maureen tomlinson()

small town girl with the love of expression through words. For when there are things I can not say I write and the things I write are straight from the heart it is a part of who I am. Even more then writing my greatest joy and accomplishment is being a mother to two of the most wonderful kids alive they are my every breathe and my every reason in life.

A Heart In Distress

No more love only lust
Now a life of untrust For I gave my life, my heart, my soul to you Something again I can not go through All thoughts of love I shall serpress Now a heart cold and in destress.

All But An Accident

I did not mean for this to be I fell asleep the radio and me empty scared and feeling so alone the world so cold as it has grown I wake to find there is noone here yet I did not truly wake and accident I swear But this tragedy noone will ever know they will think I ment to go A bad night that maybe true But I thought come morning it would all be ok and new Little did I know that morning would not come to late to say listening to the radio was dumb But again an accident that is all from grace I took my fall

For The First Time

For the first time I see how much love in my life can mean to me And for the first time in my life I know it is you that will stand by my side and help me through For the very first time I found the meaning of true love
I know you were sent from heaven above For the first time I can see past today and clear past tomorrow and know you were sent here to take away the pain, the fears, the sorrow For the first time ever in my life I know I am free free to dream of a life filled with you and me

Goodbye

I wish now I had said goodbye but the words would not come out I could only cry I never wanted you to go but at the time it was right we both know I wish now I could kiss you and say we will try but again I would hold you and only cry

maureen tomlinson

Just Let Me

just let me hold you while we are falling apart Just let me hold you close while you are breaking my heart Just let me love you one last time Just let us feel the rhythm and the rhyme Just wipe away my tears while we are saying goodbye Just one more time hold me close when I start to cry Just let me hold you before we walk away
Just hope we fall in love again some other day

Life Circle

I am full of pain and sorrow
I can not look ahead for me there is no tomorrow
When the curtain drops I do not want to bow I want to stay in the here and now Lifes full circle can not have gone round I leave behind to much unbeaten ground

Lifes Cross To Bare

Although life may seem crazy and unfair
We are never given more than the cross we can bare When you feel you can't handle any more Remember there is always light behind the next door So as hard and unfair as life may feel to be
You will from it learn and you'll grow but the pain will be that of a memory And though it sound just easy to say trust me my son you will find a way

maureen tomlinson

Love Lost

you were my life my world and now this mess we created is far to real With the passing of time I have developed a heart of steel Love in my life no longer exists and to anyone that gets close I must resist For any love within I can not find anymore racing back through the maze to find were love was yet unable to find that door trapped in this place unable to find love praying for help from the greater above but no help am I able to find and the hands of time do not rewind

Love Stands Still

Although so much time has gone by Still so many days I want to cry
We have both moved on with our life
But I could never again be someone's wife For even though I have found love it's not true my heart, my soul, my true love still remain with you

For him there is love I swear Yet not my entire heart and that's not fear A man so loving, so great, so pure However, my heart still strays I'm not sure Maybe I will never find the love we had Because of that for him I am sad I need to move on at last But my heart remains in the past.

Loving Again

Something about the look in your eyes takes me by complete surprise Because I could feel myself safe curled un next to you yet this scares me and know not what to do then I see the sweet smile on your face and this makes these feeling easy to embrace

maureen tomlinson

Memories Of Me

you are my heart, my soul, my lover, my best friend I will always be with you until the end
So when I lie my head down and it is time to go I will take your love with me I hope you know We will never be saying goodbye so when you remember me I do not want you to cry Remember me with love in your heart and a smile on your face always know I am in a better place No heart ache no sorrow no fear and no pain and know that I am touching you when you feel the warmth of the rain

Only With You

When I found you I found what makes life while just the thought of you keeps me with a smile Within your eyes I found a gentle soul you make me want to reach my dreams my goal but now I find my only goal is to always have love with you and having that love makes me see life fully new With you I found that dreams are real and every brick in my wall you did steal With you I have learned there is no need for the safety of walls Just when I am scared those late night calls I have waited my whole life for a love like this to be found Now I know my life is complete and sound

maureen tomlinson

Our Future

A child born with hope, so full of love Qualities given from above
They are born so innocent, so pure But born to a world increasingly obscure It is us that teaches them anger rage and hate For it is us that controls their fate
We raise them into a world of war Now we must stand together saying not today not anymore
They are the future they must lead the way
If we learn from them the love the innocents they will bring a brighter day To them a world of peace and harmony we owe The anger the hatred has got to go
We should raise them in a world of peace and joy Remember they are our baby girl our baby boy

maureen tomlinson

The One

You are the one within my dreams You are the one it seems The one that holds my heart so true
The one that noone elses compares to But sadly the one that got away
The one that's only a memory of yesterday
No longer the one for tomorrow
And that brings me deep regret and sorrow But if that is the way life is supposed to be It was worth the memory

maureen tomlinson

What I Would Give Up

I would give up the air I breathe if you needed it to breathe I would give up my eyes if you needed them to see I would give up the feet I walk on if you needed them to walk I would give up my life if it were to save yours But to give up you that is something I could never do

maureen tomlinson

When We Met

When I met you I thought I found a friend Then more developed and my lack of love you did mend A true love began to grow
A love I could not live without I hope you know With you I know that life is finally right You are my shining star my guiding light Everything about you was special from the start
You are the one that brought love back into my heart
I love you today, tomorrow, and every day I give my life to you in every way.

maureen tomlinson

With In

Within the darkness you shed light Within the darkness you hold me close to make it right Within the times of sorrow you find a way to make me smile you whisper in my ear to remind me the pain will only last a little while Within times of feeling no love is true again you hold me close and make me feel safe with you

maureen tomlinson

Wondering

Without you here
I am standing on the edge of nowhere Without you by my side I have nothing left to do but hide For every night I dream of you knowing there is nothing more we can do wondering why it all went wrong crying over every love song You will always have my heart though I know we need to be apart
