A Day At A Time

A day at a time,
moments are all passing by.

Dreaming somewhere of someone,
keeping feelings that can't be denied.

This thought of love has got in me,
Into a deep emotion I long to be.

But reality seems so lost,
With my eyes that hungers most.

Hearing nothing but a voice,
Leaving my heart without a choice.

Loving you is all and more,
keeping the promise to be forever yours.

Amazed

Amazed...

as my heart is seized
by this strange feeling... of this love I have to say.

What I know is the fondness...
that never ceases
For years and time...
You have conquered my mind.

Could you always be same reason...
Why I never ventured?
Knowing somewhere deep within...
Something quite be missing.

I am here now...
In wonder as how it all begun
Love just came on me...
And this, I say, will always be.
