Not Even My Soul Stops Loving You

Home I left to the place where I could find love..that's to
My Heart throb...there he was awaiting me..
Straight I went into his love...which I wished for lives...
Then, there were shouts, marvellous, claiming our attention...
The second, he ran to see leaving me all alone...for ever and ever..
I never knew that moment being my last...on this earth...
He's now here, with beautiful flowers...to dedicate to me, his Lady Love..he sobs, 'i missed you..'
'missed u coz of the two seconds i left you..'not of any use now...
The sweet breeze makes me shuffle over the trees..
wanna cry like a kid...but I'm nt alive to have tears now....
before could I hear the chirping of the birds, the voice of my beloved reaches my broken heart...now
He moves away looking back and back at my Tomb...
O God...now in Heaven, I feel it Hell...
Iff the cool explosion had'nt taken place, would I have been on the laps of my beloved...in a pool of care...
Curse the terrorists..they threw many like me
into complete darkness, seperating us from them we love...
Now i'm at a distance, infinity, impossible for him to reach...
piting myself for I can never again have him...
Only thing I can say now is..'Darling, not even my soul stops loving you....'

You Are My Hero... Dad

Cute as a baby you took me into your arms...
enjoyed every silly mistake of me....
never getting irritated for all that I do....
You patted my back whenever I feel moody...
saying 'I'm with you, don't at all worry'....
You advised me every moment and each step....
but leaving the final decision to my thoughts.....
Your voice gives me solace and your presence confidence....
You were never simply a Dad to me....
You are my best friend, my closest for ever....
All that I'm today is because of you Dad.....
I Love you....I Love you a lot daddy....
Indeed you are the hero of my world....
