

Poetry Series

Masud Rana
- poems -

Publication Date:
2013

Publisher:
Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Masud Rana()

' Secret Love '

'I have a secret treasure, (it's very secret)
I can loose
My entire world; but i can't live
Without it for a moment.

People's may have many kinds of wealth,
They want to grow it.
But i have nothing but
My secret treasure, which grows
So safely, so secretly
Apart from thousand eyes.
I cherish it, like the husband to his wife,
I protect it, like the cockle preserve her pearl
from all danger.

I have a secret treasure, i move
Nowhere without it, and i never be without it.
I have a deepest secret treasure
Within my heart;

And it is your love.'

Masud Rana

'O Madam! '

'O madam!
Though u reproach me,
For discourtesy such this;
Yet i won't miss,
That divine nectar of your lips.

So please,
Do not blame me,
I am begging to thee;

For a eternal kiss. '

Masud Rana