

Poetry Series

Paige Keever
- poems -

Publication Date:
2009

Publisher:
Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Paige Keever(5/13/1993)

Cold And Alone

He is to me the reason the world still rotates.
His eyes dance around me like a shower of falling stars.
His voice is like a dead wind soft but intense.
His hair so soft like a field of wheat that calls to me.
The smile, the breath taking smile it puts me into a tender sleep never wanting to let go.
He can make me happy with just one word, touch, or kiss.
I watch him when he sleeps, he is so peaceful like a flower.
But eventually all flowers wilt away.

You promised you'd be here forever.
And i told you that i would never leave.
But now you've left me in this cold empty world with nothing but my tears.
I will keep your soul in me forever, and never let it go.
You will come back to me, and i will stay in your arms forever.
But for now i am left cold and alone.

Paige Keever

Days

Good days,
Bad days,
They're all just days.
Torn into little peices.
No point,
No ending,
Just days.
When will the days end?
Taping together the little peices to make our life.
When they're just really good days and bad days.
Days that lead to our death.
But thats the ways lifes taped together.

Paige Keever

Helpless

Step into my helpless home
Carry me to my helpless bed
Where so many fires have blown
Hide behind my door and wait for him to come
Come and make me helpless
Hide behind my door and watch the fire grow strong
Watch his blazing hands glide with carless effort
Step into my hole, hear my helpless cries
Are you still hiding?
Call out to me
Ask me
Are you helpless?
Hide behind my door so you wont see the swelling
Tell me
Do you feel helpless?

Paige Keever

I Know

I can see you
See the misery
I can hear you
Hear the lies
I can feel you
Feel the unsatisfaction
I can see you
See the fake smile
I can hear you
Hear you move away
I can feel you
Feel you shallow heart
I know
Know you want more
I know
Know what you want
I know
Know its not me

Paige Keever

My Love

My dearest love
I think of you daily
And how i miss your gentle hand
The one that caressed my cheek
Late at night under the star light
I long for you
For your touch
I wonder through this empty life
Wanting and needing a sign that you still carry my heart
I carry yours within my soul
I feel it slip day by day
Into the darkness
Shine your light upon me
One day my love the darkness will be no more

Dedicated to Chris

R.I.P Chris forever my love

Paige Keever

Never Screams

She never screams
You would never know the pain
Until its to late
Everything's shaded
And you don't care enough to lighten it
When shes to far gone
Then maybe the lights will come on
It'll be to late for you to stop it
So put on your smile
Enjoy everything your missing out on now
You know you will
Its not like it'll hurt her more
But never stop to think
Think that maybe your the one that pulled the shades down
You could have found the light
Never think that for once she needed a true promise
Never think
That's what your best at
So smile and remember she never screamed
Even when she needed to
Or needed you

Paige Keever

Taken From Me

Why have they taken this from me? Swallowed down in to the deep dark depths, of the ruin he calls love. The place where love and hate combine. In which they commense deaths of the loved. Therefore creating a sickend madness of a spiraling downfall to a little girls intuition.

Paige Keever