MAHAVIR TRIVEDI()

Can We Describe

Sun rise and sets;
we listen the word development But at times we confuse Whose development human or machine.

Strength is going down weakness is forward to next we dont have time to even listen our own text can we describe in which world we are existing when we walk up we are tired and when we sleep at night we are tired Then when we get time to realize our freshness Everyone run behind the money and loses their strength no one go behind freshness to get ample amount of happiness can we describe this world were numbers of people dies without any diseases Our forefather never think of tomorrow what is going to be happen And now we people only think about whether we are there tomorrow or not.

just live a life today only my question is where is those day, where we not know what is today or what is tomorrow

No Relation

when there is no one with us our parents are with us and when our parents are not with us then no one in this world are with us

But there is one question who always frustrating me that have we forget the relation of mother father brother and sister where for one's own betterment they start betraying their own bloods some times i really get confuse that often we speak air and water changes the human mindset but my question is color of water is same and air is invisible Then how we blame on them in the true sense money has change the mind set of whole world because now its a time where person worship money rather to worship god or parents.
