

Poetry Series

Satharian's Poems( ED HOMER)
- poems -

Publication Date:
2012

Publisher:

Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Satharian's Poems( ED HOMER)(1956)

May you Troll's choke on each other....

A Knock Upon My Door

A knocking comes upon my door
It is a person with a question
Will I support their cause
I say no and close the door

This person not satisfied
Pounds harder on my door
Now demanding I sign
What they support

This time I slam it in their face
After telling them to leave
Their reply is swift and angered
They bring in a committee

This committee sets out
To rip the door off my house
And choke their beliefs
Down my throat by force

Being I have no back up
They get away with this
And I have to accept
What ever they do to me

Satharian's Poems( ED HOMER)

Your Deeds

When a so called minority
Fights for rights
They think they deserve
They become a social reformer

But when a white
Try's to do the very same thing
He or she is a racist
And has no social bearing

The sympathies many unfounded
Have given power to a few
At the destruction of many others
And their families pay

You feel your justification
In giving everything to them
But look the other way
To the atrocities this causes

All so you can make a name for yourself
You care not if all are equal
Only your needs fulfilled
Is the agenda of your deeds

Satharian's Poems( ED HOMER)