

Poetry Series

Neha Srinivas
- poems -

Publication Date:
2014

Publisher:
Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Neha Srinivas(june 24 2000)

hi

my name is Neha

my father's name is Srinivas my mother's name is Rama i am an Indian but i live in Ethiopia i am 13 years old

i am 8th class i am studying in the spark academy i was born on June 24 2000 my hobbies are reading books, drawing, writing poems and stories.

my favorite colors are pink, orange, red my favorite fruits are mango, apple, banana and grapes my favorite subjects are science and history i can speak 4 languages i like to learn french

ok

bye

Moon

the moon what a beautiful moon the moon come's to the sky every child cries she says i want the moon the mother sings the song to her child to go to sleep about the moon. The moon which brights up the world. With stars and clouds around it and moon in the middle on it the wolves cry seeing the moon ho what a a moon

Neha Srinivas

The Night

night where the world goes to sleep where the mother feeds the child where the children likes to watch the stars and where the moon comes to
we can see shooting stars up in the sky and wish on it where the dogs bark and wolves shout. the night you celebrate your birthday or a new year with joy and happiness comes to your home what a beautiful night it what a beautiful night it is.

Neha Srinivas