to you
I love to listen more
Because things you have to say,
Have importance to YOUR core

You matter,
Your needs and desires too
Its not just about pleasure
Its connection that matter to YOU

NOW.....for feelings to be true
The following I have to say to you

I LOVE YOU
Undeniably so
So get your shit together
You know you have to go

It does break my heart
Every night we have to part.
My head plays tricks on me
I wish you could break free

I SEE YOU TOO,
I know you inside out
Even though you hide sometimes,
I feel when your in doubt

I read your body language
And sometimes I'M confused
There's conflict in your eyes some days
Your heart has been contused

I Think I Like You

By LJK

You smiled at me this morning
My day was not as blue
You dont seem very boring
I think I like you

Your hand brushed up against mine
This simply wouldn't do Your effecting me in wonderous ways
I think I like you

We had some conversations
You liked the same things too
You better stay away from me
I think I like you

You filled the darkest parts
You must have had a clue
My heart and soul revived
I think I like you

Careful consideration
Master of adoration
Choose your words quite well
I like you, you could tell

I must confess
You know this to be true
I am a hot hot mess
But I think I like you

We spent some time together
And feelings are so true
I never in a thousand years
Would think that I LOVE you

Today

By LJK

Today I woke up early
So early it was dark
I felt you next to me
In my heart you left a mark

I went to make some coffee
The flat, it felt so bare
I couldn't help but feel alone
I wished my King was there

I did the washing, -cleaning up Sang a song or two But every minute I did all that I wished I was with you

I looked into the mirror
I felt your hands on me
Around my waist and heart
Around my whole body

I speak to you sometimes
I pray for you allot
Even though my own religion
In time I had forgot

I smell you everywhere
Your scent is on my skin
Theres no amount of scrubbing Your there., so deep within.

I cook for empty spaces
Theres no one, and not a sound
I pour my heart and soul in you
I am completely bound

I hear your voice and footsteps
They are residual to me

Like hauntings in a home Forever mine you'll be

Your Name

By LJK

And-I-know-this-to-be-true
There never was a man like you
For oceans, mountains I would climb
And satisfy this latest rhyme

You hold me close, yet we're so far
I fucking wish I had a car
To disappear and clear my head
Overthinking has much dread

I'm stronger than I was before
But you have made me wanting more I've seen a side, how blind I was Encountering what true love does

So.....brace yourself, cause shits got REAL.
Procrastination, you must deal.
And realise this is NO GAME.
A soul bond, a soul mate, my best friend, my twin flame.
The universe has all these, except one name! ! !
Yours.....

Into The Further

By LJK

Into the Further you must go Beyond comfort zones your spirit will grow Into the Further, unknown to all
Into the Further- beginning to crawl

A small step done, a void lies ahead Unknown to you, but you will be led Into the Further a new life begins
Into the Further, a fluttering sings.

Into the Further, so bold and brave
When all we are told is just to behave Living a life where nothing is real
Into the further you bargain a deal

But bravery has its own rewards
Into the Further you'll use all your swords.
With strenght to know what is right for you
Into the Further, is what you must do.

The Hardest Thing I've Ever Done

By LJK

This.....

Loving you so much, but from a distance.
Wanting to hug you in public but can't.
A peck on the cheek, I'm persistent.
I couldn't, I wouldn't demand.

I have had many trials and tribulations.
But none that can compare,
To the quiet love I have to give It really isn't fair

I look at you and wonder
I want to touch your face
My heart is with you every day
In that quiet little place

I have endured and suffered I've transformed a time or two
I've been through hell and back again
Then the universe shows me you

I've climbed the biggest mountains
I scratched and clawed my way
For all I knew was loneliness
And fair he did not play

I've wished upon a star
Many many moons ago
For a man to light my heart and soul
Cause THIS sadness he would know

This is the hardest thing,
I've ever had to do.
Keep watching from a distance
Only having some of you.

This is the hardest thing,
I'm ever to endure
And having parts or snippets
Just wants me want you more

You've spun a web so tight
You wrapped your arms around
You never realized just how much
My heart has now been bound.

This isn't easy, we can't pretend
What has happened we must comprehend.
Our loneliness would slowly mend.
Is this the way it should be spent?

I've walked this life alone so long,
I cared not what they said,
For reasons beyond comprehend
Your always in my head

Loneliness

By LJK

I have had many a dark friend,
but none that can compare.
To the one that crawled into my heart, of him you should beware.

I've played with madness, sat with pain and had a drink with doubt.
But this one really got to me,
I couldn't play about.

I've danced with anger and remorse,
On common ground we stood.
But nothing could compare to him, the feeling of what could.

I toasted life with guilt and shame, and always sought remorse.
But this one came on faster than a night on his black horse.

And finally when all was done,
I sang a song with hate.
For never in my wildest dreams, would I sing a song with fate.

So there I was after all's gone home, with nothing left to spare.
For in that silence with loneliness, the only one to care.

Lovesick

By LJK

Palpitations all year round.
Feet keep lifting off the ground.
Sweaty palms with two weak knees.
Can't see the forest from the trees.

Body shivers pressing hard.
Forgot to keep that heart on guard.
Piercing lovesongs making sense.
Pressure points that start to tense.

Quivering to every touch.
Sometimes feeling all too much.
Forget control and moral code.
Release that burden and that load.

Blueprints given without guide.
Longing for that warm embrace.
Heart so soft and wrapped in lace.

Broken heart, and realize why, this is how it feels to die.
Never being with the one.
Lovesick heart has come undone.

Twin Flame

By LJK

I once heard a story, of a star that broke in two.
Never really found the one, untill the day that I met you.

I once heard a story,
of two lovers left at end.
Never seeing one another, forgotten time spent.

I once heard a story,
of a flame that split in two.
It was about me,
about me and you.

The universe planned it so.
The meeting of your flame.
It's fate your heart will know, and destiny to blame.

I've known you for a thousand years.
You feel like home to me.
With the crying of vermilion tears, you came and set me free.

Solace and complacent, our hearts now beat as one.
We found each other against all odds, our journey has begun.

Home

By LJK

Home is where the heart is.
My heart belongs to you.
Wherever we're together, our home will be there too.

Home is where there's laughter, and cuddles all year round.
And magic whispered 'I love you's', that has perpetual sound.

Home is warmth and love, a love so real and true.
That being unauthentic, just simply would'nt do.

Home has much excitement, and eager to fulfil, but without truest love my dear, it's just another bill.

Home will greet you by the door, with great anticipation.
But seldom you will find that home, or any validation.

Today Was A Hard Day

By LJK

Today was a hard day getting out of bed
There are too many things going through my head
I know I should focus on the good instead
But today was a hard day getting out of bed

Today was a hard day putting on my clothes
I wavered the idea of taking a dose
But sleeping seems to be the only way where I don't have to worry about today

Today was a hard day brushing my teeth
Emotions keep scratching my skin underneath
I struggle to find the balance that's needed
The warnings! My brain has over exceeded

Today was a hard day just to put on my shoes
I cannot afford my identity to lose or take hold of my most prized possession
My light WILL NOT flicker into recession

I muster the courage, and put on that smile Commanded deception with the flick of a dial
A new day awaits, and I must proceed With caution,
as my heart's been used with much greed

Today was a hard day getting out of bed
Eventually I'll manage these thoughts in my head
It won't be easy, it's all so unknown
Foreign and new, but oh! how I've grown

I.Am.Free

By LJK

I am free
I haven't been free since I was twenty three
I am free
Today I've been returned to ME.

I am free
A burden off my shoulders
My future, of solace and gratitude
For the lessons I've learnt at high altitude

But it all comes with a price
It's never as simple as that My destiny is still unfolding
A soldier in combat beholding

The end of a battle unknowingly fought Until you've awakened
To pitiful thought

I am free
What does that mean to me
It's everything, everywhere, all at once
It seem I am no longer the dunce

The time that I've wasted I cannot make up
But that is the call of the great 'wake up'
I refused to be molded, to be put in a box
That is my strength, my new building blocks

Just to be me
To be loved in my entirety
With respect, acknowledgment and sincerity
With duality, humility, unquestionable dexterity.
Reciprocity is such a rarity.

I am free to start over.
Oh! what a second chance
To not be coerced or controlled
To my own tune I dance

I am free

To grow in love. To love myself. To plant my seeds, to watch them grow. To fulfill my dreams, to have someone cheering me on and be there every step of the way and in my path. To have companionship in truth, and much much more. For I know now what I don't want and what I adore

I am free.

Not My Type

By LJK

I hang on to every word you say
Not my type without delay
What is it then that brings you home
To body, mind and soul you roam

How do you like them?
Let me guess
All blond and busty to confess
For me I like them big and strong
But oh your type is crap and wrong

Not my type, oh so cliché
You saw me coming miles away
You knew, before your head could fight
Your queen arrived and this felt right

So no. No one ever really has a type
Its superficial and not right
Your heart will sell you out at once
You are her King and not her Dunc

Love Yourself

By LJK

Love yourself even though its hard
This you must learn, and don't disregard
Your worth and all that goes along You're special, unique and you BELONG.

Love yourself your worth it Every inch, and fault and pain
For this is how you learn to grow
And your own trust you will gain

Love yourself through your troubles
Your hardships and your tears
For no one knows you better Than yourself and your own fears

Love yourself even if it's bitter
For bitter you can change
The only progress you can make
Is the one you rearrange

Feeling

By LJK

I know your affraid to show them, and I can see why.
It scares me too sometimes, because I hide it when I cry.

Feeling the Sun, and the Moon like I do.
Stars with delight,
and the memories too.

You have the power,
you have the strength.
And some of that magic,
goes to a great length.

Be free.
Have your feelings, say them out loud.
Cry if you must,
and always be proud.

A master of hearts.
A scolar of soul.
A teacher in spirit.
All with one goal.

To be so authentic,
to one's true heart,
this is the feeling, this is the start.

Muchness

By LJK

She lost her muchness,
like Alice did before.
Searching for years,
knocking on every door.

She lost her muchness,
like Alice did before.
Not even Wonderland, would recognise her anymore.

She went down the rabbit hole, and spun upside down.
Her soul reawakened,
like a night out in town.

She stood before the looking glass, and what did she see?
A most wonderous sighting, who she was MEANT to be.

Her muchness returned,
many years have gone by.
And within that muchness, she learned but to sigh.

For some could see it,
and others ignored.
The bright shining light, that now was explored.

Fear

By LJK

Fear is a terrible thing.
An exquisite contradiction.
It makes you doubt yourself, your mind and hearts extinction.

Sleepless nights, you hold on tight, from all that's true or not.
And with this fight, a fierceful fight, you'll find out what you've got.

So set aside what's real and not, unless your mind and soul forgot, that what it means, is to be free, and to be free, forever be, true to what your heart desires, mind and heart and soul requires, so much work and so much love, with spirit guiding from above.

Hear Me Now!

By LJK

Hear me NOW, and hear me clear.
I will no longer live in fear.
Your accusations and your lies, will come back hard and break all ties.

My children grow up strong and bold
No one has a stronger hold
Than a mother who protects her young,
I'll fight for them with every lung.

So slander if you must my dear,
You will learn hard, and with a tear.
We must now greet and say adieu.
We'll start again with life anew.

Impossible Hope

by LJK

Impossible hope, a glimmer, a sign.
That never would happen, you can't cross the line.
Auspicious, suspicious, delicious align.
Impossible hope, that never was mine.

A feeling so low, a feeling so high.
You reach for the stars, you grab at the sky.
When all is naught and all is nigh.
exhumed with a sign

But some things are but possible, and through your mind's eye probable.
You cling to what you hope be true, and with your heart you must make due.

The feeling of some hopelessness, your mind plays tricks and you will miss, what's waiting on the other side, your hearts true form in all its pride.

Am I Worth It?

By LJK

Am I worth it?
the effort the text am I worth you losing Your life that has you vexed

Am I worth the trouble?
Am I worth a date
Am I worth the little time
I lap up as I wait

Am I worth the truth?
Or am I just the lie
I wonder if I'm worth it though
With you I want to try

Am I worth the minutes?
Am I worth your all?
Its given somewhere else anyway but I'm damned if I will crawl

Am I worth it?
Or am I being tube fed with denial Should I ever be your number one I'll Accept it with a smile

I want your time
I want to depend on you
I want your honesty
As I'm sure you want mine too

I want to hug you publicly
I want to kiss your face
I want to make it clear to all You've taken my heart space

I want to build a real home with you.

One that has no lies, regrets, or shame.
No guilt or past transgressions.
I want you just the same.

I want to go on adventures,
I want your cuddles too,
Reading books and watching movies
I want to do it with you.

I want to cook your favorite meals,
I want to do these things
And stay in bed for 2 days straight
There wont be any strings

Who Killed Maria Night

By LJK

Maria Night with a soul so bright,
Tried very hard to put up a fight.
No one knew it, no one came.
Coincidence was just to blame.

Maria Night with a soul so bright,
No one knew what happened that night.
Doors were bolted, windows were locked. Everyone was truly shocked.

Maria Night with a soul so bright,
Had a head wound it was but a site.
No weapon was found, no evidence seen. Maria's history was wiped all but clean.

Maria Night with a soul so bright,
she was but a maiden, a true delight.
All women would envy all men would crave, and everyone knew she'd always behave.

But one thing's for certain, one thing stands out.
Maria had a secret,
a secret devout.

For no one knew and no one saw,
the secret life had come to a draw.
For in her cupboards they did find,

A peddlers head and hand for one,
A thieving eye, a smoking gun.
Some bits and pieces of human remains, Maria Night shot out her brains

The Devil's Bride

By LJK

Devil's Bride, with such pride, walking with her side by side.
Tell me how you came to be, the Devil's bride that we now see.

A bride be gift to man alone, but without passion it has shown, that emptiness will turn you dark, and within that you lose your spark.

The devil claimed her on this night.
Too lonely to put up a fight.
For she was ready, she would go, the world in darkness she would show.

Scarlet red and winter lips.
She touched upon with fingertips, so cold you thought the dead would rise, and take all men with her demise.

Black as night her flowing hair.
The darkest nights could not take hold, upon her heart which was not cold.

The midnight hour seemed to be, the time she could but be set free.
Within her slumber she would wake, to find her demons she would take

In My World

By LJK

In my world its lonely, its dark there too
I wander around
Like lost souls do

In my world, I'm happy
The next day I'm sad
I wouldn't change a thing
Was born from the bad

In my world there's solace Contemporary art
No malice intended
I'm two worlds apart

In my world my music is magic.
It carries me away
A passion that's burning Best part of my day

In my world I'm free
Unbound and repaired
The heavens are open
My hearts not ensnared

In my world no one is watching Theres no one to care
I stand proud and tall
My burdens I bare

But my world has many conditions and terms
True meaning and soulful, reality burns
My world is an abstract of what it should be
It made a martyr - a puppet of me

I Have Not Cried Once For My Old Life

By LJK

I have not cried once for my old life
My new one gives me tears
The feeling of longing
For someone in his years

I have not cried once for my old life
Theres nothing there anymore
There never was in the first place
A person to adore

The demons left behind
A hopeful future with you
And a life thats so kind

I have not cried once for my old life
I probably should have But you....you have shown me Feelings.....
Emotions
Desire
Unconditional love
Patience more and more
You I simply adore

A life with no substance and meaning
Even though you cant deny
The time one built was demeaning

I have not cried once for my old life
My future brings me tears
For I love you so terribly Beyond my own years

Narc

Barking orders left and right
Never ending moaning night
Movement paced with such a haste Confinement feeling leaves bad taste

Oh heaven never saw THIS one
The devil's always someone you know
Therefore we reap just what we sow

Smallest dogs, biggest bark
No one truly knows the narc
A fiery fake, two sides to coin with such mistake, you trust and join

You soon find out it's all a lie
Such petty promises you buy Controlling thought, your mind and soul Escape-Enough! You have a goal

Oh and guilt and shame you shall be feeling That's exactly how they were concealing the way to manipulate your every thought Your own freedom cannot be bought

Loves to play on sympathy
Nothing gives them more glory
An everlasting hand-reared bond
Made so you may not respond

Spare Parts, Broken Hearts

By LJK

I think as a matter of speaking
That what we both were thinking
Was mending our broken hearts
With broken foundation-spare parts

And as we start our tinkers
We should have fixed our blinkers
This really isn't surgery
We want this both for you and me

Some bolts and nuts would do
A little bit of glue
A tweak here and there
We're running on a spare

Lets use some string to bind
The 'tougher than the rest' kind
A screw or maybe two Combining me and you

What about replacing the heart?
We should have done that from the start Spare parts simply would not do
For people like me and you

It has to be the real thing
Or nothing will work, nothing would sing
Like the humming of a car engine
It must be the real thing with true intention.

Remember September

By LJK

He had a watchful expression
I wanted confession
A ray of sunlight, no surprise
Oh what a delight, my demise

He stood proud like the tallest
The bravest, the biggest, -and smallest
I knew I was done for by then
Not wise to the stalking of men

I did my fair share of the stalking
Unbeknownst to him I was gawking
For deep inside me-she awoke Enchantress within me had spoke

He was above the mid-ages
I couldn't stop sending him gazes
The siren in me knew too well
She wanted that dominant swell

He watched-whenver I moved,
Disguised in a fancy, approved
He thought he had made clear headway
When I elegantly orchestrated the way

You are a magnificent scene
Inside and out so serene
His words spoken wise and with caution
As music we shared with devotion

I wanted him, that much was true
Alluring his words with contrast and hue Situation was dire
My hormones on fire

The meeting of two
The exact condition

Executed, precise, Recognition

Oh! His demeanor, the manner of him Made something move deep inside my being

And then, as with fate, he asked beforehand
He kissed me-first subtle Making a stand

Such soft delicate kisses
In silence we forge
As his great arousal
Was starting to gorge

I will always remember

There's A Raven On My Roof

??To my girls for their love of fantasy??

By LJK

There's a Raven on our roof
It's undisputed proof
A message from beyond
A familiar with her bond

There's a Raven on our roof
Her squawk-unique in sound
For she has found her refuge
On our familiar ground

She's set her eyes within For she has seen our destinies
A new path to begin

She perched herself on windowsill
And without a doubt began to thrill
The likes of us she's never seen
And we in turn made her our queen

With fluttered grace, her news she brought We let her in, without much thought
She winked and spied our greatest treasures
And pondered trust with greatness measured

She knew....she knew she could trust us
Greatest of secrets, shared with such lust
She spoke of her travels and preached far beyond
She knew we would listen, that we had a bond

There's a Raven on our roof no more She's perched on my shoulder for all to adore Formed every aspect- in our fabric she's sewn.
The Maiden, the Mother and the beautiful Crone
