

Poetry Series

mohamad alsayed khair
- poems -

Publication Date:

2021

Publisher:

Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

mohamad alsayed khair()

Corona And Alove

Would my heart stop feeling you, your majesty

Even though Corona and ghosts invade the world.

Don't you my beloved, consider me as foolish, who can't be so doomed to your obsessing love.

Despite insulator's no ending trial to distance us, yet you kept overwhelming my thought.

My lips won't contradict my hidden love, and dare them to contradict.
Struggling till sunrise shining, and dreaming with your heart to just give up.

mohamad alsayed khair

Isis

I am very sad
In the deepest sadness
From painful stories.
I am crucified above the burning fire.
Melting the skin And stealing my determination.
(I am the tombstone (Isis
I lose hope when i try to remember you at night.
And thus i have oldmemories.
On my poem's I threw my spirit 's light.
And on her distance I shed tears all over the time.
Neither her love nor her sight.
Lonely just like my poems as well as my flowers.
When Honesty wasin my time a crime.
And the cruelest I have seen today.
O (Isis) Asha two lovers hurt by their unfitted love in the darkness.
As if their shiny skyhad become dark.
with broken hearts and stifled souls.
Just like a crying child at night hiding in the back and holding her beloved doll
Relatingconfidently my story (Isis) Thatone of love as a kingdom in which she left on my heartfascinating and closepoem

mohamad alsayed khair