MEGHA KHANDELWAL(26-09-1993)

I am a girl who loves to gain experiences, give them a thought and come out with things that life has treasured for us..

likes to explore things and deal with things in a best possible manner and take life as a challenge! ! ! :)

A Relation So True..

Relations are missed when they hurt you and leave you behind...

their luv and care which were so special make us remind..

those fabulous days which are just not forgettable..

when everything was so good and stable..

but now it hurts and heart and eyes weeps together..

it overwhelms each and every corner..

now what is left is helplessness and hope..

and heart again wants to tie the same note..

i want to forget the emotions of this kind..

but it rolls again and again on my mind..

dont know why this heart is making pleadings..

is there any way to control these feelings...

i want you to be with me again..

you don t know how much it pains..

i even don t know what you feel for me presently..

or u hav just forgotten everything steadily..

but even after trying so much you are not running away from my mind..

and i want you to go through the feelings of same kind..

its very hard to forget you and your talks..

and its not easy for me to be without you in my every walks..
